Report of Aldermen on Traffic Condemns "Fixing" And Asks Enforcement

Committee Blames Pedestrians For Accidents—Recommends More Motorcycle Officers

The special committee on traffic safety recently appointed by the Board of Aldermen submitted a progressive report at the meeting of the Board on Monday night. The report required over eight multigraphed pages. Alderman Hill, chairman of the committee, stated that the reports of the Newton police department had been examined to ascertain facts, and that information had been obtained from Milwaukee and St. Louis, two cities with excellent records for highway safety. He said the report might indicate that too much blame is put on pedestrians who were victims of automobiles, but the reason for this is that the public needs to be educated. He said traffic regulations should be enforced.

Referring to the large number of pedestrian accidents in Newton, the report stated that "in a majority of these cases the chief cause of the accidents is inattention on the part of the pedestrian. Particularly is this true where children are concerned. These are generally cases of children running from the sidewalk without looking to see if there are any cars coming. It is significant that by far the largest number of accidents to children take place in the Nonantum area, and quite a few in the Thompsonville section."

The report states that "while there is too much fast driving on our streets, it is by no means proved that this is the chief cause of our pedestrian accidents. Crossing streets diagonally, failure to use pedestrian cross-walks, inattention and confusion are in many cases the chief reasons. Weather conditions or night driving do not seem to have any particular bearing, as accidents occur as often in the daytime as they do at night."

The report states that the streets where most accidents have occurred are Washington, California, Waltham, Boylston (the turnpike), Beacon, Lexington, Centre and Commonwealth ave. Danger points are listed as intersections at Washington st., particularly between Newton and Newtonville; Boylston st. and Woodcliff rd.; Centre and Walnut, Crafts and Watertown sts. It comments that to lower the high rate of accidents "all minor, as well as major traffic regulations should be strictly enforced. If police officers overlook violations, or fail to report drivers who directly or indirectly attempt to fix cases, a growing disregard for traffic regulations is likely to increase, rather than to decrease our problem."

The report comments—"It is felt that too many drivers who have violated traffic regulations have attempted to have their cases whitewashed with some degree of success. The fact that cases can be 'fixed' is demoralizing to any police force, when individual officers who are conscientious in the proper performance of their duty, have their work nullified."

Arrest Alleged Hit-Run Driver At Newtonville

Bernard F. Currie of 45 Ashford street, Allston, was taken into custody at Newtonville square on Saturday night by Serg. Sullivan of the Newton police after two West Roxbury men had pursued him for about 10 miles. The pursuers, John Holderried of Vermont street, West Roxbury, and Douglas Genson of Chesbro street, West Roxbury, stated that Currie was the driver of an automobile which hit Arthur Lehmann, Jr., 7, of 49 Cushing street, West Roxbury, on Baker street in that district about 7 o'clock Saturday night. The boy received a fracture of the skull, a fractured leg and other injuries which caused his death at the Faulkner Hospital on Sunday morning.

According to Holderried and Genson, the car which hit the boy speeded away and they started in pursuit. For about 10 miles the chase continued and at Newtonville Square the pursuers crowded the car driven by Currie to the curb and called Newton police who were in a cruising car. Currie was taken to police headquarters at West Newton and held until Serg. Freeman of Station 17, West Roxbury, arrived and took him to that station for questioning. Currie denied that his car had hit the boy. One of the front mudguards on the car was badly dented.

$50 Fine For Reckless Driving

Charles E. Mays of 6 Sutherland rd., Brighton, was fined $50 in the Newton court last Thursday by Judge Allen for driving a car so as to endanger the safety of the public. Mays was the driver of a car which on November 24th entered Centre st. from Church st. and collided with a car going south on Centre st. The latter car, driven by Ellis Sjulander of Belmont, skidded on an icy surface, swerved onto the sidewalk, and crushed Professor Harry Powers of Church st. against a fence. Mr. Powers, 77 years of age, died at the Newton Hospital later of the injuries he received.

Missing Newton Man Found

George F. O'Brien of 10 Bowers st., Newtonville, who disappeared on November 11th, was found last Saturday in Providence, R. I. He was observed by Providence police apparently a victim of amnesia. He gave the name of a friend in Newton, James P. Gallagher, clerk of court, and the latter, together with Mr. O'Brien's brother, went to Providence and met him. Mr. O'Brien stated he had been travelling in the South since he left Newton, having gone as far as Mexico and California. He said he had been looking for his son, James, who went away from home on September 5th of last year. Shortly before he disappeared, Mr. O'Brien was in an automobile accident and received a head injury.

Fined $50 For Drunken Driving

William Whitehead of Mountfort st., Boston, was fined $50 by Judge Allen in the Newton court last Thursday for driving a car while under the influence of liquor. He was arrested at 2 a. m. that morning at Oak Hill by Patrolman Mullen.

In court the same day Clinton Carlson of 141 Webster st., West Newton, was fined $25 for speeding. It was his second conviction within a year. Warren Shephardson of 56 Bellevue st., Newton, was charged with driving to endanger. His case was continued to February 4. He was involved in a collision at Washington and Parsons sts. on December 23.

Our Lady's Alumni Snow Train Feb. 5

The alumni association of Our Lady's School of Newton will conduct a snow train trip to Plymouth, New Hampshire, on Saturday and Sunday, February 6 and 7, provided there is snow at that time in Plymouth. Mary D. McDonald of Churchill st. and Raymond Sullivan of Washburn st. are co-chairmen in charge of the affair. It is planned to leave the North Station, Boston at 4:30 Saturday. A program of winter sports, including skiing, tobogganing and skating, has been arranged. A dance will be held on Saturday night and sleigh rides will be taken on Sunday.

Aldermen Oppose Use of California Street as Parkway

A regular meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night approved of a progressive report from the special committee appointed to study traffic conditions in Newton, and went on record as opposing the use of California st. as a Metropolitan parkway and received notice from the special committee which had considered the matter of removing snow from Newton sidewalks.

Alderman Rawson presented a motion protesting against the use of California st. at Nonantum as part of the route of a proposed Metropolitan Parkway which will run along the Charles River from the Watertown line to the Waltham line. The motion placed the Board on record as opposing the State highway being routed over California st., and asked Mayor Childs to use his influence against this plan. It was referred to the Committee on Legislation. Alderman Cronin asked if any Newton aldermen had attended the hearing at the State House relative to this matter? Alderman Rawson said none had. He explained that the hearing was advertised as concerning the Watertown-Waltham by-pass, and persons did not know that Newton was affected. Cronin suggested that the hearing be held again to allow Newton people to appear and protest.

Alderman Hutchinson informed the Board that the special committee studying the matter of the removal of snow from sidewalks after storms, had submitted a report to the Claims & Rules Committee. This report awaits the return of City Solicitor Bartlett from Florida for clarification, and will be presented to the Board at the next meeting. President Floyd commented that the longer this report has been deferred, the longer this winter has been free from snow. He suggested that the report be delayed until next April.

President Floyd opened the meeting at 8 o'clock. The only absentee was Alderman McKay, who is on a trip to South America. Roy Collins, former president of the Board of Aldermen, was present at the meeting and was invited by President Floyd to a seat on the rostrum. The first business before the meeting was the announcement of hearings on petitions of the Edison Company for permits to lay an underground conduit on Littlefield rd., and erect poles on Manet rd. and Columbus st. No opposition was

Hundreds Attend Hearing At City Hall on Proposed Zone Change Near Church

Parishioners of Our Lady's Church Oppose Petition of West Newton Co-Operative Bank

About 350 parishioners of the Church of Our Lady, Newton, crowded into the aldermanic chamber at City Hall on Wednesday night to protest against a petition filed by the West Newton Co-operative Bank asking for a zoning change on Washington and Crafts sts. A public hearing on the petition was held before the Claims and Rules Committee of the Board of Aldermen, and the Planning Board. Alderman Rawson, chairman of the committee, was in charge of the hearing. The petition asks that parcels of property at 619-629 and 649 Washington st. and at 9, 17, 18, 20, 24 and 26 Crafts st. be changed from general residence to business zone.

William B. Baker, a former alderman, and now Representative in the Legislature, spoke in favor of the petition. He said he appeared as a director of the West Newton Co-operative Bank which now owns the property at 619 Washington st. known as the O'Donnell property. He stated that he appeared voluntarily and was receiving no compensation. He told how the former owner of the property had asked him 8 years ago, when he was an Alderman, to favor a similar petition, and how he had advised that the then petition be withdrawn because of opposition from the nearby church. Baker argued that all of the properties specified in the present petition, entered by the bank, are incorrectly zoned, and that the bank had made the petition on his advice. He said he is quite familiar with zoning in Newton as all petitions for zone changes during the five years following the adoption of the zoning ordinance in Newton had come before the aldermanic committee of which he was chairman. He said that the greater part of Washington st. in this city should be zoned for business, and that zoning should not be determined by a count of noses. He said that Washington st. carries the heaviest traffic in Newton; that this city has had a great building boom. That during the 10 years following zoning in Newton $63,000,000 of new buildings, nearly all residences, were erected here, but not one house was built on Washington st. He stated that the only offer the bank has received for the O'Donnell property was one of $3000, although it is assessed for $7000.

Mr. Baker argued that the purpose of zoning is to guide growth and that Washington st. should be opened to business. He said business should not be put in a straight-jacket just to satisfy the church members, and that the church is now out of place because of the development of business needs along Washington st.

Alderman Cronin questioned Mr. Baker at length. The latter, in reply to questions said the bank took possession of the property last Fall. He stated he had not formed an opinion as to whether or not Boylston st. should be changed to business. He commented that it is not good zoning to be affected by objections of abutments.

David Greer, as attorney for Mrs. Martin McDonough, owner of abutting property, said that zoning must be guided by the welfare of the city as a whole and not to benefit an individual or a group. He said that to put the property specified in a business zone would increase traffic hazards, already bad on Washington st. He asserted that the corner of Crafts and Washington sts. is about as dangerous as any in the city. He refuted Baker's assertion that no houses have been built on Washington st. Several have been erected adjoining the church property. Mr. Greer said that banks have had plenty of outmoded houses on their hands in this city. These houses had to be razed and replaced with modern houses. He stated that within the past year the Aldermen changed nearby property from industrial to residence zone, that there are many vacant stores in Newton, and that the purpose of zoning is aesthetic and for safety.

Bartholomew Hayes of 629 Washington st. protested against the petition. He criticized Baker for including his and other properties without knowing the wishes of the owners. He said there are nice residences both West and East of the church property on Washington st. He commented that the church school has saved the city $30,000 yearly in education of children. Ex-Alderman Gallagher chided Mr. Baker for completely changing his attitude on zoning since he was a member of the Aldermen. He said the petition is just another gas station plot. Ex-Alderman Grebenstein said that during the 12 years he was an Alderman, zoning

THE PROMOTION OF SAFETY

For some years we have consistently advocated the promotion of safety on the streets of Newton. We have urged the appointment of specially trained men on a part time basis during the hours when school children are exposed to many hazards. There has been repeated reference to the appointment of additional motorcycle officers as a means of more efficient control and apprehension of speeding motorists. The special committee of the Board of Aldermen has made a preliminary report with several recommendations of merit. Many other suggestions are in the minds of Newton citizens. All are means to a worthy end, yet, whether or not all are practical or efficient, is a matter of debate and trial. With three fatalities in the first month of the year it is imperative, as we stated a few weeks ago, that there be no further delay in the prevention of further tragedy to our citizens.

A most necessary step in the promotion of safety is through education. There need be no delay in a start toward making reckless motorists and careless pedestrians conscious of their part in promoting the safety of others. The first of a series of special inserts to deal with safety appears in this issue. Prepared by the Commercial & Industrial Institute, it points out the way in which a local Safety Council may be formed. In other cities similar councils have made real progress. They have the co-operation of the Massachusetts Safety Council in co-ordinating various agencies working toward the same end. We pledge our co-operation to the co-ordination of all efforts towards the promotion of safety in Newton.

PROMPT AND PROPER ACTION

The Newton Board of Aldermen have taken prompt and proper action in a situation which might well have developed into a serious problem. We refer to the resolution adopted by the Board on Monday evening placing them on record against the use of California street as a part of the proposed extension of the parkway along the Charles River. The resolution also requests the Mayor take such action as may be necessary to have the proposed extension on land owned by the Commonwealth along the river between the Newton line and Bridge street. There is every reason to believe that the Metropolitan District Commission will co-operate with Newton officials in this situation as they have in the past.

Mother And Baby From Flood Area Arrive Here

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. John S. White Jr., will be pleased to know of the safe arrival of Mrs. White and baby Joan at the home of Mrs. White's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George C. Hutchinson in Newton Centre. They came by plane from Louisville, Kentucky, in the heart of the flooded area. Mr. White is an officer in the Army Reserve Corps and remained in Louisville to continue in rescue and relief work. He is the son of Mrs. John S. White and the late Mr. White of Waban.

Although their home is in the Highland section of Louisville and unflooded, the lack of drinking water, milk, sufficient heat and light coupled with general unsanitary conditions made it advisable for Mrs. White and the baby to leave the city. Since their arrival in Newton, the baby has completely recovered from the influenza from which they all suffered at the height of the flood.

100 Year Old Society Disbands

There was recently held in Newton Upper Falls the 101st Annual Meeting of The Ladies' Benevolent Society, which was organized on January 1, 1836. Probably few citizens of Newton have heard of this organization and yet for more than one hundred years it has been continuously engaged in "relieving the sick and destitute" of the city. In its early days, Mrs. Otis Pettee was one of its presidents and many of the society's meetings were held in the Pettee homestead, which is now The Stone Institute and Newton Home for Aged People.

In addition to its work locally, it is recorded that the ladies did much knitting and sewing for soldiers at the time of the Civil War and later for the "Free Colored People." During the World War the society was engaged in work for the Red Cross. After more than a century of public service and usefulness the society now feels that it should cease active work and at the last annual meeting decided to settle its financial affairs and offer the proceeds of the treasury to The Stone Institute and Newton Home for Aged People. The gift will be received by the Home with deep gratitude and the Ladies' Benevolent Society's name perpetuated in the designation of the fund.

Newton Bankers Elect

Officers at Meeting

The annual meeting of the Newton Bankers' Association was held on Wednesday, January 27th, at the Free Burn Club. Charles H. Clark, treasurer of the Newton Savings Bank, was elected president succeeding Clarence S. Luitwieler of the Newton South Co-operative Bank who presided. Secretary Roland F. Gammons, president of the West Newton Savings Bank, was elected vice-president and James B. Melcher, cashier of the Newton National Bank, was elected secretary. Charles W. Mercer, treasurer of the Newton South Co-operative Bank, was elected treasurer. The association is comprised of all the officers and directors of commercial and co-operative banks and all the officers, trustees and corporators of savings banks in the city. During the year the number of member banks has been reduced to nine through the consolidation of the Nonantum Co-operative Bank with the Newton Co-operative Bank in January a year ago. Hon. Henry E. Bothfield has succeeded Judge William F. Bacon as president of the Newton Savings Bank. Gross assets of all the banks as of December 31st at $65,157,459.39 show an increase for the year 1936 of $7,059,281.96.

The guest speaker of the evening was Mr. Rutherford E. Smith, president of the Dorchester Savings Bank, and of the Massachusetts Mutual Savings Bank Association who spoke on the present situation concerning the savings and co-operative banks as affected by recent legislation. Mr. Smith, a resident of Newton, gave a most interesting talk. Mr. Nicholas E. Peterson gave a brief outline of the present general situation and the outlook for the future.

Letters To The Editor

THE PARKWAY EXTENSION

To the Editor:

Your editorials of last week in regard to the location for the extension of the Parkway from Galen st., Watertown, through Newton to Waltham are well in order.

From the report of the Division of Metropolitan Planning, House No. 39, January, 1937, the following may be of interest:

"The Division has also for several years recommended the construction of a highway through Waltham to by pass the heavy traffic which now goes through the most crowded section of that city. The proposed route would begin near Watertown Square on the southerly side of the river, and would be a continuation of the parkway on the southerly side which now terminates at Galen st., Watertown. The route would go westerly from Galen st. along the banks of the Charles River and connect with Weston rd. in the western part of Waltham. This would also give a direct connection to the new circumferential highway when it is completed. The heavy traffic which now comes into Waltham from the west would thus have a suitable by-pass to the main parkways along the Charles River."

To take California st., a business street, would be all out of reason as the report states that the idea is to follow the river. California st. is about 70 feet wide, is zoned for business on both sides and with the present manufacturing plants there is little room for such traffic as would be invited to come if the connection is to be made.

Now there is land all provided for this extension along the Charles River taken by the then Metropolitan Park Commission upon January 13, 1935, nearly four years ago.

I have known about this taking, for it was my duty to study this route, being then an assistant of Olmsted, Olmsted & Eliot, who were the advisers of the Metropolitan Park Commission.

One of the rules of good planning is to build another highway nearby to relieve the congestion of one, rather than to widen and pour all into an already overlanded area. Therefore, the taking or using California st. for this additional traffic is out of the question.

The query one is asked was the vision of about 40 years ago all wrong, or were they foresighted enough to take this river bank for just such an emergency as now exists.

The project should go forward but it must be placed in the logical location provided along the river bank.

HERBERT J. KELLAWAY.

FROM THE FLOOD REGION

Mr. Warren K. Brimblecom, Editor, Newton Graphic, Newton, Mass.

My Dear Warren:

It has been a good many years since we attended the Newton High School together, but I have kept in close contact with the many happenings in Newton through your newspaper. After reading your editorial in this week's GRAPHIC regarding the flood in the Ohio Valley, I couldn't help but write you to tell you that the conditions in those areas covered by the flood is far worse than can ever be expressed in print, and I know that the people of Newton will respond as usual to any relief they can give.

Though having been a Past State Commander of the American Legion, it fell to my lot to hastily organize relief in our section, and once again the Legion responded to action. Being located only 50 miles from Evansville, 40 miles from Tell City and 80 miles from Louisville, Kentucky and New Albany and Jeffersonville, Indiana, we were in the heart of the flood area and no time could be lost to get food, bedding and clothing to the victims, many of whom left their homes only after the water reached the second story of the house. Prior to the arrival of the Red Cross, the American Legion fed thousands of refugees, housed them and rescued many from their homes. Under one has seen this flood and actually been associated with those it drove from their homes. It is just not possible to imagine the damage already done. The water today is going down very slowly, and many towns that have been wiped out will never be rebuilt. Our great task now is not food and clothing, but rehabilitation, which will take time and great precaution must be taken to prevent disease. Later on I will have the films I have taken developed, and at that time will send you some photographs which will bear out all of my assertions.

Sincerely yours,

GEORGE A. LITCHFIELD.

Keene, 125 Lowell avenue, Newtonville, on Wednesday, February 10th, at 8:00 p. m. Regular business of the Association will be discussed and refreshments served. All women in the Newton and Waltham district who are interested in the work of the Massachusetts Osteopathic Hospital are cordially invited to attend the meeting.

62 YEARS AGO

Newton Republican, Feb. 13, 1875

The Legislative committee gave a hearing Wednesday morning on the petition for the annexation of Morse's Field district from Watertown to Newton. C. G. Fall spoke for the petitioners. The Town of Watertown was represented by J. B. Goodrich. The committee visited the territory.

At the West Newton Athenaeum on Wednesday evening Nathaniel Allen gave an essay on the importance of growing trees. He stated that the principal reason we are now suffering from so severe a drought is—that so many of the forests of New England have been cut down.

A fellow who undertook to bite a policeman at Newton Corner the other night got treated roughly.

The new reservoir for the fire department at Nonantum Square, Newton Corner, has reached a depth of 30 feet. There is no water in it for the clay admits water slowly. The water is noticed as seeping through for a distance of 12 feet from the bottom, but the zero weather has frozen it on the edges. Chief Engineer Whipple is confident that the reservoir will contain 12 or 14 feet of water.

50 YEARS AGO

Newton Graphic, Feb. 5, 1887

George H. Morgan, the Newton correspondent for the Boston Herald, was on Saturday appointed postmaster of Newton by President Cleveland. The office has a salary of $2100, an allowance of $500 for clerk hire, $300 for rent and $900 for lights and fuel. Three clerks are needed to do the work and the rent of the present office is $600 per year, so the postmaster will be fortunate if he realizes $1400 a year. The receipts are over $9000 a year, so the government makes a handsome profit out of it.

The Newton postoffice has an interesting history. It was established in 1820 through the efforts of Squire John Richardson, who made a journey to Washington for the purpose. In those days such a journey was a great undertaking and the whole populace turned out to see him depart, and again to welcome him home. Previous to that there had only been an office at Newton Lower Falls and most Newton people got their mail at Watertown. There is a tradition that the office opened in a horse shed on the site of Bacon's Block, but as near as can be learned, it was opened in the shop of Charles Eames, watchmaker and jeweler. Mr. Eames, as postmaster, received a salary of $30 a year. After several years he became tired of sorting the few letters that arrived and turned the office over to his journeyman, William Newton. Some years later Mr. Newton's health failed and he turned the office over to Joseph N. Bacon, who had a store in Bacon's Block. It was a central location near the Tavern House, which stood on the present site of the National Bank (now the Newton Trust Company) and of which Joseph Bacon was the landlord.

In 1848 Mr. Bacon left the Whig Party to join the Free Soil Party. He was removed and Daniel Mann, who kept an apothecary store, was made postmaster. Horace Wetherell succeeded him, and another political change coming, he was in turn succeeded by Dexter Whipple. Whipple retained the office until the election of Lincoln, then Samuel Chisholm was appointed. He moved the office to the Eliot Building at Centre and Elmwood sts. When President Johnson was elected, Edwin Holman was made postmaster. In 1867 he moved the office to the boot and shoe store of J. G. Latta in Hyde's Block. In 1870 Mr. Latta was appointed and has held the position since.

W. J. Neff who is totally blind was crossing Centre st. at Richardson st. on Tuesday afternoon when he was knocked down by a team driven by Hiram Crawford of Wellesley. Mr. Neff was severely bruised about the head and legs and was taken to the Cottage Hospital. The driver of the team was intoxicated and was arrested. Mr. Neff is in a serious condition.

Mrs. Williams's drug store is the first store to have the electric light in Newtonville. The incandescent light was put in there on Wednesday. It is without doubt the best of all lights.

The highway committee of the Board of Aldermen gave a hearing Monday evening to the Newton Electric Railway Company. The location of the proposed railway was described. The company proposes to start a car every 20 minutes from Newton for Lower Falls along Washington st. A car will be started the same time at Lower Falls. They will pass each other at West Newton where a turn-out will be located. A connecting car will leave Newtonville every 20 minutes over Walnut and Beacon sts. to Newton Centre and return. This is all the company asks for now. They state they will run the cars by electricity, but they do not wish to be confined to any particular power, as the electrical apparatus may get out of order and horses would then have to be used. There will be a portable battery in each car in which the electricity will be stored, the same principle as is used in the line in New York City which has been running for some time.

Powers' Paragraphs

The current strike of employees of the General Motors Company has introduced a new and serious problem in this country. The outright seizure of some of the big plants of General Motors by the strikers would not have received such lenient treatment in past years. This is certainly a violation of property rights, according to the laws of this country. But, the unsettled condition of society in the U. S. A. since 1929, and the espousal of the cause of labor by President Roosevelt following his tremendous victory of last November, obviously influenced General Motors in the foreboding it has shown concerning the momentary confiscation of its properties. The attitude of the strikers is fraught with consequences of utmost seriousness to this country. If the strikers persist in occupying the big factories until their demands are granted, and if Federal and State authorities permit them to do so, then we are on the eve of a new economic and social order (or disorder) in these United States.

Much criticism has been directed at the Secretary of Labor because of her attitude in this big battle between capital and labor, and because of the manner in which she has officiated since assuming the important office she holds. It may be that "Miss Perkins" is doing and has done as well as any man or woman could have done during the difficult years through which she has had to serve. Personally, we believe the office of Secretary of Labor is a man's job. That it should be filled by some man of ability who actually had years of experience as a member of the working class, and not by some person whose knowledge of labor problems is mostly academic; a person who was not of the proletariat or working class. It may be plain to see on our part, but we have been somewhat prejudiced against "Miss Perkins." We believe that any woman who is married, the mother of a daughter, and yet persists in not only using her maiden name, but in referring to herself as "Miss," is very self-opinionated, and apt to be quite arbitrary. However, "Miss Perkins" cannot be blamed for the strike or its development. She is only one. President Roosevelt and Governor Murphy also have responsibilities.

The report of the special committee of the Newton Board of Aldermen appointed to make a study of traffic safety should be of great interest to Newton people. With some of the observations of the committee we agree. The committee's report recommends some things we have been recommending for the past fourteen years. We have been continually criticizing the "fixing" of cases for autoists who violate automobile laws and traffic ordinances. We have been asserting that the principal reason for so many automobile accidents is "speeding." We have for years advocated the restoration of the motorcycle squad of eight men, and a continual patrol of Washington st. The committee's report condemns "fixing" and speeding, and recommends an increase of at least two men to the motorcycle squad. It also recommends a regular and continual patrol of Washington at.

We disagree partly with the statement of the committee that in a majority of pedestrian accidents, the chief cause is inattention on the part of the pedestrian, particularly where children are involved. It probably is true that most accidents where children are concerned are caused by the victims darting off sidewalks without looking to see if an automobile is approaching, or running across a street in the path of an oncoming car. But, most of the fatal automobile accidents in Newton last year, when pedestrians were killed, did not have children as victims. In the majority of cases these killed were aged persons. They were not killed because of inattention on their part. And despite the statement of the committee's report, more of such victims were killed after darkness had set in than during daylight hours. We believe that the majority of Newton citizens will agree with the committee as regards "fixing," even though one Alderman expressed a dislike for the attack on "fixing."

Section 191 of the ordinances of the City of Newton says—"No person shall place or cause to be placed upon any sidewalk, any lumber, iron, coal, trunk, bale, box, crate, cask, package, article or thing whatsoever, so as to obstruct free passage for travellers."

Despite the fact that complaints have been made from time to time about drivers of milk wagons and trucks using sidewalks as storage places for cases of empty milk bottles, this practice has been growing more and more common. Perhaps after the city has had to pay some damage suits for injuries to persons who have stumbled over these obstructions, the police may stop this violation of the ordinances.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

By L. D. G. BENTLEY

Compulsory Ignorance

There may be plenty of use for them in the next eight or ten weeks but this far little has been demanded of my wooden snow shovel, concave iron scoop, ice-chopper, woolen gloves and overflowing sand-box. Idly they have rested—at least when this was written—waiting to be seized and put into action. With the weather against me I have been deprived of opportunities to gather that fine healthy glow that men are always proud to possess. However, that is not the thing most greatly missed by me and which I feel I should have acquired had there been more snow and ice and actual winter weather. Had snow drifts fallen I feel that there might have been a Sunday or a holiday that I could have taken off and joined the merry-makers on a snow train there to learn whether I should say, "It's grand fun to ski" or "It's grand fun to shiee."

Doubtful Compliment

On the word of a super-sleuth, a recognized criminologist, detectives have far more trouble in trailing a woman than a man. Will the ladies receive this with indignation or satisfaction? Will they resent the thought they are likely to be shadowed? Still, this famous detective asserts, "A 'shadow' can never anticipate what women will do. They are intuitive and 'dread' to the shadow—much quicker than men, unless you 'cover' them with smart women, which is frequently necessary because once they enter a department store they go everywhere, from the basement to the roof—ride the elevators and the escalators. Women seldom suspect a woman, but soon wonder why the same man follows them, believing him to be a 'masher.' Women are much more difficult to shadow than men. They appear to be looking for it—are more alert and observing."

Even Less Complimentary

If the ladies would like to learn—and I feel they would—what this same great student of human nature says of men, they will have a chuckle. The methodical man is apparently easily shadowed. Not only does he get up, bathe, shave and get dressed at about the same hour every week-day but breakfasts at the same hour, walks from his home on the same side of the street, crosses regularly at a certain point to take train or trolley and knows himself just about the same amount of time.

Listen to how closely the detectives observe the average man, "If he takes a subway or train, the detective quickly classified him as a first-car, last-car, but soon wonder why the same man follows them, believing him to be a 'masher.' Women are much more difficult to shadow than men. They appear to be looking for it—are more alert and observing."

Several of my friends who go in quite a bit for the gayer side of social life assure me that it is not now their custom to visit night clubs with the regularity and diligence of bygone days. They tell me that entertaining at one another's home is more indicative of genuine hospitality and somewhat less expensive. Hence the "come up to our house next time" system.

If this is true I feel convinced that the budget plan urged upon us from various quarters more and more each year, has at least one recognized and important part of night life. Surely one may arrange a "blow-out" at one's own home at less cost than at a high priced eating-place. If you are going in for grand, imposing and elegant service the head waiter and waiters and the rest of the "props" and background of a restaurant. But if it is merely gaiety and laughter the same may be produced at home.

Budgeting one's hospitality—for that's what it amounts to—should appeal to the thrifty. The principal thing is, of course, to have a good time. Now may hospites really have a good time and still have one's mind on the cost? Is not indifference to expense a prerequisite of a gay evening? I used to think so, but since people are thinking about reducing costs of good times I shall have to give the matter further study.

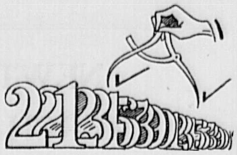

Welcome, Letter Carrier

It was one of those days when the batch of mail addressed to me consisted almost entirely of opportunities to invest. At that I was flattered and chuckled to think how little writers knew of my financial resources. Most of the letters had a serious, if not doleful note. They warned me against a penniless old age and told me how to insure against it. Others told me how I could improve myself by careful selection of standard books, how to save money in buying shirts, how to guard my health with a box of tablets, where to go for upholstery, food and fuel oil. One, however, had a more vivid and carefree tone. I enjoyed it, too. It advised me to send valentines and told me of grand selection at low prices. That was the one letter I kept. Just like me. I'm one of those who can think of nothing but having a good time.

It Happened in Newton

A Newton man whose name, if I should be permitted to repeat it, you would recognize (and you might say, "I know him very well") was telling a group of sympathizers the difficulty his wife was having in obtaining a satisfactory household domestic. It seems the most recently employed had a weakness for ordering large quantities of food much of which she herself consumed. The need of economy had never entered her head circumstances revealed.

When the man went into a detailed explanation of the young woman's extravagance he was amusing. One of the listeners observed, "She must have thought you very rich." "Yes," came the reply, "she got us mixed up with the Vanderbilts."

The Age of Accumulation

COSMOPOLITAN magazine advertises that 25 to 35 is the "Age of Accumulation." Its research shows buying is more concentrated in this ten-year period.

From our daily experience, we know these young people accumulate money, too—for they realize that systematic saving makes possible the things they could not otherwise enjoy.

Are you in the "age of accumulation"? Does your bankbook show it?

TRUCK OPERATORS' CONTEST

The Massachusetts Safety Council has just announced the winners for 1936 in the Massachusetts Commercial Vehicle Accident Reduction Contest, in a bulletin dated January 21st and prepared by Lewis E. MacBryne for the Committee.

They represent ten cities and towns, from the Berkshires to Cape Cod, and the contest itself was a cross-section of the movement for safer driving that covered every county in Massachusetts, and that reduced motor vehicle accidents with personal injury by 2959 for the fiscal, though the death rate increased.

There were 10,011 vehicles, with nearly 12,000 drivers, entered in the contest and they were upon the highways for a total of 29,303,002 hours, an increase of three million over the previous year. They had 6556 accidents, or 22 for each 100,000 hours of exposure, and this total, due to the very bad experience of last February—was much higher than in 1935.

Accidents with personal injury numbered 774, or 9.4 percent of the total. Pedestrians who were struck by these drivers totaled 153, and in December only 11 occurred, as compared with 28 pedestrian accidents in November. There were only eight fatal accidents during the year.

Thirty-four fleets, most of them small in size, ended the year without an accident. There were larger fleets, however, that did even better driving, though the score was not perfect. My Bread Baking Co., for example, winner a year ago, had only one accident charged against its 40 drivers in 1936. The Eastern Contracting Company of Quincy, which dropped out of the contest because of a business reorganization, had operated 33 vehicles for 10 months without an accident.

A casual reading of figures in the important bus group would indicate that its accident rate is high. In fairness to the drivers, it should be said that few of these accidents are serious, and that the companies are scrupulous in reporting them. The Rawding Lines, Inc., for example, had no personal injuries during the year, with an average of 27 buses in operation. The New England Transportation Co., operating 132 vehicles, had three months without a personal injury recorded.

"The contest is of real value if, at the beginning of a new year, both men and equipment are checked when the figures in this report show something to be out of line with the average record of the group."

This State has a citizen who is Safety Driver Number One. He is George J. Martin of West Newton, a man who in spite of his seventy-five years could cut off a score of these years and none would be the wiser.

His ordinary motor car speed is 35 miles per hour by day, and 25 miles by night, and he has driven his cars 362,000 miles without an accident.

His record is one to envy, and The Commercial Investment Trust in recognition of his superb achievement have presented him with a diamond emblem.

George J. Martin

The citizens of Newton will have an opportunity of hearing from Mr. Martin in the very near future, because this problem of Safety is very close to his heart.

He operated over a long period of years a factory at West Newton and is still a very active man, being identified with his own business, banking interests, and civic problems.

City Departments to Support This Movement

As the Safety Campaign gets under way, each City department will have its full opportunity to share in this huge endeavor to make every citizen so safety-conscious that the record of Newton for the balance of this year shall be envied by every other city in the country of equal size—and no city of this size in the United States has a bigger or more involved traffic problem.

Mayor Childs Ready to Help

Mayor Childs has indicated his interests in the promotion of safety in Newton and stands ready to co-operate in the proposed campaign.

R. C. Taylor Trust Donates Use of Building

Through the R. C. Taylor Trust a large store in the Stevens Building has been made available at Newton Corner for the purpose of making a complete display of all facts and features which will assist in making Newton citizens safety-conscious. This store will be fitted up by various State departments and national organizations which are making a desperate effort to co-ordinate safety features in order that the appalling death rate may be lowered.

Complaints, Suggestions, and Constructive Criticism welcome—Address to Commercial & Industrial Institute, Newton Corner, Mass.

LEADS IN DRIVE

Chief of Police Michael T. Hughes has proclaimed time and again the need for additional manpower in the Police Department, and his latest request and recommendation would permit him to organize a Traffic Division, which every city and town finds extremely helpful as a factor in handling traffic problems.

We know that when constituted authority receives the support of the citizens and city government, the educational facilities of the city will fall in line and cooperate to the fullest extent.

Periodically there are certain movements which fail to recognize that the law enforcement branch of our city government is by far one of the most important in any orderly municipality, and the City of Newton can well be proud of the type of manpower and the conscientiousness of every officer in its police.

We say again that Chief Hughes is doing a splendid work under most trying conditions.

Newton Graphic Only Publication Authorized by The C. & I. I.

The Commercial and Industrial Institute has appointed THE NEWTON GRAPHIC as the only Newton newspaper to carry an insert promoting a Newton Traffic Safety Campaign, and this is the only Official and Authorized publication to carry on this necessary and important work.

Advertisers are hereby notified that co-operation with this publication will speed the formation of a Newton Safety Council and that when such a body shall be officially organized, all material and data shall be made available to such organization.

Other publications shall give due credit to the NEWTON GRAPHIC and the Newton Traffic Safety Campaign insert for clippings.

Police Benefit Ass'n Serves Worthy Purpose

The Newton Police Benefit Association is an organization, as indicated by its title, which is serving a very worthy purpose and fills a very definite need in many cases where city ordinances fail to make provision for men who give their very lives at times in performance of their public duty. To this group we shall lend every reasonable assistance.

C. & I. I. Starts Campaign

There has been national agitation on this much-mooted question of safety in traffic which covers an extremely wide field, embracing fact-finding, education, enforcement, and engineering. All of these must be handled by committees for action, which in turn will be controlled by a steering committee composed of a Citizens' Traffic Safety Committee.

The complete recommendations for this work have been laid down by the Massachusetts Safety Council, and because various groups of citizens have become aroused by conditions in their immediate locality and find that there is no central organization, it is the belief of certain citizens who are definitely civic-minded, with a deep interest in the entire city, that the interests of the safety movement can be best served by affiliation with the Massachusetts Safety Council.

There have been innumerable surveys and studies and recommendations made, and for one reason or another they have all been tabled, with no action of a definite forward character being taken. Of the civic groups at the present time, those which are doing the most effective promotional work are cooperating with the Massachusetts Safety Council. If and when a Newton Safety Council will have been organized under the proper auspices, it is the intention of The Commercial and Industrial Institute to turn over to them all facts and all media which may help a Greater Newton Safety Council.

ACCIDENT SPOT MAP

The Commercial and Industrial Institute has prepared a large accident spot map which has been presented to the Newton Police Department, so that a very accurate record may be kept of the accident situation in all the Newtons. In every city where Traffic Bureaus exist, such a map is extremely helpful in pointing out to interested citizens the particularly dangerous locations where accidents are frequent. All citizens are invited at their convenience to examine it at Police Headquarters.

Traffic Report Of Aldermen

fied by "fixing." A gradual laxness in performance is the inevitable result. It is therefore recommended that a non-fixing tag be adopted. This can be a so-called "three-way tag," one section of which is given to the violator, one filed at police headquarters, and a third section sent immediately to the City Solicitor. At the end of each 30 days the tags are checked by the City Solicitor to ascertain that all tags issued have been acted upon, and it would be recorded what disposition had been made in each case. Every officer would then have to account for all cards not reported. This would allow no fixing and would relieve the police department and individual officers of what now must be at times an embarrassing situation. It would also result in all of our citizens receiving the same treatment, and would allow no special privilege to anyone.

The report says—"To further properly enforce our traffic laws, the full co-operation of the Courts is required. Acts of leniency by the Courts, unless for some unusual reason, do not encourage respect for or proper observance of laws made for the safeguard of the public. The results of studies made by certain larger cities which have been successful in reducing traffic accidents, show that 90 per cent of convictions are necessary. Most violators of traffic rules are aware at the time that they are breaking the laws, and if they are willing to take the chances of getting away with it, they should also be willing to take the consequences, if caught."

"There are, however, some of our traffic rules made for the general safety and convenience of the public, the violation of which is not as serious a matter. Failure to observe these should not be overlooked, but in case of violation, warning cards should be given."

"As a result of the accidents which occurred in 1936 it is recommended that at least two more motorcycle officers be added to the police force, and that all motorcycles be equipped for cold weather driving by having installed on them proper windshields and leg guards. Motorcycle officers should continually patrol the streets of the city, special attention being given to streets conducive to speeding, and on which more accidents occur. Pedestrian crossings should be painted with broad white lines, and kept continually bright. More such crossings should be put in at needed points. Due to the unusually large number of accidents that take place at the intersection of Walnut and Centre sts., it is recommended that traffic signals be installed at this point."

The report recommends that something be done to lessen accidents at the turnpike and Woodcliff rd., that a stop signal be installed at Lowell ave. and Crafts st., and that there be a regular and continual patrol of Washington st. Mention is made that accidents to school children do not usually occur while the children are going to or coming from school, with the possible exception of bicyclists. The practices of riding bicycles with hands off the handle bars, or with more than one child on the bicycle are condemned. It is suggested that water bills, tax bills and other city stationery have printed on them reminders of traffic safety, and that the city pay for small printed enclosures to be mailed out with bank statements, church, club and society notices. The report was signed by the three members of the committee, Aldermen Hill, Goddard and Hutchinson. The Board of Aldermen were asked to accept it as progressive. Alderman Hill said that the committee will give more study to the problem and will make additional reports.

Alderman Cronin criticized the attack in the committee's report on the fixing of cases. He said there is no one in the Board or otherwise who wants to go to court. Cronin said that the Aldermen don't know what they are aiming at, that the committee seems to show weakness in advocating warning cards, that the City Solicitor should not be made a police officer, and that it would not be fair to have "three-way tag" in Newton. He hoped the committee would give more consideration on the matter of "fixing" cases, that it would not make such changes unless it had evidence to support them, and that all will be treated alike.

Alderman Rawson said he has observed many persons walking on streets when there are perfectly good paved sidewalks adjoining, and that many motorists ignore "Stop" signs on through streets. Alderman Goddard answering Alderman Cronin's remarks on the "fixing" of cases said the aim of the committee is to have the law enforced. He said the Aldermen must have the backing of public opinion and it is up to the police to enforce the laws. Goddard asserted that the reason for so many accidents is that traffic ordinances are not enforced.

The Board accepted the report of the Committee as progressive.

Catanzaro stated he swung his car to the right when he saw the woman, but could not avoid hitting her. There have been several fatal accidents at this spot and a traffic signal has been often requested there.

Fire Escapes at High Schools

Mayor Childs is to recommend to the Board of Aldermen an appropriation of $11,000 for the construction of fire escapes on the Classical High School and Technical High School buildings at Newtonville. Kiwanis Club

At the regular meeting of the Newton Kiwanis Club held February 2 at 12:15 at the Charles River Country Club, the guest speaker was Mr. Paul O. Nafe, Feature Editor of the Christian Science Monitor.

The idea of Mr. Nafe's talk was to illustrate how ingenuity can avoid depression. In a most interesting series of illustrations, Mr. Nafe pointed out how individuals in industry have developed new products or new methods of presentation with the result that depression was avoided.

One illustration used by Mr. Nafe was the Studebaker Corporation, originally a manufacturer of wagons. There gradually came a terrific depression in the wagon industry but Studebaker, forecasting the trend of the times, shifted to the manufacture of automobiles. Today, the company is little known as a manufacturer of wagons.

One other case Mr. Nafe knew of was that of a southern family that has always planted cotton. In recent years, the price of raw cotton was such that it could not even pay the people to harvest that which was on the vines. One young man forsook the traditional cotton crop and planted sweet potatoes. Although this was heresy in his territory, he has consistently made big money while those who stuck to cotton have known the meaning of depression.

The Club was also fortunate in having as a guest on Tuesday Mr. Oscar Hunting, well known bass singer and a member of the Boston Kiwanis Club, whose kindness in rendering two numbers greatly improved the meeting.

President Bill White of the Newton Club announced that on February 18 this Club will meet as guests of the Wellesley Kiwanis Club at Wellesley Inn.

She is survived by her husband; two brothers, Harry Morse of Daggett, California and Samuel Morse of Del Monte, California; and two sisters, Mrs. Thomas H. Christian of Governor's Island, New York, and Mrs. Arthur Notman of Los Angeles. She was a member of the Professional Women's Club and the D. A. R. Mrs. Richardson's funeral was held on February 1; Rev. Ray Lang of St. John's Church officiated. Burial was in Shawsheen Cemetery, Bedford.

ZONTA CLUB

The Newton Zonta met at Miss Caroline Freeman's on Mt. Vernon street, West Newton, on Monday, Feb. 1st, with nineteen members and guests present. A dinner was followed by a short business meeting after which the president, Miss Sturgis presented the Rev. Herbert Hitchen of West Newton as the guest speaker of the evening. Mr. Hitchen gave an intensely interesting biographical sketch of the late English poet, Rupert Brooke. Though granted only 28 years of life, his legacy to the world was a collection of poetical productions considered unexcelled by his contemporaries. His great love of English country life was always evident in his writings and strikingly so, when writing about it from distant lands. He wrote of the common things of life even to a poem on "Clam Chowder" and possessed the ability and willingness to hold himself up for his own inspection and make poetical comment, favorable or not as he saw himself. His death, while on an English transport to Egypt in 1915, deprived all poetry lovers of much that would have been sure to be of great inspiration.

Miss Doris Lovell of the program committee is taking a two weeks' vacation to the West Indies.

Several Zontians will attend the Guest meeting of the Boston Zonta to be held at the Chamber of Commerce, Boston, on Monday, Feb. 8th, at which time Prof. Rogers of Technology will be the guest speaker.

The next meeting will be held on Feb. 15th with Miss Freeman at which time a reception to new members will be a part of the evening's program. Miss Gladys Bigelow, Librarian of the High School, will be the speaker of the evening.

State Federation To Hold First Radio Conference

Plans are advancing for the first Radio Conference of the State Federation division of Radio, which will be held in the Ballroom Foyer of the Hotel Statler, Boston, on Monday, February 15th. Mrs. Edgar B. Richardson, chairman, with the assistance of Mrs. Benjamin F. Kraus, vice-chairman, and Mrs. Dwight R. Clement, program chairman, has prepared a replica of a studio program divided into 15-minute periods, beginning with a morning salute at exactly 10 o'clock, after which the District Radio directors will be introduced. There will be a weather report and a news broadcast. Contract bridge will be discussed; a Garden talk; a Home Forum, and the correct time, all will be given on the morning program.

Luncheon will be served in the Ballroom at noon and reservations should be made with Roberta Green, 11 Newbury street, Boston, by February 10th, by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope, or by telephoning Kenmore 9399, for a registration tag and luncheon ticket. During the luncheon period "The Little Show" will be put on over WBZ; John McNamara, Program chairman of WBZ, will speak; and H. V. Kaltenborn, America's foremost radio news analyst, in "We Look at the World," will go on at one o'clock. The afternoon program in the Foyer will include, besides the news and other interesting subjects, an Impersonation, a Beauty Talk and a Question Box, and the familiar State Federation signature will be heard at 4 o'clock.

Mrs. Edgar Tregoning is handling publicity; Mrs. Blanche Robinson is in charge of ushers; and Mrs. Benjamin F. Kraus is planning the luncheon. Mrs. Edgar B. Richardson, who has arranged the Saturday morning program for the State Federation on WBZ for the past two years, is serving as the first chairman of a separate Radio division.

Garden Talk on "A Garden From A Hayfield"

On Monday, February 15th, at 10:30 a. m., Mrs. Lucien Taylor, of Dover, will give an illustrated talk on "A Garden from a Hayfield," at the home of Mrs. Frank P. Lamson, 21 Watertown road, Newton. Mrs. Taylor is chairman of Horticulture in the Massachusetts Federation of Garden Clubs. Single tickets for this lecture may be had at 35 cents each.

This is the third in a series of four lectures sponsored jointly by the Newton Community Club and the Social Science Club through their Conservation and Garden committees.

Events In Newton Centre

All public-spirited citizens will be interested in the program scheduled for the evening of February 10th, when Mr. Julius Warren, superintendent of the School department of Newton, will speak on "School Administration." The Newton Federation of Women's Clubs and the Civic and Legislative committee of the Newton Centre Club join with the Education committee in sponsoring Mr. Warren's talk.

Those who attend will learn how and why the Newton School system ranks among the highest in the country. For the puzzled parents there will be a discussion period following the lecture. All Newton voters are cordially invited.

On Thursday morning, February 11th, at 10 o'clock, the Liberatorette will present the Rev. Herbert Hitchen, of West Newton, who will talk on "St. Joan d'Arc," by V. Sackville West.

Friday, January 29th, at the Club House of the Newton Centre Woman's Club, Mrs. Arthur B. Hitchcock, president of the Newton Centre Woman's Club, presided as hostess at the opening of both the morning and afternoon sessions. Besides the events and addresses scheduled to take place, the Hostess Club provided the following entertainment by Club members. A group of songs was given by Mrs. Thomas W. Cumner, accompanied by Mrs. Kirtley F. Mather. The American Home committee of the Club presented a competitive Exhibition of Luncheon Tables for two people, for color harmony and minimum cost, without flat silver. The blue ribbon was awarded to Mrs. Edwin A. Andrews, and the red ribbon to Mrs. Frederick C. Rising.

The Reception Room of the Club House was the scene of a most attractive and extensive display of hand-painted ancestral trays of all sizes, together with a fruit bowl, a candle-scissors, boxes of graduated sizes, and a milk-warmer. The entire collection had come from homes in Newton Centre where they have been cherished for over a hundred years, and the milk-warmer has been saved for at least one hundred and fifty years.

Dramatic Impersonations by Local Woman

Miss Mabel Emery, a Dramatist, will impersonate three outstanding American women, at the Newton Community Club meeting, on Thursday, February 11th, at 2 p. m., in the Underwood School Auditorium.

Miss Emery is a native of Hunnewell Hill, Newton. Her readings are considered sparkling, interesting, brilliant, and, at the same time, to express a depth of character that marks the true dramatist.

The afternoon's program will be enhanced by two groups of violin solos, played by Helen Sibley, Violinist, accompanied by Mary Stanton Witham. These artists have played in various concerts in Jordan and Symphony Halls, and before groups of musical people in Boston.

A social hour will follow the program. The Newton Community Club celebrated its President's Day on Thursday, January 28th. Guests of honor were Mrs. J. Earle Parker, president of the Newton Federation; Mrs. Benjamin D. Miller, Twelfth District director; Mrs. Herbert F. French, third vice-president of the State Federation; and members from the Brookline, Brighton, and Watertown Women's Clubs. A gracious welcome was extended to these guests by Mrs. Alfred H. Handley, the Club president; and each guest president was presented with a corsage bouquet, and to visiting club members were presented roses.

Mr. Leonard Craske gave a brief history of the island of "Haiti" before the showing of the slides taken in native colors, which portrayed vividly the island, its people, and the charm of its scenery. Paintings and Drawings displaying Newton talent were exhibited by the Art committee.

An informal reception concluded the afternoon's program. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Frank G. Denison, assisted by Mrs. D. Hamilton, Mrs. J. B. Melcher, Mrs. L. M. Spear, and Mrs. S. D. Wilson. The table-decorations depicting a "Haiti" scene were created by Mrs. Allan N. Kee.

Club Members Lend Bridal Gowns For Pageant

The Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club celebrated its 18th Birthday on Monday evening, February 1st, in the Club Rooms at the Emerson School, by observing "Presidents' Night." Among the guests of honor were Mrs. David H. Wescott of Dorchester, second vice-president of the State Federation; Mrs. Benjamin D. Miller of Waban, Twelfth District director; Mrs. J. Earle Parker, of Waban, president of the Newton Federation; and presidents and representatives of thirteen Newton Women's Clubs. To the Federation officers corsage-bouquets of sweet peas were presented, and to each of the other guests roses were given.

After the reading of reports, Greetings were extended to the honored guests by the president of the Club, Mrs. Albert Proctor. In reply, congratulations were proffered by Mrs. Wescott, Mrs. Miller, and Mrs. Parker, in behalf of their organizations.

For the entertainment of their guests the members of the Club staged, on a raised platform tastefully banked with palms, amongst which were beautiful Calla-lilies, the "Pageant of the Brides," displaying Gowns Old and New. This was directed by Mrs. Caroline Allingham, of Newton Highlands. Club members, who assisted the models to don their lovely raiment, were Mrs. Robert McLaughlin, Miss Grace Hunt, Mrs. James McNeally, and Mrs. Ella Elkins.

The gowns exhibited were worn by young girls, the daughters and friends of the Club members, who lent these treasured family heirlooms.

Mrs. Marjorie Sprague presided at the piano, and Mr. John McMahers, of Newton Upper Falls, sang "O Promise Me."

Mr. Walter Billings and Mr. Calvin Shedd, of Upper Falls served as ushers.

Displaying the fashions by years, the gowns were exhibited by the following models, each entering to the strains of Mendelssohn's "Wedding March," and leaving to the music of "The Reckless!"

1811. Gown 125 years old. Brown taffeta, with old-fashioned nosegay, Miss Cynthia Murphy.

at Brandon Hall of Lasell Seminary, at 8 o'clock in the evening. Mrs. Fidalgo will discuss the subject "Tried and Tested Home Economic Facts."

Prior to her marriage of three years ago, Mrs. Fidalgo was well-known to New England Radio Audiences as Miss Yvonne Fidalgo. She has conducted a daily Home Economic program for the National Broadcasting Company, over stations WBZ, WBZA and WIXAZ, for several years, and also presented many musical programs that featured her lyric soprano voice. Mrs. Fidalgo now is serving as vice-chairman of the American Home committee, and as a member of the Program committee of the Auburn-dale Woman's Club.

The evening's program will be in the form of a simulated broadcast. Members and their guests are cordially invited.

Mrs. Alice Dixon Bond, known for her lectures and her literary reviews, was the guest-speaker at the Auburn-dale Woman's Club, last Tuesday. She served a "Literary Banquet," to an extremely appreciative audience, who apparently relished every course. "Books color your point of view, influence your life one way or another," she remarked at the opening of her lecture. "The first course," she said, "must contain something that will make your eyes sparkle, and give a first zest to your meal," and fittingly she suggested humorous books. "Live Alone and Like It," by Marjorie Hillis; "Excuse It, Please," by Cornelia Otis Skinner, were recommended, and also the following sprightly book of poetry, "Gaily the Troubadour," by Arthur Guiterman.

For the soup course, Mrs. Bond offered fiction. As many elements go into soup to concoct the perfect dish, so there are all kinds of fiction, she explained. Included in her recommendations for the soup course were "Yang and Yin," by Alice Tisdale Hobart; "Street of the Fishing Cat," by John Folds; "Sound of Running Feet," by Josephine Lawrence; "The Late George Apley," by John P. Marquand; and "Shining Scabbard," by R. C. Hutchinson.

The fish course followed, in the form of essays, with "This England," by Mary Elton Chase; and "In Pursuit of Laughter," suggested. The most course, which, as Mrs. Bond phrased it, is the "mainstay," and "heart" bit of the meal, must be sustaining, and she offered accordingly the non-fiction books at this time. "The Flowering of New England," by Van Wyck Brooks; "Heads and Tales," by Malvina Hoffman; "Three Wheeling Through Africa," by James Whitely; "Victoria of England," by Edith Sitwell; and "Catherine de Medici," by Ralph Roeder, were included in this particular group. As the light salad entree came the suggestion of the book of short stories, "The Man Who Caught the Weather," by Van Wyck Brooks; "Heads and Tales," by Malvina Hoffman; "Three Wheeling Through Africa," by James Whitely; "Victoria of England," by Edith Sitwell; and "Catherine de Medici," by Ralph Roeder, were included in this particular group.

Mrs. Lawrence L. Fidalgo served as day chairman. Coffee and cookies were served.

During the business meeting that preceded the program, Mrs. Edgar O. Butz made the announcement that the Art Corner would feature English articles at the next meeting. The Scholarship Fund Administration as recommended and drawn up by the Education committee was accepted.

The Travel Class of the West Newton Women's Educational Club held its Annual Meeting on Monday, January 25th, at the home of Mrs. Wilson C. Dorr, 342 Otis street, West Newton, who served the members a delicious luncheon. Pourers were Mrs. Raymond O. Littlefield, leader of the Class; Mrs. John Shade Franklin, president of the West Newton Women's Educational Club, and Mrs. Willard C. Church. Mrs. Ella Mason, a former member of the Travel Class, was guest of honor.

Following luncheon, Mrs. Everett L. Upham was chosen leader of the Class for 1937-1938; and it was decided to continue the "Study of France" for programs of half of next year, and then to turn to "Switzerland" for the remainder of the meetings.

The outgoing leader, Mrs. Littlefield, read her report, and then Mrs. Ethel Leach read a most enjoyable paper entitled "The Churches of St. Etienne and St. Germaine, and a Short Visit to a Porcelain Factory at Sevres."

Newton Federation

The regular monthly meeting of the Executive Board of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs was held Monday, January 25th, at 10 a. m., in the Newton Library, with Mrs. Edgar P. Hay, first vice-president, presiding, in the absence of the president, Mrs. J. Earle Parker.

Mrs. Chester W. Tadhury, chairman of Christmas Seals, reported $562.90 collected to date.

Through the Civics committee a request came from the local Red Cross Chapter for checks to assist in the flood disaster.

The Conservation committee requested that the birds be fed, as, due to the warm weather, many birds have not gone south this winter.

Mrs. Wallace H. Jose, chairman of the Legislative committee, spoke of the agitation for Biennial Elections, giving in detail the reasons for the proposition, and the Board moved that the Newton Federation endorse the bill for Biennial Elections.

The Legislative Conference to be held in Whitney Hall, Brookline, at 1:30 o'clock, on February 8th, was announced.

Mrs. Anton A. Wild urged that as many as possible attend the Mother and Son Banquet at the Y. M. C. A. the first week in March.

The Hospital Aid Association made a plea for $2.00 memberships, and also asked for clothes for stocking the Benefit Shop.

Mrs. Harold Stewart, of Brookline, gave an intensive ten-minute talk on the Boston Community Chest, mentioning many logical reasons why Newton people should contribute.

Mrs. Walter Harstone announced that Mr. Hovey, Superintendent of Newton Streets, would be the speaker at the next "Know Your City" lecture, on Thursday morning, February 4th, at the Newton Centre Woman's Club House.

Auburdale Garden Club

The fourth Annual Winter Flower Show of the Auburdale Garden Club, held last Monday at the beautiful residence of Mrs. Paul A. Chandler, was a great success. This success was due largely to Mrs. Frederick D. Goode, chairman of the committee, who worked untiringly to attain the heights that the show reached, and to the splendid co-operation of her committee, Mrs. Sydney H. Baylor, Mrs. Frederick Y. Briscoe, Mrs. Paul A. Chandler, Mrs. Harold Elrod, Mrs. Austin W. Fisher, Mrs. C. B. Graves, Mrs. Richard L. Kenney, and Mrs. Elvada A. Minard.

Class I Green Vines in colored glass containers, and Class II House Plants, entries were displayed in the sun-room. Here the sun picked up the vivid colors of ruby, amethyst, and amber of the glass containers and reflected them in dancing beams across the floor and walls. Entries in these classes were made by the following: Mrs. Stanley Knowles, Mrs. Clifford H. Parks, 29 Kilburn road, West Newton; Mrs. Eugene Ufford, Mrs. Frederick Y. Briscoe, Mrs. Davidson, Mrs. G. W. Armstrong, Mrs. Carl B. Graves, Mrs. Hervey Law, Mrs. John Brown, Mrs. Frederick D. Goode, Mrs. E. H. Potter, Mrs. R. L. Kenney, Mrs. Pepper, Mrs. Strang, Mrs. Sidney H. Baylor, Mrs. E. Graham Bates, and Mrs. Arthur T. Freeman.

The inviting library housed entries of Class III, namely, "Moderate Arrangement," and Class IV, Winter Decoration for living-room; any material, dried, forced, flowering, and fruit. Those who participated in this entry were, Mrs. Richard L. Kenney, Mrs. Frederick D. Goode, Mrs. E. Ufford, Mrs. Hervey Law, Mrs. Charles S. Grover, Mrs. Balch, Mrs. C. B. Graves, Mrs. Stanley Knowles, Mrs. Ralph Keyes, Mrs. E. H. Potter, Mrs. G. H. Baylor, Mrs. John Brown, Mrs. S. H. Baylor, Mrs. E. G. Bates, and Mrs. Charles Brown.

Fittingly, the drawing-room which held treasures from the orient of rare value was the background for Class VII, "Arrangement in the Japanese manner." A nine-foot teakwood table, over two hundred years old, displayed many old treasures, a six-foot Japanese screen, beautifully-colored, served as a background for many striking arrangements. Other lovely art pieces were a priest's robe, iron lamps that had previously held candles in a temple, and a ming pottery lamp. The mantel featured a striking arrangement, entered in Class V and here, too, was the fitting background of an exquisite panel entirely made of feathers to form a peacock. Those entered in this class were Mrs. Kenney, Mrs. Benjamin Pepper, Mrs. Fisher, Mrs. Charles Brown, Mrs. Charles Grover, Mrs. Paul Chandler, Mrs. Frederick D. Goode, Mrs. Ralph Keyes, and Mrs. Sidney H. Baylor.

The dining-room was gala with a beautiful centerpiece of spring flowers, flanked on either side by silver candelabra. Miss Tower and Miss Eager, entered this class number VI, Flower Arrangement for a formal tea.

Hundreds Against Change of Zone Near Church

changes were made only for the benefit of the community, and that the interests of churches were protected. He opposed the petition.

Rev. John Sheridan, pastor of Our Lady's Church read the following letter he had sent to Mayor Childs and the Board of Aldermen:

"As pastor of the Church of Our Lady and Treasurer of the Parochial School Association, I wish to enter my solemn protest against any change in the existing Zoning Ordinance regarding land and buildings on Washington st., between the Catholic Church property and Crafts st. It is now in a residential zone, and any change would be a serious detriment to the rights of more than six thousand loyal citizens of our city. Having faith in the zoning ordinances, we have erected a beautiful new High School. It is, in my opinion, a decidedly valuable asset to the community, and should be protected, not injured. Placing near it business structures of any description would be positive injury.

"The most potent factors in the upbuilding of a city, state or nation are the home, the school and the church. When an individual in good faith, builds himself a home, or a group of individuals building a school or a church, under the protection of the city's laws, it seems quite unjust for the city to depreciate the value of such property or impair its usefulness, by changing zones and permitting the erection of undesirable buildings in the immediate neighborhood.

"To change the zones for the furtherance of some great and necessary public improvement, or for the abatement of a public nuisance may be advisable; but to make constant changes to meet the whims of this or that individual, or to further his private interests at the expense of a whole neighborhood, is intolerable. It is an invasion of human and material rights, a blot on the fair fame of our beloved city, and a serious obstacle in the way of progress.

"We ask your Honorable Board to give careful consideration to this protest. Our school and the children it trains and educates are very dear to us. We have erected our building in good faith and relying on your protection; and we ask you not to break faith with us."

NEWTON WINS N. U. MEET BY WIDE MARGIN

New Relay and High Jump Marks Feature Victory

The 1937 Newton High track team opened the interscholastic track season last Saturday, where the 1936 team left off last June, with a sweeping win of the 10th annual Northeastern University meet at the Boston Garden. Last year's well-balanced outfit rang up a grand slam of all nine major interscholastic affairs, indoors and outdoors. With another powerful squad, Coach Don Enoch's charges bid fair to emulate their predecessors. Starting slowly and with their supporters somewhat discouraged, the Newton runners and jumpers literally came by leaps and bounds to run away with their second consecutive Northeastern meet and their fourth in the series of ten.

Four new records were made with William "Smitty" Pescosolido's 6' 2 7/8" leap in the high jump and the Newton relay team's clocking of 2m 15s against Medford in the final race of the program, the outstanding features. Another highlight was the one-two finish of J. Gallagher and Elmer Ross in the 600-yard run. This event, midway of the program, gave Newton the clinching points and from there on they were unbeatable. Mark Messier's third in the high jump brought Newton's scoring in these two events to 15 points and gave an interesting comparison with other Newton track teams of recent years. In these other years, although Newton has been strong on the track, there has been little power in the 600 or high jump. It is a different story this year.

The meet opened with the hurdles and Newton's hopes of scoring in the event waned when Pescosolido and Don MacKinnon failed to survive both trial and semi-final heats. "Smitty" won his trial heat, and placed second in his semi-final which qualified him for a place in a runner heat for second place finalists. In this runner heat, Ed MacFarland, of Winthrop, eventual second place winner to Medford's Eddie Dugger, the winner, won to qualify as the fifth entry in the final.

State dash champion Paul Forte took a licking in the finals of the dash from the unheralded colored flash, Rupert Leonard of Boston English. Forte had six inches on Brockton points after winning a slow trial heat and equalling meet record figures of 5.6s in his semi-final. The record figures were equalled in all four semi-final heats by Harley Masters of Lynn Classical, who also was clocked in the same figures in his trial heat. Brockton's Lou Montano and Leonard. This quartet, with Wexler of Roxbury Memorial and Wood of Lowell, first and second place winners of a runner heat for those who placed second in the semi-finals, were the finalists. In the finals Leonard shot off the mark with the gun but as they neared the tape Forte and Montgomery, running almost neck and neck, were overhauling his early yard lead. Forte had six inches on Brockton's Lou at the tape and was awarded second. Wood finished fourth with Masters, one of the favorites, being shut out. Frank Hines of Newton won his trial heat and placed second to Montgomery in a semi-final to get into the runner heat but found this field too fast.

The 300 was run in six heats with the winners qualifying for the final. Captain Twoomey of Medford won the first and Newton's Captain Bob Mutter the second with little competition. Masters, Ryan of Hyde Park, Maze of Mechanics Arts and Livingston of Brookline were the other finalists. Masters was in the lead at the first corner but Mutter took it over on the back stretch. Maze was on their heels and went out in front as the bell started and none of the other runners could catch the flying Negro. Mutter faded in the last half lap and Livingston came up fast to take third place behind Masters and Maze. Mutter's fourth in the event gave Newton a total of four points where the Newton supporters had been counting on eight or nine.

The 1000-yard field was faster than expected and the first three runners in the first of four heats against time were all under the former record. Newton's Basil Babcock found himself in the second heat against Everett's veteran Larry Piscione. The Everett star raced his field into the ground for an even better mark than made in the first heat. His figures of 2m 22.2s gave the rest of the runners something to shoot at. Bill Kelly of Newton led the pack all the way in the third heat and put on a driving finish to equal the old record but his performance still was not quite good enough to get into the point-scoring and again Newton's hopes were shattered.

Newton still had but four points and several other schools were leading with five points each when the 600 was called. After Seiler of Mechanics Arts turned in a 1m 21.4s performance to win the first heat in the 600 for which places were also awarded on a time basis, Elmer Ross of Newton's hopes again with a 1m 21.2s clocking in the second heat. The Newton youth battled Swartz of Everett all the way but Ross was on the pole and refused to yield the lead. His time stood as the fastest until the final heat which gallant Joe Gallant won handsily. With but little competition, Gallant pushed himself around the track and stretched out on the last lap to break the tape in 1m 19.8s, giving Newton first and second and eight points in the event.

Meanwhile Pescosolido and Mark Messier had been carrying the Newton colors in the high jump. At 5' 10 1/4", these two and Ralph Ryan, outdoor state champion and holder of the Boston schoolboy record, of Boston English, were the only three jumpers left. Pesky missed on his first try but after removing his warm-up suit easily cleared it on the second effort. Messier missed twice but made it on his final chance to make sure of third place. With Messier failing on the next height, Ryan and the Newton sophomore settled down to their duel. At 6' and 4 1/2", Pesky, who was jumping first, balked as the starter's gun went off to open one of the twelve relay races on the card. The incident failed to unsettle him and he cleared it right away although grazing the bar slightly. Ryan cleared it with ease and confidence and the officials moved the bar up an other inch. Both missed their first two tries but on his last chance, Pesky cleared it to the cheers of many supporters. Ryan failed and the Newton youngster, jumping in his first schoolboy meet, and having broken the previous record by only a quarter-inch, the bar was again raised for the Newton hero to 6' 2 1/4". On his first try he cleared the dizzy height as the spectators waited breathlessly until it was certain that the bar would not fall and then bedlam broke loose. Pesky took three tries at 6' 3 3/4" and almost cleared it on his second attempt but he was forced to be content at the record of an inch lower.

The new high jump record was the third of the afternoon as Wexler of Roxbury Memorial had broken the shot put mark with a heave of 53 ft. 10 1/2 in, while the jump and track events had been going on. The relay races were going on during the jump and shotput and Newton and Medford were called for the final race of the day just as the high jump concluded. Frank Hines led off for Newton against Medford's Eddie Dugger. Hines got the first bank but the long legged Negro went out in front on the back stretch. As the corner of the back bank Hines cut inside on the pole to hand his baton to Forte as Dugger passed his to his next runner. Hines baton passing was cleaner than Dugger's and Forte was off to a fast start. He easily built up a 15 yard advantage over his opponent and Jerry Allen took up the task. Allen increased the margin about 5 yards more against Evans. Gallant was Newton's anchor against Twoomey. The Medford youth is a fast 300 yard runner but the handling was too great and although he reduced the lead to less than 10 yards he could not catch Gallant who broke the tape in 2 min. 15 sec. to cut a full second off the Watertown High 1935 record of 2 min. 16 sec. Medford was also under this figure by a half second. The five points for the relay set Newton's total at 24 with Mechanics Arts High finishing in far behind in second place with 9 1/2. Medford and Boston English shared fourth place with 8 points each and fourteen other schools divided the remaining corners.

Today Newton will risk its clean slate in a dual meet with Lowell, rated a very strong team. Conceded a clean sweep in the shot, Lowell can count on Carmen Bove for a win in the 1000-yard run, since he was second last Saturday at the Garden in the excellent time of 2:24.8. They have a very good sprinter in Bill Wood, a fair hurdler in Gerry Cole, and a fast 600-yarder in Ed Murphy. Newton will be able to offset the Lowell shotput strength with talent in the two jumps, unless Lowell's broad-jumpers are unusually good. This afternoon's meet will mark the first competitive home appearance of "Smitty" Pescosolido in the hurdles and high jump, since he was ineligible at the time of the Medford dual meet.

Wednesday, Feb. 10, has been set as the date of the postponed Everett-Newton dual meet at Everett. If they get a balmy day, the two teams will show some fine performances. Newton's biggest month of the indoor season starts now, with the Eastern Seaboard Relays coming next Saturday (Feb. 13) at the Boston Garden, and the Andover Interscholastics and the State Meet on successive Saturdays.

Basketball

Both high school basketball teams won their league games on schedule this week. Our Lady's, playing without their star pivot, Fran Morris, defeated St. Clement's of Somerville 19-12 on the Western Junior High floor Tuesday night. Mario Marino led O. L. with eleven points, to keep the Newton team undefeated in Catholic League play.

Newton High's good team celebrated the return of their injured leader, Capt. Leonard LeSourd, by defeating Rindge Tech 23-14 at Newtonville Tuesday, thereby staying in the Suburban League battle. Don Abbott was again high scorer with 11 points, while Stan Gruber made five and LeSourd four. The Newton second team beat Rindge seconds 32-14.

presented and the permits were granted. Dennis Shea, Jr., asked that a sewer and drain be built in Melville ave., Newtonville. Mr. Shea stated that cesspools along this street have to be pumped out frequently and a sewer is necessary as a health measure. Henry Volpe of Melville ave. agreed with him.

The Board confirmed the reappointments of C. Adrian Sawyer as a member of the Board of Appeal, Clarence Randlett as Forest Warden and Charles Mahoney as Superintendent for the Suppression of Brown Tail Moths. It also confirmed the appointment of George Kellar as a member of the Playground Commission. Mayor Childs submitted the following reappointments—Assessor for 3 years, John R. Prescott; Assistant Assessors for 1 year, Oscar Reed, Ralph Laffie, Fred L. Smith, William Flynn. Member of Planning Board for 3 years, Nelson Vanderhoof, Thomas F. Donnelly, member of Registrars of Voters for 3 years.

On recommendation of the Licenses Committee permits were granted to Archie Ridgers to build a 3 car garage at 40 Wyckham rd., West Newton, and to Waldo Weldon to build a 3 car garage at 201 California st., Nonantum. The Nonantum Used Car Company was given a renewal of its permit to sell used cars at 73 West st. W. E. Cashman was given a permit to sell used motor vehicles at 784-788 Beacon st., Newton Centre. John Donnelly & Sons were refused a permit to erect a billboard 25 feet long and 12 feet high against the side of a building at 209 River st., West Newton. Alderman Colby said such a billboard would be in violation of the ordinances of this city. A petition was received from C. S. Collins asking that he be given a permit for the sale of used cars on open lots at 1102-1104 Beacon st., near Walnut st., Newton Centre.

Hearings were assigned for February 15th on the petition of Stephen Moran for a 2000 gallons increase in gasoline storage at 123 River st.; and on the bill filed in the Legislature by Representative Brimblecomb for biennial elections in Newton.

Appropriations made by the Aldermen included—Welfare Department, temporary clerk, $157.50; drain on Hillside ave., $1765; WPA project at water reservation in Needham, for tools and equipment, $1200; water mains in various streets, $5165. The trustees of the Couzens Fund were authorized to sell certain property taken by foreclosure. Alderman Temperley asked if this property will be sold at public auction or to some favored individual at a nominal price? Temperley said that the former owner of this property suffered financial reverses during the depression years and that if the Couzens Fund trustees receive more for the sale of this property than the mortgage loan which was on it, the difference should be returned to the benefit of the former owner. Alderman Bowen, chairman of the Finance Committee, said he did not know how the trustees intend to sell the property, and that the Board of Aldermen cannot dictate to them.

Not Guilty of Reckless Driving

Harold Mitton, 24, of Mystic Lake Drive, Arlington, was found not guilty of driving to endanger in the Newton court on Wednesday. Mitton was the driver of the car which hit and seriously injured Miss Mary Donovan of 150 Church st. as the woman was crossing Washington st. at Jewett st. on the night of November 22. Judge Allen stated that none of the witnesses for the prosecution had actually seen the woman hit by the car and the mere fact that Mitton was involved in the accident was no proof that he was driving to endanger.

Charged With Drunken Driving

Two autoists were arraigned in the Newton court last Saturday charged with driving cars while under the influence of liquor. John H. Quinlan of Cedar st., Roxbury, was arrested at Newtonville on Friday afternoon by Patrolman Marshall while he was operating a truck. His case was continued to Feb. 10th. Roscoe Dussault of Cohasset was arrested Friday night by Patrolmen Gaquin and Scott. His case was continued to Feb. 4th.

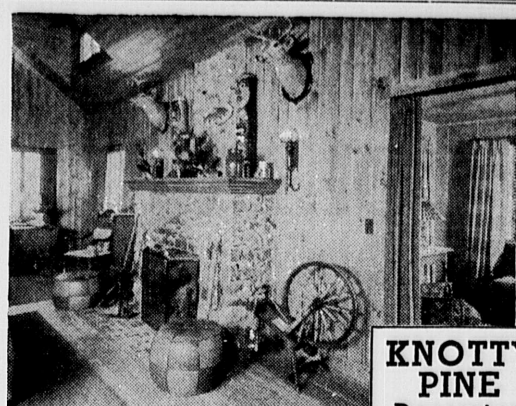

LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS

Civil Service conditions which the League is striving to better exist not only in Washington but in Massachusetts as well. The most crying evil is Veterans Preference.

Suppose a vacancy in a position to which Civil Service rules are applicable. The list of "eligibles" is examined and from the three names which top the list a choice must be made. Eligibles are those who have passed the civil service examinations and the names are or should be arranged in the order of marks received so that those who head the list are presumably the most competent. But in Massachusetts—alone of all the States—a veteran who has secured even the passing mark of 70% is placed above all non-veterans. Thus if the list includes several veterans one of them must be appointed even to the possible exclusion of a much better qualified man.

A bill has been filed in the Legislature abolishing veteran preference and thus opening the way for filling public offices with the best available material. It is felt that rewards given for past patriotic services should not be such as to involve lowering the grade of present public service.

Sophomore Elections

By an overwhelming plurality of 317 votes, Thomas Burkhard was elected president of the sophomore class in the election held on January 27. True to pre-election predictions, the popular Tom took the lead in the very first returns and left all other candidates far behind. Tom was an outstanding leader in the Weeks Junior High, both in scholastic activities and in sports. The class of '39 is trusting him to lead them through their first year in high school.

The other positions were not as easily won. Albert Everts led his closest rival for the vice-presidency, Jane Ansley, by only 16 votes. Joan O'Hara had 49 more votes than Thelma Blackley, runner-up for the post of secretary. The office of treasurer went to Herbert Bernard, classmate of Tom Burkhard from the Weeks.

Donald Forte, John Carder, and Dawn Eaton followed in that order in the presidential race. The succession in the contest for vice-president was Robert Liming, Tersino D'Eugenio, and Daniel Needham. While Gilbert Gould, Madylis Dalton, and Ida Kellaway followed Thelma Blackley in the secretarial race. Runners-up in the treasurer's contest were Ruth Lucas, Paul Crocker, and Allen Talley.

In the large vote of $74 ballots, two junior high schools are represented. Tom and Herbert are from Weeks and Joan and Albert are from Day.

Honor Society Plans for Annual Ceremony

On Thursday, Jan. 28 the National Honor Society met to discuss plans for the forthcoming induction ceremony in April. The question of choosing a speaker for this ceremony was discussed and referred to a committee composed of the officers, Richard Lovell, Barbara Bancroft, Janet Merrill and Evelyn Waddell.

Further discussion involved the Stage, Gown, Program, and Record committees which will carry out various phases of the work. The date for tryouts for reading parts at the ceremony: Character, Service, Leadership, and Scholarship, was set for Feb. 5.

Mr. Green then commented on the inspiring ceremony, and mentioned the desire of newly-formed groups in other schools to attend the annual ceremony at Newton.

The Microphone Club enjoyed a special meeting yesterday. Instead of meeting in their own studio, the members met at the Telephone Exchange, Bowdoin square, Boston. Miss Helen Lee, adviser of the club, was with the group.

Sophomore Dance

The annual sophomore Valentine Dance will be held on Feb. 12. The officers of the class will have charge of the dance. There are two or three good orchestras under consideration now. While the dance is run by the sophomore class, juniors and seniors may attend. A good time is guaranteed to all. Further information will be given out later through the sophomore home rooms and by posters.

New Club Opens

The newly organized Science Activity Club has already elected its officers and had several informal meetings. The officers are: William Sullivan, president; Richard Wright, vice-president; Donald Hollis, secretary; and Robert Palmer, treasurer. The purpose of the club is to enable students to spend more time on those phases of science in which they are particularly interested and to create hobbies which will be useful in later life.

Personal Notes

Miss Anne E. Leathers, teacher of English and guidance worker with the post-graduate group of pupils, has just completed a course at Boston University in methods of visual education. Miss Leathers has made a survey of illustrative material available for English classes.

Talks on Mexico

Miss M. Louise Wetherbee, teacher of English and Drama Club coach, gave an address before the Central Circle of the Central Congregational Church. Her subject was "Mexico: Its People and Industries." Miss Wetherbee and Miss Roberta Miller spent their last summer's holiday in Mexico.

Mr. Horace E. Kidger, head of the social studies department, recently spoke to the College Group of Young People of the Methodist Episcopal Church, Newtonville. Mr. Kidger's subject was: "The Present Situation in Europe."

"The Current Magazine and the Teaching of English," recently published by the National Council of English Teachers at its Chicago office, carries a splendid chapter by Miss Caroline N. Doonan, English teacher in Newton High School. It presents a workable unit of magazine teaching formulated by Miss Doonan and used in Newton High for several years.

Mr. Horace E. Kidger has been appointed advisory editor of the new social studies magazine, called "Social Education." It is the official magazine of the Council of Social Studies Teachers.

Mr. John Sholes, class of 1927, serving as first mate on the United Fruit Company steamship line, has recently passed the examinations and received his Captain's License.

Boys' Debating Club

Mr. Julius E. Warren, Superintendent of Schools, and Mr. Frost, president of the Men's Club, First Church of Newton, arranged a special program for the Men's Club meeting on Wednesday evening, Jan. 20th. Members of the Newton High School Debating Club were guests at dinner and then aroused great interest by their debating of the question: "Resolved, that the Teacher's Oath Bill in Massachusetts be repealed." Richard Clinton Massell was chairman of the debate, and the affirmative speakers were Leon Lipson, Edward Wallace, and Sidney Guberman. The negative side was supported by Thomas O'Toole, Sumner Hoffman, and Beverly Booth. Many questions were asked after the debate by persons in the audience. Mr. Frederick O. Dean Russell Talks at Forum On Education

Gives Broad Viewpoint and Decries Communism

The next to the last lecture in the Newton Community Forum series took place Sunday afternoon in the Newton High School auditorium. Dean William F. Russell of Teachers' College, Columbia University, spoke on the subject "What is wrong with our schools and colleges?"

Many of the audience apparently attended the lecture with a preconceived idea of what Dean Russell would have to say. Many of the audience seemed disappointed. Instead of telling specifically what was lacking or unfortunately present in our educational system, in so many words, as many hoped and expected him to do, the speaker took a much broader, more philosophical point of view and in some respects a far more important one. He told what he thought was the general trend of education, discussing rather than it must do for the world than what it isn't doing.

In France the schools and universities are governed by the political body. Nothing is taught or done that is not the mandate of government. Freedom of speech is taboo, and by instilling into the minds of students from the primary grades up what the government wants them to believe, freedom of thought is rapidly being transformed into a twisted, unimaginative routine of mental passivity. Worse than that—it means the deterioration of mind and character from the human to the primitive instincts of jealousy and hate characteristic of the animal.

The speaker told of a convention in Paris which he attended a year or so ago. A mob of communists and fascists thronged the streets. Not a single French flag decorated the city. On the one hand loomed the Hammer and Sickle, on the other the three arrows of fascism. The general situation was synonymous with the condition that existed before the French Revolution. Incidentally, to those who think that the NRA and WPA are something new and different it might be of interest to know that it was such institutions that were largely the cause of the French Revolution.

As yet this country is—to superficial observation at least—comparatively free of such tyranny, but there may come a day that is not so far off. What measures are to be taken to eliminate the possibility of such a disaster? There has been a definite trend toward communism since the depression—a steady effort by labor unions to take control of the state. What is the significance of all these strikes and "picketing"? The primary

Middlesex Court M. C. O. F. Holds 51st Reunion

Middlesex Court, M. C. O. F., observed the 51st anniversary of its organization by a banquet on Tuesday evening at Elks' Hall, Newton. About 150 members and guests were present. The affair was in charge of Miss Marion Goode, P.C.R. Edward H. Powers, P.C.R., was toastmaster. The guests included Joseph Cahalan, High Chief Ranger of the M. C. O. F.; Miss Annie Sullivan and Patrick Lally of the High Finance Committee, John J. Russell of Brookline, Deputy of the Court, and Mrs. Margaret Teletchea of Watertown, District Deputy. Chief Ranger John P. Tierney of Middlesex Court welcomed the gathering and told of the plans of the court for the coming year. Mr. Cahalan assured the members that the M. C. O. F. is in a better financial condition than it has been for years and gives insurance at a very low cost, even under the new State requirements and actuarial standards.

William Barry of Brighton, Past Deputy of the Court, was presented with a valuable gold watch. Daniel Foley and Patrick Linnahan, both of Newton Centre, were presented with 50-year medals. Thomas Waters of Newtonville, one of the few surviving charter members of the Court, was present. Dancing was enjoyed following the banquet.

Hit-Run Driver Fined $25

Thomas O'Connor of 78 Circuit ave., Newton Highlands was fined $25 by Judge Allen in the Newton court on Saturday for leaving the scene of an accident without making himself known. He was the driver of a car which on January 31st sideswiped another car on Beacon st. near Boston College. It was charged that O'Connor did not stop after hitting the other car. The registration numbers on the automobile he was driving were taken down by an autoist who was following. A warrant was issued against O'Connor and he was arrested on February 3rd by Patrolmen Keating and Stevens.

technique toward communism is causing dissatisfaction among the workers, prodding them on by widespread and vicious propaganda, putting ideas in the heads of the uneducated that they haven't the ability to refute or the courage to defy.

Dean Russell's advice was to use the press, the radio and education (before the communists can get control of them) to stir the people up to a realization of what is happening "behind our backs" before the situation gets out of control. Adult education, widespread propaganda (of the right kind) will go a long way toward helping to "disarm" physically, economically and socially. A perfect system of living cannot be attained by any plan, but a sane, balanced building up of the right ideas instilled into the minds of the people will go far toward keeping us from the brink of the maelstrom.

Honor Seward Jones On 80th Birthday

Seward W. Jones of Newton Highlands was honored on Tuesday night at the Harvard Club, Boston, by a gathering of 90 friends. The occasion was on Mr. Jones 80th birthday. Jay R. Benton presided and in behalf of those present gave Mr. Jones a fitted suit-case. Mr. Jones has been president of the Newton Trust Company since 1914 and is treasurer of Jones Brothers, leading granite memorial manufacturers, with quarries at Barre, Vermont. Mr. Jones served as a member of the Governor's Council from 1907 to 1909, and as a member of the Newton Board of Health for 13 years. For many years he was one of the most active workers for the Republican Party in this State.

Drove to Endanger; Case Placed on File

Wallace Shephardson, 17, of 56 Bellevue st., Newton was arraigned in the Newton court last Thursday on a charge of driving a car so as to endanger the lives and safety of the public. Shephardson, a high school student, was the driver of a car which on December 23rd collided at Washington and Parsons sts., West Newton with a car driven by Archie McIntosh of Waverhill, West Newton. McIntosh, his wife and child, received injuries. Judge Murray of Milford, who presided at Shephardson's trial, found him guilty—and placed the case on file.

Wilho Frigard of Stowe was in the Newton court last Thursday charged with speeding. Patrolman John Green was the complainant. Judge Murray placed the case on file.

Insurance Agent Robbed In Own Car

James Goudas, 45, an insurance agent, was robbed of $50 on Morse st. near the Newton-Watertown line on Wednesday night. Goudas reported to the Watertown police that he had made a collection in a house on Morse st. and entered his car which was parked nearby. The bandit had hidden in the back seat of the car while Goudas was in the house, and as the agent prepared to start the car he was commanded to turn over the money on his person. The robber tapped Goudas on the head with the weapon he carried.

Auto Hits Hydrant, Driver Arrested

Fred Lee, 23, of 108 Windsor rd., Waban, was arrested early Sunday morning after the car he was allegedly driving had hit and broken a hydrant at Beacon st. near Hammond st., Chestnut Hill. The hydrant gushed water for nearly an hour and flooded the street. It was broken about 12:30 a. m. Lee was arrested by Patrolman Smith. In the Newton court on Monday Lee was charged with drunkenness and driving while under the influence of liquor. His case was continued until February 19.

Many Collisions On Sleety Streets Monday Night

The sleet which covered street surfaces late Monday afternoon and Monday night, caused a number of automobile accidents in Newton. The most serious occurred about 6:15 o'clock opposite 1248 Beacon st., Waban. Cars driven by Thomas Dean of Wyman st., Waban and Raymond Coppins of Walnut st., Wellesley collided. Coppins alighted and was standing behind his car when he was hit by a car driven by Edward Norwood of 10 Dwindle rd., Waban, which skidded. Coppins received a broken leg and was taken to the Newton Hospital. Before the damaged cars were removed, another car driven by Dorothea Denton of Clark rd., Brookline, skidded as it approached the scene at 6:45. This car ran into a nearby tree.

At 5:20 Monday afternoon a car driven by Fred Farnsworth of Homer st., Newton Centre skidded on Beacon st., Chestnut Hill and hit a Middlesex & Boston bus. John Waters of Brook st., Brighton, driver of the bus, reported that he had received an injury to his left shoulder.

At 7:15 p. m. a car driven by John Morris of 457 Wolcott st., Auburndale, skidded on Watertown st., Newtonville and hit a tree. Morris received cuts on his face and was taken to the Newton Hospital in the police ambulance. A large truck skidded on the Worcester turnpike near Woodward st., hit a curb and the body of the truck was knocked off the chassis. Its load of junk was scattered on the roadway.

Welfare Dept. Wants Additional Investigators

Director James P. Reynolds of the Newton Welfare Department is asking in his budget recommendations for this year additional investigators for the department. There are now four investigators, two of whom are temporary. Mr. Reynolds asks for three or four additional investigators, one of whom will be a woman. These investigators would be appointed from the lists of eligibles submitted by the Civil Service Commission. Two would be assigned in investigating old age assistance, and care of dependent children. The latter type of welfare activity was formerly known as "other's aid."

Boy Burned At West Newton

John Standish, 19, of 18 Southgate Park, West Newton was burned about his face and eyes on Tuesday afternoon while using a chemistry set at his home. Alcohol flaring up caused the burns. His right eye was seriously affected. The boy was taken to the office of Dr. Glazier on Wakham st., and from there was taken to the Newton Hospital in the police ambulance.

42 City Laborers Are Laid Off

Because of lack of work forty-two employees of the Newton Street Department were laid off last Saturday. During the winter months of 1934-1935 one hundred and fifty men were laid off for considerable periods. Last year no street department employees were laid off; an unusual record. Street Commissioner Mahoney has been deferring for many weeks the laying off employees with the hope that snow storms would make work. But, the complete absence of snow storms in this vicinity, and the failure of sufficient petitions for street improvements or sewer projects to keep the full force busy, necessitated the lay off this week. The only thing that will put all these men back to work in the near future will be some normal New England weather, which includes snow storms.

In Fatal Accident, Is Fined $10.00

William P. Leach of 46 Lincoln rd., Newton, was arraigned in the district court at East Cambridge on Feb. 3 charged with manslaughter, driving to endanger and driving without a license. On the night of Jan. 22, a car driven by Leach hit a man and woman as they were crossing Mount Auburn st. near the Cambridge-Watertown line. The man, Thomas Zinski, 39, of Chelsea, died a couple of days later at the Cambridge Hospital. His fiancée, Clara Isola of Dorchester, received a fractured leg and internal injuries. She is still in the hospital. Judge Stone found Leach not guilty of manslaughter, fined him $10 for driving without a license, and gave him a two weeks' jail sentence for driving to endanger. Leach did not have to go to prison as the sentence was suspended.

Vacation Question Before Voters

The bill filed in the Legislature by Alderman Cronin relative to two weeks annual vacations for city laborers in Newton was signed by Governor Hurley last Saturday. As a result if 5 per cent of the registered voters of Newton will petition, a referendum will be placed on the ballot at the next State election which will allow voters of this city to vote for or against giving vacations to the laborers.

Used Land as Dump Pays $5 Fine

James Caccavaro of 360 Oakland st., Watertown was fined $5 in the Newton court on Monday for trespassing. Newton police received a complaint that a lot of land on Gordon rd., Waban was being used as a dump without permission of the owner. Patrolmen Munroe and Taffe watched the place on January 29 and apprehended Caccavaro when he drove to the lot with a load of rubbish.

Get Evidence of California Street Traffic Condition

The action of the Newton Board of Aldermen and the Newton Planning Board in opposing the use of California st., at Nonantum, as part of a State highway, received support last week through cooperation from the Street and Police Departments. Supt. Mahoney of the Street Department assigned a man to make a count of automobile traffic on the street. It was found that more than 400 vehicles per hour passed over it. On Friday Robert Lunt, who does photographic work for the police department, took a number of photographs showing the many employees of Nonantum factories walking along California st., and the large number of automobiles which are parked on the street from Dalby st. westerly.

Should the Committee on Metropolitan Affairs of the Legislature report favorably on the use of California st., which is not probable from the outlook of things at present, the data and photographs obtained by the Street and Police Departments would be presented at a hearing before the Ways and Means Committee. The Committee on Legislation of the Newton Board of Aldermen voted last Friday night to oppose the use of California st. as an extension for the Charles River Parkway.

When City Engineer Harvey and Supt. of Street Mahoney went to the Metropolitan Planning Board recently to present against the proposed use of California st. they learned that officials of that Board had the impression that the street does not carry much traffic.

Planning Board Against Parkway On California St.

The Newton Planning Board last week adopted a resolution disapproving of the use of California st. at Nonantum as part of the route for the proposed extension of the Charles River Parkway between Watertown and Waltham. The following resolution was sent to Mayor Childs by the Planning Board:

"Resolved: That if as reported the Commonwealth intends to develop its parkway to make use of California st., the Planning Board acting as a Board of Survey is opposed to any such use of California st."

Oppose Zone Shift At Upper Falls

Upper Falls residents appeared before a public hearing at city hall on February 3rd to oppose the petition of Antonio Accetullo to have property at the corner of Eliot st. and Eliot ter. changed from private residence to business zone. The petition was opposed by Alderman John Temperley, Herbert Kellaway of the Planning Board, George McLaughlin of Hale st., and James O'Hearn of Eliot st. Mr. Kellaway stated that Upper Falls has 14,530 linear feet of business zones now as compared with 11,520 for Newton Centre, and 120 for Newton Highlands, both of which are larger villages. Mr. O'Hearn said there are 27 stores in Upper Falls and 8 vacant stores. A protest signed by 32 Upper Falls residents received objecting the petition.

Biennial Election Hearing At City Hall Monday Eve.

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen in City Hall on Monday night, February 15, a hearing will be held on the bill filed in the Legislature by Representative Warren K. Brimblecom to provide for biennial municipal elections in Newton. The three other Representatives from Newton have endorsed the bill, and it has also received the endorsement of numerous civic organizations and prominent citizens of the city. If this bill is approved by the Legislature, the question of its acceptance or rejection will be placed on the ballot, to be voted upon by the voters of Newton. If the referendum is approved by the voters, municipal elections in Newton will be held biennially instead of annually. The Mayor and 21 members of the Board of Aldermen would be elected biennially for 2 year terms. The seven members of the School Committee would be elected at the first election following the acceptance of the referendum for terms of two or four years; those candidates receiving the highest number of votes to serve the longer terms. At succeeding elections the members of the School Committee would be elected for four year terms. They are now elected for three year terms.

Last Friday night a meeting of members of the Democratic Ward and City Committee was held at the Newton Free Library. Joseph Dargon, chairman of the committee presided. Those present discussed the bill filed in the Legislature to have elections in Newton changed from yearly to biennially. Especial interest was given to that part of the bill which changes the tenure of office of school committee members from 3 to 4 years. It was voted to have the committee represented at the hearing on this bill before the Board of Aldermen on February 15 and at the hearing before the Legislative committee at the State House. A committee of three was appointed to study the bill. This committee included Bernard Farrell, Louis Farmer and Walter Slattery.

On Tuesday Farrell stated that the bill will be opposed by the Democratic city committee and by the Young Democrats Club of Newton. He asked President Floyd of the Board of Aldermen to postpone the hearing scheduled for next Monday night at city hall, but was informed that as public notices had already been printed announcing this hearing, it would have to be held. Farrell said his committee wants more time to study the measure and that he would consult with City Solicitor Bartlett relative to a postponement of the hearing.

Leniency for Gun Toting Wooser

Orreoy Cedrone, 17, of Clinton st., Newton was found guilty in the Superior Court at Cambridge on Wednesday of carrying a revolver without a permit and making a threat on Victoria Dalcandro, a young woman who resides near him on Clinton st. According to police testimony, Cedrone had been friendly with the girl, and when she refused to accompany him on the night of December 31st, he brandished a revolver, fired a shot into the ground and made a threat to the girl. Judge Swift placed Cedrone on probation.

THE GREATEST NATION IN THE WORLD

The proposal to increase the number of judges of the United States Supreme Court has focused the attention of all citizens upon the constitutional form of our democracy. It has become more than a partisan issue, as witnessed by the fact that many Democrats as well as most leading Republicans have openly and vociferously protested. Our forefathers established this government with three distinct and separate branches in an effort to provide a proper balance. The administrative branch shall not usurp the functions of the legislative nor the judicial—the legislative shall not usurp the powers of the administrative or legislative branches. The power to appoint an additional number of judges to the Supreme Court bench should not be extended to the point where the Chief Executive, no matter who he may be, would have the opportunity to control or influence the judgment of that court. We trust that the voice of public opinion will deter Congress from upsetting the balance that has brought our Ship of State through one hundred and sixty years of progress to its proud position as the greatest nation in the world.

LINCOLN'S BIRTHDAY

Today is the birthday of the Great Emancipator, Abraham Lincoln, sixteenth president of the United States. Perhaps the greatest of Lincoln's attributes was his humaneness and his adherence to human rights. Today we hear a great deal of the right of humans over the right of property. This right is undeniable—our Constitution guarantees us liberty, freedom, and the pursuit of happiness. But our growth has been linked largely with the development of property. The conflict between human and property rights is thus only a natural consequence of our growth. The problem will only be solved by men with the sincerity, honesty, and uprightness of the character that has endeared Lincoln to the entire nation.

The Newton Chapter of the American Red Cross wishes to thank the citizens and organizations of Newton for their prompt and generous response to the Red Cross call for assistance to flood sufferers.

The American Legion asked for clothing to be left at the Fire Stations and 4 truckloads were sent by freight from Natick. Later a 5th truckload was taken from the stations by a volunteer, George W. Crosbie, Jr., of Newton Centre and shipped with clothing of the Boston Metropolitan Chapter. Trucks were donated by Mr. Cahill of the Newton Motor Sales Company and Mr. Mahoney of the Street Department. Firemen and police helped greatly with the work. The National Red Cross says the immediate need for clothing has been taken care of and for people now to consider their local needs. Clothing in Newton can be left at the Adams School on Watertown and Crafts sts., Newtonville.

Contributions to date are $12,105,000—which means that Newton has filled its quota of $12,000. Every cent of the money sent in for flood relief has been turned over to Washington for this purpose and any expense incurred was taken from the local chapter funds. Since the week contributions have come from the following organizations:

$100—Newton Police, collected by Capt. Vedicchio and Officer Cody.

$50—Newton Post No. 48, American Legion.

$40—Stearns School and Stearns School Centre Mothers' Club—combined.

Fessenden School, Claffin School, Adams School employees, Immanuel Baptist Church, New Church Sunday School, Second Church, Temple Emanuel Sunday School, Newton Hebrew Ladies' Aid Society, Lydia Partridge Whiting Chapter, D. A. R., West End Literary Club of Newton Highlands, Newton Highlands Woman's Club, Newton Centre Woman's Club.

One individual gift said "In grateful and affectionate memory of G. C. W." Many givers sent extra donations to help with Newton's quota. Checks which came from California, Florida and other distant places showed that Newton citizens have a very strong sense of loyalty to their Home Chapter and to the City. The Red Cross greatly appreciates this feeling and thanks everyone.

Contributions may still be sent to 12 Austin Street, Newtonville, as there is still a further need for funds.

Newton District Nursing Assn.

With roads clear this winter, the Newton District Nurses have had a much easier time getting around to their patients and Well-Baby Conferences, a busy month with grippies; 1014 calls, 275 more than in January of last year.

The Education Committee headed by Mrs. Marshall had for this month's speaker, Miss Gladys L. Crain, epidemiologist of the Massachusetts State Department of Public Health, who spoke on the subject—Syphilis and Gonorrhea. These two diseases are being discussed more openly by intelligent people than ever before.

The Scandinavians have practically wiped out this scourge from those peoples by right thinking and teaching within 15 years.

Since Dr. Thomas Perrin in Washington, D. C., talked to 900 representatives of Health Centres and his article in the Readers Digest, people have been aroused. Dr. Perrin says there are 12,000,000 cases of syphilis in this country, 518,000 new cases per year. There are 30 Group Centres where cases can be reported in this State—names not given. Up-to-date free literature for the public and doctors will be furnished by the State Department of Public Health. Massachusetts is the first State to show a decline in these diseases, with efforts towards this end just beginning.

ALL NEWTON MUSIC SCHOOL

The pupils of the Claffin School Branch of the All Newton Music School will give their first pupils' recital of the season at the Assembly Hall of the Claffin School, Newtonville, on Friday evening, Feb. 19th, at 7:30 o'clock. The pupils' parents and their friends are invited to attend, as well as the general public, who would be interested to see the work that the students are doing. No admission fee is charged, to any of the Music School concerts.

Letters To The Editor

CRYSTAL LAKE SKATING

(Editor's Note—The following letter is a copy of one sent to Superintendent of Playground Ernest Hermann which the author requests be published with the comment that it undoubtedly expresses the sentiments of many others who enjoyed the unusual experience of skating over the entire surface of Crystal Lake.)

— COPY —

Sunday, February 7, 1937.
Mr. Ernest Hermann,
105 Tyler Terrace,
Newton Centre, Mass.

My Dear Sir:

I cannot properly tell you how much I personally enjoyed skating on Crystal Lake today after you allowed the rope barrier to be taken down thereby giving to the skating public the much coveted freedom of the entire surface of the Lake.

A fine Wednesday in every respect—ample thickness of ice—the smoothest of glassy surfaces all contributing to the fuller enjoyment of the skating art, in a larger degree than for many years past.

My record of 51 consecutive years (one exception only) of skating on Crystal Lake is my excuse for writing to you.

The very many expressions of appreciation which I heard bear testimony to what I have written.

Yours respectfully and sincerely,
EDGAR B. SAMPSON,
271 Lake Avenue,
Newton Highlands.

Kiwanis Club

The members of the Newton Kiwanis Club, along with several out of town guests, were honored on Tuesday this week by the presence of Mr. Charles F. Horan, General Manager of the Arrow Mutual Liability Insurance Company of Watertown.

Mr. Horan, as a young man, made an extensive study of Industrial Hygiene and Public Health, his research work carrying him through the University of Pittsburgh, Harvard College, and Massachusetts Institute of Technology. His talk was entitled, "Industry's Earlier Efforts in Social Security." Starting with the enactment of the Workmen's Compensation Act, developed in interesting fashion studded with indisputable facts. His statistics proved that industry is not the cruel oppressor of mankind. Among other things he showed that the automobile kills many more people annually than are fatally injured in manufacturing processes.

The authenticated figures also showed, even in greatest periods of prosperity, that industry employed but a small percentage of all employables, and this fully developed the point that it is fallacious reasoning to expect industry to take on most of the eleven millions now said to be unemployed.

Digressing a bit from his topic, the speaker at least mildly inferred all are too prone to catch on to a phrase such as Social Security—agree it is probably a good thing, but never take the time, thought, or trouble to analyze what its meaning and import.

President Bill White presided, and among other duties, called upon Past President Charles A. Mahoney to induct into Kiwanis its newest member, David Gillespie of Waldo Bros.

Rotary Club

At the regular weekly meeting of the Newton Rotary Club held Monday, Feb. 8, 1937, Kenneth B. Backman, Manager of the Boston Better Business Bureau, was the speaker. His subject was "The Importance of Policing Itself and its business." He sounded a note of warning to business that unless it established and sustained higher standards of business ethics than have prevailed heretofore, the Federal Government would take over the policing job. Mr. Backman referred to two lines where in the government had found it necessary to step in to curb some of the business practices carried on, namely, the financial field and food and drug industry. He advised retail buyers to be careful and scrutinize the labels, especially on patent medicines.

Newton Republican, Feb. 20, 1875.

A pleasant party of 16 couples from the Baptist Society in Newton took a sleigh ride on Monday night to Bailey's Hotel, South Natick. The evening was fine, the full moon gave plenty of light, and the merry hearts in the company made jollity reign. The size of the big sleigh made it necessary that there should be close packing to accommodate the company, which was not objectionable on so cold a night. At South Natick an excellent supper was enjoyed by all.

Our enterprising fish dealer at Newton in order to keep up his stock the past week, made a trip to Gloucester, went out 3 miles on the ice, found a cargo of fish and hauled it to shore on a hand sled. He was offered $20 for the lot by a Boston dealer, but refused.

The horse of Mr. Woodward of Newton Centre while coming down Centre street hill became frightened by boys coasting. The horse ran away, threw Mr. Woodward out, broke a lamp post and ruined the sleigh.

Tuesday afternoon a horse attached to a pump owned by Livermore Brothers, started from Mr. Robinson's yard at Seaverns st., Auburndale, ran along Lexington and Waltham sts. to West Newton, strutting meat along the way. The pump was demolished and the horse badly bruised.

Officer Davis the new policeman in North Village (Nonantum) presents a very favorable appearance as he passes over his beat. He is a fine looking, able bodied officer, and judging from the prompt manner in which he performs his duty, he will be the means of keeping good order in the village.

It is a general belief among the people of Newton and Watertown that the part of Watertown which lies on the Newton side of the Charles river was once part of the city of Newton, and many years ago was ceded to Watertown under an agreement that the latter town would maintain and keep in repair the bridge between the two places. This is a mistake. Formerly that part of the river which the bridge crosses was a valuable fishing ground. It is at the head of tide water and in their season bass, shad, alewives, frost fish and smelts were found in great abundance. The right to fish there was leased out by the town and the fishery continued valuable down to the beginning of this century.

An old history called "Wood's New England Prospect," written in 1633 says,—"A little below this fall of waters (at Watertown) the inhabitants of Watertown have built a weir to catch fish, wherein they take great store of shad and alewives. On two tides they have gotten 100,000 fishes." After the towns of Waltham and Weston were cut out of Watertown some controversy arose regarding the maintenance of this fishing. In 1647 the General Court had directed that the bridge over the Charles be built and kept in repair by Watertown, and its maintenance had been a heavy burden on her. She now claimed that Waltham and Weston did not do their share in keeping the bridge in repair. They, in return, claimed they did not receive the full benefit of their ancient right of the fishery. The dispute was continued over many years and was ended by the granting to Watertown all the right in the fishery on condition that she maintain the bridge. Thus we see that while there was a controversy about the matter, it was with Waltham and Weston, and not with Newton as has been generally supposed.

50 YEARS AGO

Newton Graphic, Feb. 12, 1887.

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday evening Alderman Harwood presented the petition of the Newton Electric Light and Power Company stating that they are prepared to light the streets of the city in a thorough manner, as the Aldermen could see from the lights which had been put up. The petition was referred to the committee on street lights.

The Grand Army Carnival will open in Eliot Hall next Wednesday evening and will continue every afternoon and evening the rest of the week. The chief marshal for the carnival is Henry E. Cobb.

The Highway Committee of the Aldermen held a conference with the officers of the Street Railway Company on Friday night to talk over the plans for the road.

25 YEARS AGO

Newton Graphic, Feb. 9, 1912.

The proposition advanced to the Board of Aldermen in the matter of the Weston bridge is one worthy of careful consideration. Last year Mayor Hatfield advocated taking steps for the construction of a new bridge which would cost from $50,000 to $100,000, a large part of which would be paid by Newton. There was much opposition to this plan as it was pointed out that the congestion at the bridge is not caused by Newton citizens, but to the large amount of automobile travel, and the gathering of spectators to view the river and the canoes. The committee now desires estimates obtained of the cost of hanging sidewalks to the present structure—a plan which would relieve the danger now existing at far less cost than a new bridge.

Powers' Paragraphs

The City of Newton has the reputation of being one of the most attractive residential communities in the United States. Its fame in this respect is even more than nation wide. It did not gain this distinction accidentally. Both nature and man combined to evolve Newton into the Garden City. The topography of the territory included in Newton, bordered as it is by the Charles River, was ideal for attractive residential development.

The natural beauty of Newton attracted persons seeking home sites a century ago when the Boston and Worcester Railroad was built from Boston to this city. Fifty years ago an admirer of Newton wrote—"the purity of the air among these rural highlands and glens makes Newton the healthiest city in Massachusetts. Over and through all there is a noticeable air of cleanliness and order. A recent traveler from the West remarked that 'the Boston host can take his guest on such a drive through the Newtons as cannot be matched in this country, over miles of roads shaded on either side by grand old trees, which stand like sentinels in front of a succession of the finest private estates in this country, and every one of them maintained in a high degree of perfection.' This nest of Newtons is one of the most beautiful spots on earth, and reminds one of the suburbs of Paris."

This was the Newton through which 50 years ago was built the Circuit branch of the Boston & Albany Railroad to develop in the South side of the city villages which equalled the older villages on the main line of the railroad. The railroad was a determining factor in the growth of Newton. Each mile a railroad station was built. Some at villages already established and at other places where villages about and radiating out from the railway station. This caused a unique and desirable development of the city. Each village had its churches, schools, small business section, and became a distinct social and political unit, units which stimulated civic pride, but which worked unselfishly together for the mutual welfare of Newton as a whole.

The rapid increase in population of this country caused a tremendous growth in Boston and its suburbs during the early years of this century, and Newton kept pace with other communities. About eighteen years ago the erection of a large factory South of the tracks between Newton and Newtonville and the building of blocks of stores on Commonwealth ave. at Newton Centre, aroused Newton residents to the fact that their city was threatened with industrial and business developments which would soon ruin it as an outstanding residential community. As a result, in 1922 a zoning ordinance was adopted by the City of Newton which restricted the greater part of the city from manufacturing or business structures. Newton was the first place in Greater Boston to adopt zoning restrictions and the results soon proved the wisdom of its act. A building boom started in this city and continued until the depression which caused thousands of new homes, valued at many millions of dollars, to be erected in the Newtons. Persons who desired attractive homes in an exceptional community, located in Newton because they believed they were assured of protection from the invasion of factories and mercantile buildings in the vicinity of their neighborhoods.

It was to be expected that attempts would be made to have zones changed so that persons desiring to profit by exploiting this rapidly growing city could erect business blocks or gasoline stations in residence zones. And many such attempts were made; a large percentage in vain by non-residents of Newton. To the credit and foresight of Boards of Aldermen in this city from 1923 onward, not only was the zoning ordinance maintained, but it was strengthened by changing general and private residence zones to single residence zones, and latterly by changing some business and manufacturing zones to residence zones.

It was the privilege of the author to have been a member of the Board of Aldermen several years and to have had a part in raising instead of lowering the bars on zoning in Newton. One of our fellow members on the Board was William B. Baker of Ward 3 who served from 1924 to 1928, inclusive. Mr. Baker for several years was chairman of the Claims and Rules Committee of the Aldermen and in that capacity was a vital factor in upholding the zoning ordinance. He consistently used his influence and vote to support the ordinance, and for this service merited the appreciation of citizens of Newton.

We were greatly surprised, therefore, to listen to Mr. Baker on last Wednesday night at a public hearing in City Hall, advocate letting down the bars on zoning in Newton. Appearing as a representative of the West Newton Co-operative Bank, he argued that most of Washington st., in this city, including all of Washington st. between Newton and West Newton, be placed in a business zone.

Mr. Baker contended that because Washington st. is an arterial highway, it should properly be zoned for business. He asserted that because of the city's rapid growth, more business sections are needed in the Newtons. He stated that not a single house had been built along Washington st. since the zoning ordinance was passed. The petition he favored asks that properties on Washington and Crafts sts., and near the junction of these two streets, be changed from general residence to business zone. Incidentally, Mr. Baker was the only person at the hearing to favor the petition. Nearly 400 residents of Newton who were present, opposed it. Mr. Baker assumed the responsibility for the petition having been filed. He said that as a director of the West Newton Co-operative Bank, he had suggested the filing of the petition. The reason is—that a few months ago the bank foreclosed a mortgage on a parcel of property at the corner of Washington and Crafts sts., and was not desirous of taking a loss on this real estate. Next week we shall endeavor to show the fallacy of Mr. Baker's views on zoning.

By L. D. G. BENTLEY

Safely Unknown

It troubles me to think that there are those who dismiss St. Valentine's Day and all the pleasant things that go with it as all nonsense. These same people have a way of disparaging the sentimentalities of all special days, anniversaries and celebrations, etc. Some of them couldn't get a dainty valentine except by purchase unless they waylaid the letter-carrier and snatched one from his bag. As far as the day goes this year I may have to "thumb" a valentine myself but I intend to eat heartily of candy hearts—wintergreen flavor preferred.

I like St. Valentine's Day because it gives the bashful admirer opportunity to do his best work. He is actually brave. He can send to his lady love the most loveless message ever penned and never blush. He can say it with flowers, confectionery or faint heart can be bold as a lion when he doesn't have to sign his name.

Juvenile Business Note

Fortunate the household wherein one or more members have not lain prone with that malady which possesses several names and is equally insufferable under any. The situation which caused your correspondent to crack down was at its worst when two little girls appeared at the front door and asked if they might enter and "get warm for a few minutes." Assured they were welcome to enjoy the hospitality of the humble dwelling they were likewise warned of sickness within its walls. Would they not prefer a home where there was only health and happiness. They would, and blushing their thanks, ran off.

Ten minutes later a small boy was at the door. His was strictly a business call. Without delay he asked, "Do you want to hire me to do some errands for you? I understand there's sickness in the house."

Getting-Over It

Once partly loosened from the grip of temporary invalidism or from the grip or grippies or what-have-you, there comes voracity for literature or such printed matter called by that name by the more charitably inclined. "Isn't there anything to read in the house?" is the first oracular evidence that the patient is on the road to impatient recovery. A grouch is one sign of improvement in health and greed for books, magazines or papers is another. Some frightened wives, after frantically ransacking the house, will telephone appeals to neighbors. "O, dear," the quivering voice reports, "Frank has got to stay in bed and keep quiet and he's just wild. For goodness sakes have you got anything to lend him to read?"

I would not preach parsimony but believe I should warn prospective lenders that books borrowed under such circumstances are seldom returned. The reason is not ingratitude. Much more probable that the patient, once recovered, is so jubilant that all unpleasant thoughts of the past are promptly thrust from his mind, along with the pleasant ones. Thus all memories of the days he was laid up fade away, including obligation to return borrowed articles.

More About Nosegays

Inquiry has been made as to what success, if any, has resulted from my attempt to organize the men who wear flowers in their coat lapel. I wish to point out that it was not my intention to personally gather such individuals together in one strong and fragrant band, but merely thought it would be an excellent idea if they should become associated. My reply as to progress is that such matters invariably demand a great deal of time and therefore accomplishments may not be expected at too early a date. Since my last message to the world on this important topic it has struck me that the Summer would be a better time for a convention of these blossom-wearers. Then there would be available the product of one's own garden and this might induce those, otherwise reluctant, to participate in what would doubtless prove a grand floral parade.

Oddments

No thoughtful person will fail to ponder for a few moments on the anniversary of the birth of President Abraham Lincoln and wonder as to his probable reaction to the foibles, follies and fol-de-rol of the present time.

A word of gratitude to the 1937 Legislature for having speedily put an end to all proposals for State lotteries, thus ending for a year at least the din of useless argument.

A Woman Advises Men About Women

JOSEPHINE PEARSON, in the New York Woman, writes:

"Funny thing how a woman will heap on the admiration if it's not demanded of her. And ask for advice if it's not forced on her. And help save a man's money if he trusts her with a share in it."

Annual Meeting of Central Cong. Church

The annual meeting of Central Congregational church, held Jan. 21, considered and adopted a committee report presented by William A. McCormick for observance in honor of the 70th anniversary of the church, which occurs in 1938. Officers and committees presented reports. The present membership of the church is 548. Fifty members were received during the year, while 15 were dismissed by letter and there were twelve deaths.

The meeting rose while the pastor offered prayer in memory of those who had passed away. The Sunday school has an enrollment of 477 members, over 100 young people are working in the Service league, distributing copies of the church paper and performing many other services. Over 100 singers are included in the four church choirs. The deaconesses had made 1150 calls during the year.

The treasurer's report showed expenditures for the year of $19,137, while $4,526 in addition had been paid out in benevolences. All current bills for the year were paid with a small balance left over. The church debt was reduced $1325. Regret was expressed at the absence of Miss Lillian West, church organist, who has gone away for a much needed rest. The pastor, Rev. Randolph S. Merrill, gave an inspiring message, speaking of the things he hoped to see accomplished soon. The director of religious education, Joseph R. Ludwison, told of the work among the young people, speaking particularly of the well qualified group now engaged in this work. The evening closed with beautiful motion pictures, taken by Chauncey W. Waldron, including scenes from the Arnold Arboretum, a film showing the life of a family of robins, also of the gulls on an island near Mount Desert. The business meeting was preceded by dinner served to a crowded dining room.

Newton Girls at Stoneleigh Complete Projects

Eight Newton girls, all freshmen at Stoneleigh College, Rye Beach, New Hampshire, returned to classes early this week after completing a five weeks' occupational project related to their resident course of studies. They are Miss Jean Arend, Miss Florence Ames, Miss Marjorie Ashenden, Miss Katherine Cudding, Miss Katherine Hillman, Miss Jean Snyder, Miss Margaret Wilson and Miss Jane Rabbit.

Five of these girls did general secretarial and office work. Miss Ames was at the Wood Travel Agency in Boston; Miss Arend at the School of Occupational Therapy, also in Boston; and Miss Ashenden at the Technology Christian Association in Cambridge. Miss Hillman worked in the offices of the Noyes Buick Company in Brookline, while Miss Snyder did her work at the Newton Hospital. Miss Cudding, who is interested in commercial drawing, carried on her project at home under the direction of the college art instructor. Miss Rabbit followed her interest in clothing design at the Stern Made Company while Miss Wilson worked in the dress department of E. T. Slatery and Company.

The midwinter project, a definite part of the college program, is required of all students and is supervised by Dr. Elmer D. West, provost and head of the department of psychology and occupational guidance. The project is aimed to help a girl select her vocation and to guide her and her advisors in adapting her studies to her vocational as well as cultural needs.

THE COMMERCIAL & INDUSTRIAL INSTITUTE

NEWTON CORNER, MASS.

Parent-Teacher Clubs Exhibit Interest

Parent-Teacher Clubs in the various sections of Newton have exhibited a very fine interest in the activities of the Newton Traffic Safety Campaign which they all know is for the purpose of creating a Newton Safety Council.

Some have inquired if it will be possible for them to obtain accident spot maps of the City of Newton similar to the one that has been posted at Police Headquarters. Any Parent-Teacher Association in Newton which has a definite and worthy use for such a map can make suitable arrangements with The Commercial and Industrial Institute for procuring such map, with complete information as to how to make it function and serve its intended purpose.

Parent-Teacher Clubs will find that they represent the larger part of Newton citizens who should be way out in front in this Safety Council movement and they will find that if they want to accomplish the most vital and necessary solution to the Safety of Newton children that it must be through the combined efforts of all these bodies with the facts, with education and with enforcement of existing laws and ordinances working hand in hand with proper engineering.

Lynn, Brockton, Quincy and Everett have Safety Councils and there is no good reason why we in Newton cannot have the benefits of this modern "Safety on the Highways" solution.

C. & I. S. And Police Continue Safety Drive

This week there is the continuation of the drive started last week and Chief Hughes is pleased with the co-operation so far extended. It is not the purpose of this Safety Campaign Insert in the GRAPHIC to expound any thoughts or theories except such as may be sent in for publication and it will print such letters as may be helpful in creating a Safety Council. It seems best to continually remind the Newton citizenry that a concerted drive to organize is the first step. To enforce existing laws is the next step and to consider remedial measures as the other step so that there will be that respect for Law and Order which is so fast being ignored and which shall require Education to make it felt.

The Police Department under its able management is covering a large territory in splendid fashion and more good can be accomplished by active co-operation than by passive destructive criticism.

The day of fear of the policeman in the minds of children has long since passed because he is the Little Ones' Friend at every school crossing and he is therefore in such close contact with youth that they grow up to look upon him as a friend.

If you have any problems where policing is the answer, you will always get courteous response and treatment.

Bear in mind that not all matters are Police matters.

How To Organize a Local Safety Council

Why We Need One

The Massachusetts Safety Council, with 16 years' experience in the field of public and industrial safety, believes that no final solution of the serious problem of highway safety confronting us can be reached without constant and concerted effort in each community, coordinated in so far as possible with state-wide work and with that of other communities.

State-Wide Program

The Council has set up a state program. At its headquarters in the Chamber of Commerce Building, Boston, it keeps in touch with the several state departments and the research bureaus that are constantly at work on the highway problem. It gathers statistics. It prepares and prints safety leaflets and posters. It creates state-wide campaigns for the dangerous months of the year, and gives the local committee or council a definite part of the program to carry out.

This state program has a background of three permanent contests in which 125 communities and 128,000 individuals already are participating. These are: The Inter-Community Contest, which works to reduce highway fatalities 7 per cent annually for five years. The Commercial Vehicle Contest, which aims to establish a standard of safe driving for trucks, taxicabs, buses, and salesmen's cars. The Industrial Reduction Contest, supported by plant safety committees throughout the state. In addition to these three contests, the Council maintains a staff of competent consulting industrial engineers and two well trained speakers and organizers in school, playground, and home safety.

Work with Public Authorities
A safety council, whether national, state, or local, has no authority. It cannot of itself put into effect regulations or limitations or enforce safe practices, and it cannot be successful unless it cooperates with existing authority.

The Massachusetts Safety Council is endeavoring to set up a definite program of work to be carried out throughout the year. For example, during August of 1936 the Council conducted a campaign of education of pedestrians in cooperation with the Registrar of Motor Vehicles which, with the invaluable aid given by many of the local committees and all of the local authorities, reduced motor vehicle fatalities by 12 as compared with the same month in 1935, and non-fatal injuries by several hundred.

Selecting Council Members

The type of organization of a local council would probably differ in some degree in every community.

Reduce Pedestrian Accidents

2,288 Persons Killed
76,852 Persons Injured

This is the terrible record of pedestrian accidents in Massachusetts during the past five years.

Speed of pedestrians
Lack of confidence
Defective eyes
Speed—not distance
The dodging rabbit
Night dangers
Safety of children.

Safety In Traffic Is Paramount Need

Safety in traffic is the most important factor in highway safety. It is important because most fatalities, injuries, and property damage in which pedestrians and travelers are the victims usually happen in traffic rather than on the open road.

On the open highways, causes of accidents are usually such as cannot be easily controlled or avoided, but the results of open road accidents are helpful in setting up plans for avoiding duplication of similar accidents.

The greatest source of death, injury, and property damage is caused by driving in traffic with the same abandon as is used on the open road and on high-speed highways.

Safety in traffic can never be accomplished in this generation, but a great saving in sorrow from death, in suffering from injury, and in loss from property damage can be made by an educational campaign beginning at once, systematically planned, by authorities who know the law, by those who make the law, by those who enforce the law, and by courts which are supposed to impose sentences on law violators brought to them for prosecution and duly convicted. An educational plan put into operation now will make the next generation life value conscious—but there is nothing that can be done for the fools of today so long as the higher courts void decisions of lower courts, and so long as police cannot and will not seek and get convictions for violations of the law. Safety in traffic always means, Be careful always.

Goodwin Demands Enforcement of Law

Registrar of Motor Vehicles Frank A. Goodwin demanded "law enforcement without coddling and without false display of mercy for those who show no mercy" in his weekly report made public yesterday.

He reported automobiles killed 16 persons on Massachusetts highways last week, six fewer than the previous week and five fewer than during the corresponding period of 1936.

"With one fatality listed during the past week in each of 16 cities and towns," declared Goodwin, "the record is much better than it was a year ago." Goodwin's report also showed 127 convictions for drunken driving in Massachusetts courts last week.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Soul" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, throughout the world, on Sunday, February 14.

The Golden Text is: "Truly my soul waiteth upon God: from him cometh my salvation" (Psalms 62:1). Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "The way of the just is uprightness: thou, most upright, dost weigh the path of the just. Yea, in the way of thy judgments, O Lord, have we waited for thee; the desire of our soul is to thy name, and to the remembrance of thee" (Isaiah 26:7, 8).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "If we wish to follow Christ, Truth, it must be in the way of God's appointing. . . . He, who would reach the source and find the divine remedy for every ill, must not try to climb the hill of Science by some other road. All nature teaches God's love to man, but man cannot love God supremely and set his whole affections on spiritual things, while loving the material or trusting in it more than in the spiritual" (p. 326).

A TRIBUTE TO
ALFRED M. RUSSELL

Within the week we have witnessed the passing of a life-long Newtonian whose quiet, yet effective, work has for many years helped to preserve the health of our citizens. Alfred M. Russell, for thirty-four years the agent of the Board of Health, was that man.

As my neighbor for many years, I know how faithfully and constantly he labored to serve the city's needs. Regardless of winter storm and cold, "Fred" Russell could always be found on the job. Hours never seemed to count for much with him, and many times I have seen him at the close of a hard day, starting off again at night to inspect housing conditions in tenement sections of the city. Despite his arduous task, he carried on in order that the people of Newton might be safeguarded against disease.

In looking back over the years I knew him, there come to mind two characteristics of this man which tell the story best. First: he made it an unending practice to have his office at City Hall open for an hour each Sunday morning throughout the year. The same was true of holidays. He was not obliged to do so, but as he expressed it, "I might be able to help somebody if I showed up at the office." The second instance concerns his use of a city owned automobile that had been assigned to him for use in going about his work. Almost never did he take a member of his family in that car lest somebody might think that he was using city property for his own private use. Such was the integrity and faithfulness of Alfred M. Russell.

The hostesses will be Mrs. Earl P. Stevens and Mrs. Henry Tolman.

Neighborhood Club

Mrs. Richard L. Cooley will return to the Newton Centre Neighborhood Club this year on February 15th, at 7:45 p. m. to speak on "The Fascinating Story of Glass." The meeting will take place at the home of Miss Editha Ewing, 955 Beacon street, Newton Centre. Miss Ewing will be assisted by Miss Eleanor Collins, Miss Nancy Keyes, and Miss Letitia Linsley.

Newtonville Woman's Club

Laurence L. Barber, who has made a thorough study of early New England history with relation to life and habits in the Colonial home, will speak on "The Quest of the Antique," on Club day, February 16th. There will be music by Anna Kovitz, Violinist. Antiques will be shown, and tea will be served in the Gallery.

The Art committee announces a free lecture on Egyptian Art, with guidance at the Boston Art Museum, on Thursday, February 18th, at 2 p. m. The Community Music given by the Newtonville Woman's Club on Sunday afternoon, January 31st, was greatly enjoyed. The opening number was "The Heavens Are Telling," rendered by the Glee Club. Charles Trask was the visiting artist, and the rich and smooth rendering of his baritone solos delighted his audience. Among his selections were "Caro Mio Ben," by Giordano; "The Roadside Fire," by Vaughan Williams; and "I Love Life," by Mana Zucca.

The Kenway String Trio, with Virginia Kenway, Leader and Pianist; Mary Curran, Violinist; and Daphne Kenway, Cellist, played with taste and spontaneity. The Kenway sisters, having lived in Newtonville, have made a marked contribution to the musical life of the community and their progress is followed with interest and appreciation.

The Glee Club is fortunate in having as leader William Ellis Weston, who has an unusual gift in bringing out the fine quality in women's voices. The Cantata, "The Lady of Shalott," by Wilfred Rendell, with its mystic charm and tuneful character, was rendered delightfully by Ernestine Kyle, whose voice has lyric quality, and Sylvia Pettys, whose singing has a dramatic element, interpreted the solos with beauty and power.

The entertainment on Club Day, Tuesday, February 2nd, was also a musical, in charge of Mrs. Randolph S. Merrill, who presented the Orpheus Harp Trio, which includes Nellie Zinner, Gladys Crookford, and Kenneth D. Cundance; also Thelma Jo Fisher, Mezzo Contralto. It was a rare privilege to hear the harp played with the delicacy and brilliancy of these performers. The selections were varied, including old favorites as well as the more modern compositions, and the musicians were most generous in responding to requests. Thelma Jo Fisher was especially effective in her songs with harp duo, "Sarabande," by Rameau; "Ancient Theme," by Gluck; and "O'Donnell a Boo," by the Orpheus Trio, were among the most pleasing selections. "Hills," "In the Stillness of the Night," and "Zueignung," were sung by Miss Fisher, accompanied by Mr. Cundance.

At the dessert-coffee, the pourers were Mrs. E. A. Rust, Mrs. Thirza E. Gammons, and Mrs. J. Mace Andrews. The ushers were Mrs. George I. Whitehead, Mrs. Otho M. Fish, and Mrs. George A. Savage.

Newton Highlands Woman's Club

The Newton Highlands Woman's Club Chorus, directed by Mrs. Thomas D. Ginn, will sing at the regular meeting of the Club which will be held on Tuesday, February 16th, at 2:30 p. m., in the Congregational Parish House, and Mrs. Frank Mansfield Taylor will give her second lecture on Current Events.

On February 17th, at 10 a. m., in the Workshop, Mrs. J. Antonio De Haas will give the second of her series of four talks sponsored by the International Relations committee, of which Mrs. Carl G. Peterson is chairman.

On February 10th, at 4 p. m., also in the Workshop, the last lecture was given in the Child Psychology Course.

Miss Jennie Lee, active in the movement for British Labor, and the youngest member of the House of Commons, spoke on the subject "Do Women Ever Make History?" at the regular meeting of the Club, which was held on Tuesday, February 2nd, at 2:30 p. m., in the Congregational Parish House. One of the outstanding statements made by Miss Lee was that equal suffrage had given women a chance to make history, but that militarism in any country would make them slaves again.

Mrs. J. Antonio De Haas spoke for five minutes on the definite things women can do for peace.

Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club

The members of the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club will be the guests of the ladies of Stone Institute and Newton Home for Aged Women by invitation of the matron, Mrs. Jean Carver, on Monday evening, February 15th, at 7:30 o'clock. The hostesses will provide the entertainment and social functions of the evening. This delightful course, extended to the Upper Falls Club is in token of the friendly relations established during the years, for the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club has had the practice of extending invitations to the ladies of the Institute to attend any and all meetings of the Club during the year.

Auburndale Woman's Club

In spite of the very inclement weather of last Monday evening, February 8th, members and guests of the American Home committee of the Auburndale Woman's Club gathered at Bragdon Hall, Lasell Junior College, to welcome their visiting speaker, Mrs. Lawrence L. Fidalgo, vice-chairman of the committee, and a member of the Club's Program committee. Mrs. Fidalgo was introduced by Mrs. William White, a member of the American Home committee, and gave a most informative and entertaining talk on the subject, "Tried and Tested Home Economic Facts." Mrs. Fidalgo, prior to her marriage, conducted a Home Economics program, over WBZ, WBZA, and WIAZ, for the National Broadcasting Company for several years as Miss Yvonne Cooke.

"A wife, if she is clever, will manage both men and menus equally well," and "Freedom and privacy, common sense and discretion are great aids to pleasant home life," were two bits of wisdom that the speaker vouchsafed to her audience. "Every homemaker has a library, to contain good reference books or bulletins on all home economic subjects. 'It isn't so important to have all this knowledge in your mind as to have it on your finger tips,' she said. 'It is important to know where to find the answers to the hundreds of problems that are always arising for the homemaker.'"

A way of budgeting was outlined, with the humorous suggestion that a column be added to the budget book, to be headed G. O. K., which meant, "Goodness Only Knows." This was a column for those fifty-cent pieces and quarters that could not be located, but, warned Mrs. Fidalgo, "don't overdo it, or this column won't be a chuckle; it will be a sob."

The second part of Mrs. Fidalgo's lecture included a treatise on information labeling, and the third and last was on "How to Spend the Food Dollar," in which the speaker outlined what foods should be included in the daily menus, and why.

In closing, Mrs. Fidalgo remarked that perhaps some day in the future, homemakers as a body will be able to persuade the census-taker not to place after the names of housekeepers the descriptive phrase, "No occupation."

Coffee and sandwiches were served, with members of the American Home committee serving.

Day Jr. High School

On Thursday the Frank A. Day was the sponsor of the Newton School Days radio program which has been coming over WBZ on frequent Thursdays, and which is pupil planned and acted. Members of one of Miss Paul's social studies classes put on a play dealing with the gold rush of '49.

Those taking part included: Scott Don, Helen Colan, Elizabeth Sherman, Carolyn Spencer, Philip Teschner, Donald Holmes, Thayer Gallison, George Pattison, Edward Farr, Bradford King, Janet McEwan, and James Coletti. Miss Paul and Mr. Read of the faculty directed the activity.

Last Friday's assembly consisted of three short movies which were presented through the courtesy of the New England Telephone & Telegraph Company. One was a detective play, another a nature picture, and the third a short and entertaining exposition on the making of a telephone. Each movie was enthusiastically received.

Chinese pajamas, pointed daggers, long-legged dragons, all needed for "The Stolen Prince," the Drama Club play. In some such fashion a last minute S O S from Miss Wright for properties was broadcast on Monday.

The performance is tonight at 7:45 o'clock in the School Auditorium.

On Wednesday, the Day will be the host to Mr. Hayden Morgan, the new Director of Music in the Newton Schools, Miss Sanderson, his assistant, Mr. Spaulding, director of instrumental music and the teachers of junior high school music. Plans for a combined all-Newton vocal and instrumental concert will be discussed.

Newton H. S.

Back in the antediluvian era of the Newton High School, in 1910 to be exact, was born the first Newton High School Yearbook, The Annual. Under the leadership of the first editor-in-chief, Paul H. Smart, the forerunner of The Newtonian was planned, printed and given to the world for its stamp of approval. That year Mr. Enoch C. Adams was principal and to him was the first book dedicated.

Years passed and The Annual gave birth to The Newtonian, the present annual publication of the Newton High School. In 1930, the supervision of this literary work was transferred to Mr. Sterling Williams from Mr. Keeney. And through the years The Newtonian grew.

This year's Newtonian promises to be bigger and better in every way. To quote Jane Dealy, this year's editor-in-chief: "As usual, the Newtonian is promised to be new and original, but this year we absolutely guarantee the promise. It will be decidedly different, and, we hope, far better than ever before." The planning and layout of the entire book are new. Senior pictures and club pictures will be differently arranged. The feature section will be larger and better in every way. Personal ambitions will be printed again this year.

Leon Lipson, Francis Donovan, Malcolm Hardy, Evelyn Waddell, Betty Ferguson, Barbara Bancroft, Flora Mariotti and Olive Cunningham are all working hard on the department of which they are the editors. This year's editor-in-chief is Jane Dealy, the business manager is Chester Newey, and his assistant is Earl Carlton. To date over 600 students have signed for their pictures with the Brown Studio of Brookline. The Newtonian's official photographer.

To Stage "Three-Cornered Moon"
The Drama Club has selected "Three-Cornered Moon," by Gertrude Tonkonogy to be presented March 5th and 6th. This play was put on the scene two or three years ago with Claudette Colbert taking the lead.

The casting of the play turned out to be a difficult job for the judges and the coach, Miss Louise Wetherbee, due to the great number of very capable aspirants. As Elizabeth, the leading lady, has a very complex nature and is really six or seven different people in one it would take someone extremely clever to do the part convincingly—and the final choice, Ann Reynolds, fulfills all requirements. The part of the inefficient and flighty mother will be carried by Louise Mann. In the role of hero is William Copeland, while John Perry will play the part of his temperamental rival, Donald. The three brothers are Jack Koughan, Stuart Stern and James Jamison. A fine character role is that of the silly cheap New Yorker, Kitty and Gladys Coffin get into the right atmosphere to perfection.

Although her lines are short, the character of Jenny, because of her Czechoslovakian accent is a rather intricate one, however, Lois Currie is expected to do them as should be done.

Mr. Haydn Morgan Introduces New Program
Under the spirited leadership of Mr. Haydn Morgan, new director of music in Newton Schools, many new and purposeful plans are being propounded for musical opportunities in the near future. The objectives as set forth by the far-thinking Mr. Morgan are manifold and illustrate in part the future attitude of this department.

Music has a desirable influence upon behavior and moral phases in character building, and the fulfillment of Mr. Morgan's plans should mark a new and progressive step in Newton High School's culturally educational opportunities.

FORTE BREAKS JUMP RECORD AS NEWTON WINS

Taking first place in every event except the shotput, Newton High's supercharged track team defeated Lowell High, 52-25, last Friday at Newtonville. Paul Forte won the 30-yard dash in record time, 3.8s, then won the broad jump at 10 ft. 6 in., breaking by a good margin the 22-year-old record of P. L. Kelley, '15, whose best mark was 10 ft. 2 3/4 in. Lowell's victory in the relay was something of a gift, as Don Enoch did not enter his fastest combination, but the victors took all points in the shotput, Smith winning the event from two teammates at 41 ft. 2 in.

Al Parkhurst, veteran distance runner, who has been on the sidelines until lately this year, won his first start of the winter in the 1000-yard run, loping in ahead of Lowell's Carmen Bova in the good time of 2m 30s. This was a real feather in Parkhurst's war-bonnet, since Bova was second in the Northeastern 1000 last week and well under the old record. Also won in fast time was the 600, Joe Gallant leading home Elmer Ross in 1:21.2. The 300-yard run produced an all-Newton finish, Bud Hines, Capt. Bob Muther and Jerry Allen finishing in that order after the times for various heats were checked. Hines' time was 35.9s.

William "Smitty" Pescosolido, who became a hero overnight by making his high jump record last week in the Boston Garden, won the hurdles from a couple of more experienced rivals, Gerry Cole and Bill Wood of Lowell, then shared the high jump honors with Mark Messier at 5 ft. 9 in. Calahan was a handy third, making a sweep of the points for Newton. Forte had nearly a yard advantage over Wood of Lowell in the dash final, and Bud Hines took third place points.

Form Inter-City League For Table Tennis Play

Of great interest to table tennis fans in Massachusetts is the formation of an inter-city league. Teams entered are from Newton, Springfield, Cambridge, Provincetown, New Bedford, Fitchburg and Worcester. The first match was played between Newton and Springfield, Jan. 31st, at the Newton Table Tennis Club, Newton winning 14 to 9. Newton's second home match will be with Provincetown, Feb. 21st. Interest in Newton's team is centered in Leslie Lowry, a sixteen-year-old boy, who holds the state championship of Illinois as well as the Greater Boston title. In spite of the fact that all cities have strong teams, Newton has a more than even chance of winning the Massachusetts Table Tennis Association prize.

Of interest to women in table tennis is a tournament, bridge and tea to be held weekly at the Newton Table Tennis Club for members and their guests. This is an innovation, but with the ladies awakened enthusiasm for the game, demand for outside competition is keen.

He is a member of the frosh basketball team, and is a president of one of the freshman dormitories under the new self-government system of freshmen.

All Make Mistakes

"All men make mistakes," said Hi Ho, the sage of Chinatown, "but a reputation for superior wisdom permits reference to them as miscalculations."

Camp F. A. Day Preparing For Summer Season

Enrollment for Camp Frank A. Day began immediately after the Camp Reunion which was held on December 28th. Up to the present time over eighty boys have requested applications. Early registration at Camp Day is due to the fact that each year it has been necessary to refuse applications because of complete enrollment. Again this year the Camp Committee has decided not to enlarge the Camp. The capacity is 28 Midgets, 63 Juniors and 49 Seniors. A large number of last year's Campers have reserved places for next summer.

Plan are being laid for a more advanced and complete program of education and home cooperation. Several men who are specialists in the camping field will be added to the staff. A new department of Camp-tivity will be one of the features of the summer. Creative camping and elective subjects in Naturelore and Craftsmanship will be featured on the program. A great deal of stress will be placed on instruction in all kinds of athletics. Mr. O'Donnell, Director of the Waterfront, will place considerable emphasis on sailing and expert handling of boats, as well as making sure that the boys progress rapidly in the art of swimming.

The entire Junior Camp is being rebuilt. New tents will be added and campfire sites will be laid out. Plans are being made to install a dishwasher in the kitchen, and new skylights and ventilators have already been placed in the dining hall to give greater ventilation.

Horseback Riding will again be under the direction of Riding Instructor Jim Keefe and another Horse Show and Field Day will be held. Mr. Marvin B. Perry, a member of the Camp Committee, will make a study to determine the needs of the Library. It is expected that many of the present books will be discarded and new ones added so that the Library will be of more practical value to the boys while at Camp.

The "Melvin Lane Memorial" will be completed before Camp opens. The second Sunday of Camp will be "Memorial Sunday" for those Campers, Counselors, and others who have been connected with the Camp and have passed over to the fuller life.

NEWTON SKATING CARNIVAL

Newton Legion Guards To Compete At Portland On Saturday, March 6

The Newton Legion Guards, the Drill Team unit of Newton Post, No. 48, American Legion, have been invited to enter into prize drill competition, in the Grand Military Ball and Competitive Drill, to be held in Exposition Building, Portland, Maine.

The Newton Legion Guards were organized in 1934 by a group of enthusiastic members of Newton Post, No. 48, American Legion, under the inspiration of Past Commander Francis Barry and Bart J. Morrisroe. The Guards were named in honor tham Post, American Legion, on April 24, 1936.

The Newton Legion Guards won a second prize of $30, in the Drill Team Division of the Dedication Parade, held on May 10, 1936, at the opening of the General Clarence R. Edwards on Saturday, March 6, 1937. The Newton Legionnaires will be the guests of the famous Kora Legion of Honor, the champion drill team of the Ancient Arabic Order Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, of Portland, Maine. The Maine drill group is composed entirely of Legionnaires.

A demonstration of baton twirling, with a special performance with the lighted batons, will be presented by Miss Jean P. Budding, of Newton at the drill. Miss Budding has an enviable record in drum major competition. At the present time, she is drum major at Newton High School, drum major of the DeMolay Band, Newtonville, and also drum major of the Rainbow Patrol. In 1936, Miss Budding was the winner of the Junior Drum Major Contest, at Norumbega Park, Auburndale. During 1934 and 1935, Miss Budding was Massachusetts State Champion Drum Major. In 1936, Miss Budding won a medal with the Elsie Janis Drum Corps. At Portland, Maine, Miss Budding and her mother will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Sylvan Shurtleff.

of two military units which have brought fame to Newton in the past. How many citizens of the Garden City remember the Elliott Guards, who served in the days of Sixty-Three with Company B of the Forty-Seventh Massachusetts Volunteers? Quite a few can recall the popular Clavin Guards, formed in 1870 by fifty young men of Newton, who petitioned Governor Clavin of Massachusetts for permission to organize a militia company.

The first public appearance of the Newton Legion Guards was in the Memorial Day Parade, on May 30, 1935. The Guards were reviewed by Mayor Sinclair Weeks from the steps of City Hall.

The first competitive drill, in which the Guards participated, was at the Annual State Convention of the American Legion, at Lowell, Mass., on August 24, 1935. The Newton Guards were awarded third prize of $25.

First Prize, a Silver Cup, was awarded to the Guards, at the competitive drill, held as part of the celebration of Defense Night, sponsored by Walbridge. This prize was awarded for general appearance, marching, and maneuvering.

First Prize was awarded in 1936 to the Newton Guards at the Boston Arena, in the Legion Drill Team Group, at the Drill Competition, held annually under the auspices of the Military Order of the World War.

The Guards won second prize of $40, at the Annual State Convention of the American Legion, held at Springfield, Mass., on August 27, 1936.

The roster of the Newton Guards is as follows: Captain J. Joseph Ward, 1st Lt. Geo. Henrikus, 2nd Lt. J. J. Pendergast, 1st Sgt. and Adj. Carl P. Peterson, Business Manager Bart J. Morrisroe, Publicity Manager; Frank P. Frazier and Comrades Ernest J. Carver, Henry Chandonat, Frank Gaw, Joseph McHugh, William Maloney, Geo. Parsons, Fred Perkins, G. F. Seiferth, Walter Towle, Joseph Vachon, Wayne Walcott, Ed. White, Henry Dath, Frank Grace, Oswald McCourt, Charles P. Manning, Howard Smith, Clovis L. Thibault, John Woodward and John McDonald.

Old Snow Removal Ordinance Killed

The Newton Board of Aldermen on Monday night voted to abolish the ordinance which for about 60 years has compelled owners and occupants of properties in this city to remove snow from improved sidewalks in many sections of the city. In its place, the Board adopted a new ordinance which only compels the removal of snow from sidewalks in business zones, and from sidewalks in front of business blocks in residence zones.

About two years ago Alderman Guzzi urged that the former snow removal ordinance be enforced. A special committee was then appointed to study the matter. It made no report, and several months ago Alderman Temperley called attention to the failure of the committee to function. Since Temperley's criticism, the committee gave consideration to its duties. Until recently, it had been supposed that the committee had decided to relax the former ordinance by limiting compulsory removal of snow from sidewalks to general residence and business zones. Since then the committee went further, and reported against compulsory removal of snow in any zone, except business zones. The committee was composed of Aldermen Hutchinson, Cronin and Walker.

At the meeting on Monday night Alderman Hutchinson said the committee had started on a more extensive program, but impractical features developed. He said the report might seem a step backward, but if citizens had the facts before them, they would find the same causes for backing down.

Alderman Temperley said the committee had made progress by going backward. He said the committee was appointed in an effort to have more sidewalks cleared of snow, and if the old ordinance had been enforced, as it used to be in past years, we would get along very well. He called attention to the fact that in past years many persons had been summoned into court and fined for not obeying the ordinance. The motion to accept the new ordinance was carried.

Those voting to limit compulsory removal of snow from sidewalks to business zones were Aldermen Barwise, McCabe, Fahey, Hill, Lyon, Schipper, Hutchinson, Gaddis, Floyd, Bacon, Cronin, Walker, Goddard, Inches, Jamieson, Melcher, Rawson and Colby. Alderman Temperley was the only member to vote in the negative.

Vincenzo Again Loses In Fight For Gas Station

The most persistent attempts on the part of anyone in the history of Newton to obtain a permit for a gasoline filling station again met a rebuff, and a speedy one from the Board of Aldermen on Monday night when another petition from Frank Vincenzo was given leave to withdraw at the same meeting at which the hearing was held. Vincenzo, who resides at 280 Adams st., Nonantum, and conducts a shoe repairing shop at 20 Lincoln st., Newton Highlands, has repeatedly petitioned for several years for a permit to establish a filling station on property he owns at 1105 Washington st., West Newton, corner of Cross st.

Persons who reside in the neighborhood again were present at City Hall Monday night to oppose Vincenzo's petition. Marion E. Marsh of 58 Cross st. said she had appeared on five previous occasions to oppose Vincenzo's petitions, and conditions are just the same. She said there are 11 filling stations between Newtonville and West Newton, and that is sufficient. Joseph B. Davis of 40 Cross st. referred to a small concrete block structure which

Aldermen Favor Submitting Bill On Biennial Elections To Voters Of Newton At Next City Election

Also Vote in Favor of Biennial Elections—Partisan Issue Raised by Ex-Alderman Farrell at Long Hearing in City Hall

The hearing before the Board of Aldermen on Monday night to discuss the proposed change in the city charter relative to elections caused a discussion which lasted for nearly two hours. Representative Warren K. Brimblecom explained the details of the bill which he has filed with the Legislature, and which has met with the approval of the three other Representatives from this city.

When the hearing was announced by President Floyd of the Board, he explained that it differed from usual hearings such as are held on petitions for gasoline station permits, zone changes and such matters. He said there is no legal compulsion to hold the hearing and it did not have to be advertised, but because of the importance of the matter involved, Mr. Brimblecom had requested a hearing before the Aldermen to give Newton citizens an opportunity to voice their views on this question.

Alderman Cronin then read a letter which had been sent to President Floyd by former Alderman Bernard Farrell. This letter which was signed as coming from "The Biennial Committee of the Democratic Ward and City Committee and the Young Democrats of Newton," was signed by Farrell. Farrell, in the letter asserted that the hearing should be continued to a later date because notice of it had only been published officially in the NEWTON GRAPHIC. He said that the committee had a comparatively small circulation in proportion to the 70,000 population of this city. The letter stated that "it is necessary for us to have further time, first to advise our constituents of the bill, and then to study it and to ascertain their pleasure."

Cronin said that a communication had been received by the Committee on Legislation of the Aldermen asking it to favor the biennial election bill, and to notify the Legislature that the Aldermen favor this legislation. Cronin said no individual or group have a right to railroad this thing through the city government, especially when there have been protests against it. He said all citizens should be notified of the bill, and he moved that the hearing be postponed until March 15th. President Floyd replied that he was surprised to hear such an objection coming from Cronin. He told Cronin that he is chairman of the Legislation Committee which received the request from Rep. Brimblecom asking for the hearing, and that Cronin was present at the previous meeting of the Board when the date for the hearing was set, and that he had made no objection then.

Rep. Brimblecom said he had interviewed many Newton citizens regarding his bill, which provides that city elections in Newton be held biennially instead of annually, and that all favor it. He said that before filing the bill he had discussed it with Alderman Cronin and from the latter's conversation had reason to think that Cronin favored the bill. Brimblecom said that the bill is not a partisan measure and only asks that voters of Newton have the right to express themselves on the proposed change through the medium of a referendum. He said that information regarding the bill had been sent some weeks ago to many civic organizations in the city and a number have gone on record as favoring the proposed change. Mr. Brimblecom said that as much as it might be more inconvenient for Newton citizens to attend the hearing on the bill at the State House on February 23rd, he had asked for a hearing on it at City Hall. He said he would be the last to attempt to railroad anything through, and that voters of Newton will have 9½ months to consider the bill. He said that he will meet with the requirements of the Legislature on such matters. He said it is not partisan, and called attention to the fact that some Democrats who have run for election to the city government in Newton have been elected in Mayoralty years and defeated in the off years. He said that while many citizens of Newton did not agree with some election changes included in a bill filed two years ago, which was defeated, nearly every one agrees that biennial elections are desirable in Newton. He hoped that the Aldermen would go on record as favoring the bill which will give the people of Newton a chance to express their opinion on this matter.

Representative Douglas Francis favored the bill as it will enable Newton citizens to decide on this matter. He said he did not believe the place to debate the merits of the matter, as ample opportunity to do this would be offered before the Committee on Cities at the Legislature. Arthur Wasserman of Manet rd. started to speak in favor of the bill and then launched into a criticism of Gov. Murphy of Michigan and President Roosevelt. A chorus of protests arose from the audience and President Floyd told Wasserman to temper his remarks and confine himself to the question. Wasserman said that off years elections are unnecessarily expensive in view of the small vote cast at them.

Alderman Akins said Democrats in Newton are not all against the proposed change in Newton elections. He said that two years ago he favored a bill to change elections in Newton, including biennial elections, and that he would favor the present bill if it provides that School Committee members be elected for 2 year terms instead of 4 year terms. Harold Piper of 151 Plymouth road, Newton Highlands, representing the Men's Club of that village, said he had been authorized by the directors to favor the bill. Jesse McCourt of Lincoln st., Newton Highlands, favored the bill. He told of futile attempts he had made to get voters to go to polls in off year elections in Newton. He said that if we elect city governments with only 25% voting, in a few years we won't have much of a city.

Rep. Brimblecom read letters from the Federation of Women's Clubs and the Chestnut Hill Improvement Association favoring the bill. He said that the people of Newton were informed of the bill 3½ weeks ago instead of one week as alleged by Mr. Farrell. Leon B. Rogers, president of the Newton Taxpayers Association, favored the bill. Phillip W. Carter stated he favors the bill. City Clerk Grant read a letter from the Waban Improvement Association favoring the bill.

Alderman Cronin, who had submitted Mr. Brimblecom to one lengthy cross examination regarding his views on the bill and other matters pertaining to elections and alleged partisanship in Newton, renewed his heckling of Brimblecom, this time on the longer tenure of office for School Committee members. Alderman Fahey asked Brimblecom if the Aldermen are elected for 2 year terms why school committee members should not be? Brimblecom replied that there is less probability of a complete turn-over in 21 Aldermen than there would be in 7 School Committee members whose names are at the end of the ballot, where many blanks are found.

Former Alderman Bernard Farrell, who led the opposition against the biennial proposal delivered a long speech. He asserted that the city has always had good government and there is no need of a change. He questioned the alleged non-partisan character of the bill. He quoted figures of the comparative number of votes cast at elections in Mayoralty election an off years in an attempt to prove that when there were interesting contests, the voters would go to the polls. He made the surprising statement that—"this is not a strong Republican city." He said we have a class of people in Newton who are not represented in the city government and that the danger of their electing representatives at off elections during the past 3 years has proved a little too much, hence the change which is sought.

Farrell argued that 25 years ago when elections in Newton were on a partisan basis, contests were good. Since then, he said, Republican Ward Committees had picked slates. Answering a question put by Alderman Colby, Farrell said he opposes biennial elections because "it would cut our opportunities to elect candidates 50 per cent."

Louis Weiner of 460 Lowell ave., who moved to Newton within the past year, delivered a speech attacking the proposed change and extolling the high standing of city governments in Newton under the present system. Former Alderman George Heathcote, who has been a resident of Westford for several years, arose and asked if it would be all right for him to say a few words. President Floyd said that the hearing was called for Newton citizens only. Heathcote said he is a taxpayer here and expects to move back. He referred to the system of preferential voting in Newton which was established some years ago by the Republicans, he said, to make things more secure, but which did not work out as expected. Heathcote said J. C. Brimblecom was the father of the preferential system. Mr. Heathcote erred in this, as former Alderman Arthur W. Blakemore was the father of the preferential system in Newton. Heathcote commented that the proposed change may work out other than is expected. He said that if the Aldermen go on record as favoring the change, it will be 9110s passed.

Edward H. Powers said that two years ago he, together with both Democrats and Republicans of Newton, had fostered a bill asking for biennial elections in this city, the election of two out of three Aldermen by individual Wards, and to have each Ward elect its own school committee member. He said that when the hearing on the bill was held at the State House, the militant young Democrats now opposing biennial elections, were conspicuous by their absence. Powers stated that candidates for Aldermen in this city, who belong to the Democratic party, have been elected in Mayoralty election years and defeated in

Alexander Murray of Hurley place, Newton Centre was fined $50 in the Newton court yesterday by Judge Quinn for driving a car while under the influence of liquor. A charge of drunkenness was placed on file. He was found not guilty of leaving the scene of an accident without making himself known. Murray was arrested on Feb. 7 after his car had hit a parked car on Union st., Newton Centre.

Refuse Petitions For Zone Changes

The Board of Aldermen on Monday night unanimously voted leave to withdraw on the petition of the West Newton Co-operative Bank to change from general residence to business zone real estate on Washington and Crafts sts. Alderman Rawson for the Claims and Rules Committee said that owners of adjoining properties had objected, the Planning Board had disapproved of the change, and Rev. John Sheridan, pastor of Our Lady's Church, together with a large number of his parishioners has also protested. Rawson said the corner of Washington and Crafts sts. is now a traffic hazard, many school children pass it, and to have a business block there would increase the danger. He commented that the committee believes the zoning ordinance is for the protection of property, and that churches, which are bulwarks in the community should receive consideration.

School Committee Elects Teacher

The School Committee held a regular meeting on Monday night and approved of district lines for the new school at Oak Hill. They include territory bounded by Boylston st., Wood-cliff rd., Dudley rd., including the Oak Hill section to the Brookline and West Roxbury lines. Optional territory includes the area between Wood-cliff rd. and Walnut st.

The resignation of Bessie Hunton, a teacher in the Elliot School, and Catherine Murphy, a teacher in the Angier School, were accepted. Blanche Allen, a graduate of the Vermont State Normal School was appointed a teacher at the Angier School. She has been teaching at the Fernald State School at Waverley.

UNWARRANTED ALLEGATIONS

At the hearing before the aldermen on the proposal for biennial elections in Newton charges of "railroading", partisanship, disenfranchisement, and other accusations were levelled against the proponents of the plan. These charges are readily disproved. It is obvious that the question is not being rushed. Legislative action is necessary in order to prepare for the placing the question on the ballot at the city election. The voters have nearly ten months to make their decision as to whether or not biennial elections are to be preferred over the present apathetic annual elections. One of the fundamental questions involved at present is whether or not the voters should have this privilege. It is our belief that the majority of voters favor biennial elections and for this reason alone we have taken the steps preparatory to bringing it before them.

We further believe that biennial elections will promote non-partisanship in our municipal elections by giving the voters the right to select a far greater percentage of their twenty-nine city officials at one balloting. Under our present annual elections the maximum number of offices to be filled in a mayoralty year is eighteen and in an "off-year" seventeen. Under the biennial form of elections as proposed they would vote for a maximum of twenty-six and a minimum of twenty-five. Any attempt to bring partisanship into the present controversy is the responsibility of the opponents of the proposal. Their opposition, throughout, has been based on the allegation that the biennial plan is fostered by Republicans and therefore it should be opposed by Democrats. Incidentally we are aware of the fact that many leading Democrats in the city favor biennial elections. And as for the disenfranchisement of the voters; they will have the right to vote for all candidates as pointed out above. Our case, we believe, is proven, and we will confidently place the ultimate decision on the question in the hands of the voters.

The Newton Chapter of the American Red Cross has to date received $13,219.62 for the Flood Relief Fund. Not only is this large excess of the $12,000 quota a great satisfaction to the Newton Chapter, but Mr. Walter Davidson, Assistant Manager of the Eastern Area has written: "May I again express the appreciation of the National Organization for the fine assistance that the Newton Chapter is rendering in this great emergency."

Since last reported contributions have come from the following groups:

Newton Firemen, Newton Hospital, St. Michael's Catholic Society of Newton Upper Falls, St. Bernard's Court No. 44, Mass. Catholic Order of Foresters, Newtonville Lend-a-Hand Society, Lydia Partridge Whiting Chapter D. A. R. additional gift, Mr. Ida Council Royal Arcanum, Crane Fuel Company, Emerson School and Horace Mann School, Fessenden School additional gift, Brownie Pack No. 10, West Newton brought in a Valentine for the Red Cross—a large red cardboard heart, decorated with Valentine seals. Under each of the 20 seals was a five-cent piece—their weekly dues, given for children in the flood area. Another interesting donation, showing the universal appeal of the Red Cross, was a one pound note from an English lady visiting in West Newton.

With the splendid record for Newton for flood relief, is it not possible to complete Newton's quota for Roll Call? This yearly appeal for funds takes care of the seventy or more small yearly disasters without making an additional appeal to members. We need only 241 memberships to complete our quota of 6,000. If you have not already joined, won't you join now?

February is a busy month for the Junior Red Cross in more than one way. For Valentine's Day they sent filled heart shaped candy boxes for the men at the Chelsea Hospital; for Lincoln's Birthday similar boxes of different design; and are planning some greeting for Washington's Birthday.

Newton Man Hurt At Brighton

Robert McCarron of 19 Pearl st., Newton was injured early Sunday morning when a parked car in which he was sitting was hit by a car driven by Chester S. Brown of Newtonville, Mass. Both McCarron and Miss Dougherty received head injuries and were taken to St. Elizabeth's Hospital for treatment.

Newton Republican, Feb. 27, 1875

Newton is extravagant in its appropriations; $120,000 for schools. With a much smaller sum, much better schools could easily be had; $13,000 for incidentals seems a little steep (BOSTON NEWS).

But, $25,000 of this amount is for the enlargement of the high school building. Doubtless there might be some retrenchment, but the high standing of Newton schools comes from her liberal treatment of them.

George Patch, popular Boston & Albany conductor, was the recipient this week of a purse of $200 by his season ticket passengers. It is evidence of the feelings of his passengers toward him for his uniformly courteous attention.

Dull times still prevail. Business men report monthly collections as "slow". Better times are hoped for soon.

Prof. Carpenter, the psychologist, gave some very fine entertainments at City Hall this week. It is wonderful how he can transform his subjects from extreme heat to extreme cold.

Charles River at Auburndale presented a lively scene on Feb. 22. Besides several hundred skaters from Newton and Waltham, there was a goodly number of sleighs on the ice.

As a survey of Boylston street is about to be made by the city government, we are reminded that this street includes all of that part of the Worcester turnpike which formerly passed through the town of Newton. The turnpike company was incorporated March 7, 1806. The meeting was held in Concert Hall, Boston. Six hundred shares were issued at $250 a share. After the loss of the bridge at Shrewsbury, a further assessment of $15 was made. From the time of the first assessment on May 7, 1807 until the repeal of the charter 34 years afterward, the shareholders received no dividends $61; the first for $60 and the last $1. After an examination of the affairs of the company, coincident with the surrender of the charter, it was voted to pay the shareholders 60c on each share. The net assets of the company of which so much was expected 35 years previously were $316.80.

A regular meeting of the School Committee was held on Wednesday evening, C. O. Davis, Ward 2; R. L. Hinds, Ward 3; Frank E. Tucker, Ward 5, and F. E. Hinds, Ward 6, were appointed trustee officers with a salary of $25 each.

The question of one board for the city government, as recommended by Mayor Kimball in his annual address, is to be discussed by the West Newton Lyceum, and it is hoped that members of the city government will be present and take part.

The meeting of the Common Council on Monday night was an illustration of the uselessness of having two boards; nothing being done except concurrent business. There would have been no occasion for debate on the new street at Newton Highlands had the Councilman been present when the order was passed by the Board of Aldermen.

The fire department committee of the Board of Aldermen has decided to put the fire alarm bell for Wards 1 and 7 on the Armory Hall tower, in spite of the remonstrances asking that it be placed on Elliot Block tower. The committee says it is a poor plan to have a fire alarm bell connected with a clock, as proposed for Elliot Block. The striking of an alarm is not readily distinguished by the firemen from the striking of the clock, and there are times when an alarm comes in as the clock is striking the hour, causing confusion. The city owns Armory Hall and will have full control of the building.

We understand that the six tenement block going up on Central avenue, Newtonville, is to be plumbed thoroughly, heated by steam and have all modern improvements, which probably includes a good size rent.

Powers' Paragraphs

In this column last week we referred to a hearing held on February 3rd, before the Claims and Rules Committee of the Newton Board of Aldermen on a petition from the West Newton Co-operative Bank asking that certain parcels of property on Washington and Crafts sts. be changed from general residence to business zone. At that hearing former Alderman William B. Baker spoke in favor of the petition. During the several years Mr. Baker was a member of the Board of Aldermen he was one of the staunchest supporters of Newton's zoning ordinance and consistently against letting down the bars to permit the encroachment of business into residence zones.

But, at the hearing on February 3rd Mr. Baker evidenced quite different views on zoning. He argued that Washington st., because it is an arterial highway, should properly be zoned along its length for business. He contended that because Newton is growing, more business areas should be established in this city. He asserted that zoning should not be determined by the principal reason of owners of nearby properties who object to the intrusion of business. He said that during the 10 years following the adoption of the zoning ordinance in Newton (in 1922), $63,000,000 worth of new buildings were erected in this city, but not one house was built along Washington st. Mr. Baker commented that business should not be put in a "strait jacket", just to satisfy the members of the church nearby who objected. He stated that the church is now out of place in that location because of the development of business along Washington st.

When Mr. Baker was an Alderman, he seemed to realize, as did those of us who served with him, that the zoning ordinance adopted by this city was one of the principal reasons, probably the chief reason, why most of the $63,000,000 worth of new property built in this city during the 10 years following zoning, consisted of one family residences. Persons who wanted attractive homes built or bought in Newton because they felt assured that they would be protected from the intrusion of business into excellent residential neighborhoods. During the years which have elapsed since the zoning ordinance was passed, many petitions have been received by the various Boards of Aldermen asking for changes from residence to business zones along principle streets in this city. Most of these petitions, which came largely from real estate promoters or speculators who were not residents of Newton, did not involve local business along Washington st. The changes were desired on Commonwealth ave., or along Boylston st., since the turnpike was constructed. If Mr. Baker's argument that Washington st. should be zoned for business because it is an arterial highway, the same argument would hold true for Commonwealth ave. and Boylston st., and to a lesser degree for Beacon Centre, Walnut and Watertown sts.

The charm of Newton as a residential community is largely because business has been kept segregated into compact districts; one for each village. If Mr. Baker's contention were followed, if business were allowed to stretch out along our principle streets, Newton would rapidly deteriorate. It would soon resemble such cities as Malden, Somerville, Everett, Cambridge and many other communities in Greater Boston. Business development not only affects streets on which stores are erected. It also lowers values of properties on streets nearby. Streets for which views of the rubbish in back of store buildings must be endured.

Mr. Baker argued that more business area are needed in Newton. The fallacy of this argument can easily be proved if one goes to Newton, Newtonville, West Newton and other sections of the city and observes the many vacant stores in existent business zones here. Also, there are many sites in present business zones in the city, now occupied by residences, which could be developed for business purposes if conditions warranted. Such sites have not been developed because too many persons who erected business blocks in Newton during the past 15 years, or who purchased old business blocks at fancy prices, got severe financial headaches as a result. We could tell of many such business properties in the Newtons which had to be taken over by holders of mortgages. Newton is not in need of more business districts. Property owners and merchants in present business sections haven't, for the most part, been enjoying excess profits.

Mr. Baker's statement that "not a single house has been built along Washington street since the zoning ordinance was adopted in Newton" is not correct. Several houses were erected on Washington street near Our Lady's Church, two were erected at the corner of Washington and Adams streets, and the adjoining lot. The Jackson homestead property on Washington st. was improved and modernized. The owner of this property could have razed the old homestead and cut the estate up for building sites, which would have been quickly sold. But, being actuated by sentimental rather than financial motives, he chose to preserve the landmark. A considerable frontage on Washington st. is owned by the Sisters of St. Joseph as part of their school property, and therefore has not been developed for residences. There are plenty of sites in business zones along Washington st. which have not been used for new business blocks. "Ask the man who owns one," Mr. Baker.

We can't understand how a man who has been so conservative as Mr. Baker has been during the years he served as an Alderman, and as a member of the Legislature, and whose judgment has usually been excellent, could undergo such a change in viewpoint as he manifested at the recent hearing on zoning. Possibly, as a director of a bank which has a small piece of property on its hands, he is unduly influenced by his desire to save the bank from taking a loss on the property in question. But, the action of the present Board of Aldermen on Monday night in refusing the petition for which Mr. Baker argued, happily proves that the wishes of the people, and the continuance of Newton as a high-class residential community, still take precedence over consideration for the financial advantage of any individual or bank. We hope and believe that the people and city government of Newton will continue to place idealism ahead of materialism.

By L. D. G. BENTLEY

George and the Cherry Tree

The "cherry tree incident" is bound to crop-up when the approach of Washington's Birthday is mentioned. If the youngsters of the present generation follow the lead of their parents, grandparents, great and great-great they are going to ask to be told just what happened when young George Washington employed his hatchet so effectively as to have paper effigies of it manufactured in the twentieth century as containers of confectionery for the holiday trade.

They are bound to seek information as to how it happened that the father of the Father of His Country made the discovery and what circumstances surrounded the youth's admission of guilt that it should become one of the favorite bits of history.

Now then, if you, indulgent reader, are about to say, "Why everybody knows that," I shall retort, "One moment, please. Do they know or do they think they know?" Then I am going to ask if anybody is able to produce the correct or authentic version and why should there be so many variations. Does anybody know what actually happened? What are the main facts and who is prepared to defend the true as opposed to the apocryphal?

There is much about the matter that is alleged to be legendary. Let's not enter that controversy. The point I wish to emphasize is that parents and guardians should be sure of themselves before discussing the cherry tree case with children. It would be a blessing if there should be written, with the approval of Congress, an official version. Even if this were attacked by some skeptics it would serve to make the telling of the tale more uniform which is highly desirable, as I view it, in these days of much loose and irresponsible talk.

Might Have Stayed Open

Possibly there is going to be a superabundance of severe winter weather before we dance around the Maypole on the date the calendar sets apart for that gay celebration. Nevertheless there has been a meteorological mildness that has caused much thought of Summer. And, looking backward and looking forward, too, many dream of their vacation place in the hills or at the seashore. The pictures, marine or landscape, are vivid and made the more so by the fact that now, the second last week in February, the sun is shining more and more each day. Then, too, it is often repeated, "Well, no matter what the weather does, snow and cold cannot last very long."

Thus, the favorite theme of the privileged minds, the intellectual underprivileged and all in between, deals with that retreat that is either owned or rented and where vacation days are enjoyed. And the question arises, "Why couldn't we have known what a mild Winter it was going to be so we could have kept the place open?"

Viewed from the Sidelines

As a common or garden variety of pedestrian, I am compelled to watch automobiles as they roll or dash past. Not always am I guarding my body safely as I gaze steadily at these vehicles. Sometimes I am studying the number plates. In fact these plates are the special object of my scrutiny. I wish to ascertain for purposes of record, although I don't know what I'll do with the record when I get it, which driver is among the first to meet with mishap and consequent destruction or total loss of his number plate. The sight of wooden or paper substitute, with figures scrawled upon it, is a sight that I don't want to see. These plates have become banded-up but are still good enough for use and whose plates are becoming worn and whether the 1937 plates are any better than those of 1936. It is things like these that keep the mind occupied and free from the wish that I, myself, owned a brand new car.

Facing Condition Not a Theory

There is nothing new in the effort to make motorists conscious of their responsibility when they are behind the wheel. Warnings have echoed over the length and breadth of the land since the days when the cry "get a horse" was the essence of roadside humor. Signs cover the country almost as effectively as a fresh fallen snow. Police forces have been expanded until officers are a familiar sight at almost every corner and cross-road—and still the forces are inadequate. In more recent years, jaunty-appearing motorcycle officers move with military precision over heavily traveled roads, their sirens giving forth more warnings to the chance-taker. Thousands of laws have been drafted and now overrun the pages of statute books.

Nevertheless, the toll of highway deaths and injuries has steadily mounted. Why? Simply because no enforcement machinery is large enough and flexible enough to control the individual movement of the forty million operators who at various times drive more than half that number of vehicles. There is another factor. Laws are merely rules of human action. They are effective as a general rule only when humans accept and voluntarily respond to them. The attitude of many drivers toward motor laws seems to imply that the laws were written to control the "other fellow." In other words, these laws need the force of a favorable public opinion. We will really have it when driving with care is popular with individual drivers. When as a body they demand it. When it is the smart thing to be careful.

A renewal of this attitude today—public opinion directed against the careless, the reckless, and the irresponsible operators of motor vehicles—will do as much as anything else to lessen the tragedy of carelessness and recklessness.

Fortunately, all concerned with the traffic problem, the car-builders, the law-makers, enforcement officers and countless hundreds of civic groups, realize that more intelligent use of the facilities at hand—the car and the road—which cannot be improved or replaced by the wafting of some magic wand, will do much to alleviate the pangs of remorse and the torture of suffering that follow in the wake of accidents.

As a result, an effort is being made to arouse public sentiment in favor of obtaining the maximum benefits from driving with care. This approach to the problem has already proven an effective one. Its final objective is to help a nation that enjoys the greatest mobility ever known to man, to enjoy also the luxury of good driving.

Preparing and Using Accident Data

Without an adequate knowledge of accident facts any attempt to conduct a community program for improved traffic control is like trying to pick your way out of a forest without benefit of directions or compass. You will probably find yourself traveling in circles, getting nowhere. The war cry of the army for accident prevention is "accidents don't just happen; they are caused." By removing the causes you remove the accidents.

Naturally you can't remove the causes unless you know what they are, and this is just the kind of information that a properly kept set of accident records will reveal. These records will indicate at once the remedial treatment that a given problem requires. In every community, for example, you are likely to find a number of so-called "worst intersections."

Here collisions and bad crashes appear to occur with an "inevitable" regularity. Special attention and study at these locations will yield the real facts underlying their "inevitability." You may discover any of the following: physical hazards such as obstruction to view, improperly located stop signs or badly timed signals; traffic violations which call for special police attention; unsafe practices by drivers and pedestrians alike which can be corrected by public education and proper enforcement. Get the facts; carry through the right corrective measures; and save time, money and physical effort.

The accident report should be tabulated so that its facts can easily be adapted to the three "E's" of accident prevention: Education, Engineering and Enforcement. Out of these tabulations should evolve the following valuable and helpful tools: an accident spot map, an accident location file, monthly accident tally and summary, a driver accident and violation file.

The Accident Spot Map. This is a street map of the city, in which colored pins have been stuck at those points where accidents have occurred, thus presenting a visual record of the accidents that have occurred in the community. By the use of different shapes or colors of pins it should show the three main accident classifications at a glance: motor vehicle versus motor vehicle, motor vehicle versus pedestrian, and finally fatal accidents. The map should be designed so that it can be easily photographed at the end of the year, and a permanent annual record kept for comparative purposes. The spot map will show the worst corners, streets and other locations where accidents are most likely to occur.

Enforcement

A forthright policy of law enforcement carried out with discretion and intelligence by the police department in cooperation with the Safety Council will produce prompt and effective results in any program for improved traffic control. In the last five years one city which has twice won the Grand National prize as the safest city in America owes its enviable record almost entirely to effective enforcement. Moreover, its program now has whole-hearted public support where five years ago its authorities encountered indifference, obstruction and downright hostility. But their sound, well rounded program, their fair and judicious attitude toward violators, and the results produced in accident reduction now have the support of the entire community.

Since the efforts of the Safety Council will probably receive special scrutiny by the public at large, committee personnel should be carefully chosen and made to represent many interests and points of view. At the same time it should be a small, smoothly working unit having competent knowledge of its objectives. Its membership should probably include a judge or magistrate, the police commissioner and police chief, the city prosecutor, a selectman or alderman, several laymen including representatives from such organizations as the Chamber of Commerce, the Automobile Club, a bus or transportation company, and one or two citizens who are particularly qualified to represent the point of view of the general public.

The program presented here offers the ideal solution of the enforcement problem. Parts of it may be impracticable in many communities where the police department lacks the personnel and equipment to use it in its entirety. Nevertheless, by adjusting it to local conditions or by selecting the most applicable parts, the program will have value anywhere, particularly if the Police Department and the Safety Council work in close harmony. The program suggests five points of departure: an accident prevention bureau, a selective law enforcement program, abolition of ticket-fixing, cooperation of the courts and revised traffic regulations.

Complaints, Suggestions, and Constructive Criticism welcome—Address to Commercial & Industrial Institute, Newton Corner, Mass.

VARIOUS CITIZENS SUGGEST

COMMENTS GALORE are being passed at the need for a Newton Safety Council and it is hoped that the meeting which was to be called many weeks ago will soon be in session so that Parents may with a greater degree of security go about their household and business duties, assured that everything is being done for the Safety of their children.

PAROCHIAL SCHOOLS lead all others in Safety instruction and their dismissals are the most orderly of any school system except at Hartford, Conn., where Safety comes FIRST in all the schools.

PEDESTRIAN FATALITIES AND INJURIES are the most harrassing situation with which POLICE departments have to cope, because this whole matter of safety must be one of EDUCATION for both YOUNG and OLD. TRAFFIC LIGHTS are also the source of much study and with this modern aid to Traffic Safety, additional work is constantly being done to devise ways and means of establishing a STOP and GO system which will have the attention and approval of the PEDESTRIAN.

PARENT-TEACHER ASSOCIATIONS should not lose sight of the fact that legislation and appropriations are necessary; that definite procedures must be followed to get remedial measures approved and passed. POLICE DEPARTMENTS are at present not large enough to cope with this growing problem unless stricter enforcement is carried out.

A ROVING PATROL is one effective method of making everyone Safety Conscious, because definite routine is always subject to evasion. CHILDREN MUST BE TAUGHT to observe Traffic Lights and Instructions from delegated authority.

TAXPAYERS must know that the Fatality and Injuries are reflected in the cost to them and it is ever increasing without definite planning for the future. The First Cost is the smallest.

CO-OPERATION is absolutely necessary and where life and limb are at stake there is no room for local preferences or petty jealousies THE CITY AS A WHOLE must be saved by any SAFETY PLAN.

There are comments of many kinds available and most of them are constructive and the burden of responsibility is always placed on the same shoulders.

High School Drama Club To Stage Hilarious Farce

A hilarious farce, "Three Corned Moon," which enjoyed tremendous success in the 1934-35 Broadway season will be presented by the Newton High School Drama Club as their annual production in the High School Auditorium on March 5 and 6.

The play deals with the moonstruck Rimplegars, delightful, imperturbable Mrs. Rimplegar and her household of mercurial children. There is Kenneth who has more dignity than any of his family, and who carries the scars of Harvard—an affected, unpleasant accent; Elizabeth, who believes she is in love with Donald, writer, and there are two brothers, Douglas and Ed, members of the rattle-brained Rimplegars; Kitty, a Brooklyn beauty, amour of Kenneth; and Jenny, a red-cheeked Czechoslovakian.

The cast is headed by Ann Reynolds as Elizabeth, Louise Mann as Mrs. Rimplegar, with Stuart Stern, Jack Perry, William Copeland, James Jameson, Jack Koughan, Gladys Coffin and Lois Curry, supporting. The performance on Friday, the fifth, begins at two-thirty; the Saturday evening performance at eight-fifteen.

Mid-Winter Meeting Of State Federation

The Mid-Winter Meeting of the State Federation will be held at the Hotel Bradford, Boston, on Friday, February 26th, at 10:30 a. m. Those who have attended former meetings here will agree that it is an ideal meeting place, having ample room, good acoustics, a large stage, and the Management accommodates by serving a Luncheon in the "Pent House" (formerly the "Cascades") on the roof of the Hotel.

This meeting is known as the "Legislative Day" of the Federation, and the topics chosen for consideration will be presented by able speakers. Many of these subjects have been considered at District Conferences, so that clubwomen know what they include—Tax Trends, Sales Tax, Social Security, Civil Service bills, Installment Buying, Teachers' Oath, Pre-Primary Elections, and many similar topics.

Luncheon tickets at $1.00 each may be procured from Miss Mildred Colburn, 2 Sagamore street, Lynn, and from Mrs. Robert Telford, 2 Winter street, Nahant, members of the Meetings committee.

Many clubwomen are planning to stay overnight at the hotel, the 25th, and rooms may be obtained for from $3.00 to $5.00.

The Credentials committee will be on duty at the hotel to take care of delegate and non-delegate tickets. As usual the Registration fee is 50 cents for Federated clubwomen; for non-members the admission fee is $1.00.

Juniors To Hold Tryouts For State Play Contest

The Newton Centre Woman's Junior Club will be the Hostess Club on Saturday, February 27th, at 8 p. m., for the tryouts of three Junior Clubs which will compete in the State Federation's Junior Play Contest. The various districts throughout the State are holding these tryouts. The winner in each group will then compete before Federation judges, and the final winner will present the Prize Play at Swampscott on May 15th, during the Annual Meeting of the State Federation.

Competing at the Newton Centre Woman's Club House will be those known as Play District Number One. The New Century Club Juniors of Needham will give "A Neighbor in the House," coached by Mrs. Eunice H. Whitaker. The Newton Highlands Juniors will give "Heaven will Protect the Working Girl," coached by Mrs. Harriet P. Gray. The Newton Centre Juniors will give "A Midnight Fantasy," coached by Mrs. Donald Welch. The rules of the contest limit each play to thirty minutes, and allow only fifteen minutes between plays to reset the stage. These are strictly Junior Club productions put on by Juniors. The only assistant permitted is the coach. Federation members may recall the beautiful original Prize Play, "The White Iris," presented last May at Swampscott.

The Newton Centre Juniors' tryout resulted in the selection of Ann Hitchcock for "The Old-Fashioned Girl," and of Jane Hutchison for "The Modern Girl," the two characters in "The Midnight Fantasy."

All Club members and their friends are cordially invited to attend these Tryouts on Saturday evening, which are sure to provide delightful entertainment.

To Celebrate Family Night

The Newton Community Club has planned a Family Night for Thursday evening, February 25th, at the Underwood School Auditorium at 8 o'clock. Professor Wetmore of Harvard University, will show some very remarkable motion pictures depicting the biology of plant growth, fertilization by the bee, the circulatory system and the growth of the plant from beginning to fruition. Those who have seen these pictures are very enthusiastic in their praise of them from an educational as well as from an interesting point of view.

It is an unusual opportunity to see these pictures presented by Professor Wetmore, as this is one of the few times it has been given to the public.

A social hour will follow the program, with Mrs. Frank Dennison as hostess.

A varied program of drama and music was enjoyed by The Newton Community Club members on Thursday, February 11th, in the Underwood School Auditorium. An announcement of the proceeds as $129.35, realized from the Dessert-Bridge recently held at the home of Mrs. Henry I. Harriman, was made during the business meeting. This sum will be added to the Club's Philanthropic Fund.

Miss Mabel Emery's impersonations of "Three Outstanding American Women," Margaret Shippen Arnold, Dolly Madison, and Peggy Eaton of the 1780-1826 period, were received with keen interest, Miss Emery being a native of Newton.

The violin solos played by Helen Sibley, Violinist, accompanied by Mary Rantoon Witham, contributed much to the afternoon's program.

The hostesses during the social hour were Mrs. William Colton, Mrs. Bertram Moore, Mrs. James Johnstone, and Mrs. Harold Moore. The table decorations, a Log Cabin scene, in honor of President Lincoln's birthday, was done by Mrs. Donald Baker.

Delightful Events Of "Antique Day"

Through the enterprise of Mrs. Frederick W. Reid, Art chairman, and of Mrs. George I. Whitehead and Mrs. E. S. Tappan, the subject of the Newtonville Woman's Club afternoon, Tuesday, the 16th, was attractively illustrated. Mr. Laurence L. Barber spoke on the "Colonial Home," and "The Lure of the Antique," and treasured heirlooms were displayed in the Gallery. A style show of bygone days was put on by the Club members wearing antique gowns, in many instances those of ancestors. The setting of the stage with old-fashioned chairs and tables formed an appropriate background for Mr. Barber as he told of the ways of the past which differed from ours, as some day ours will cause a smile in those who come after us.

There was more independence than in our own time, he stated, and a simplicity and a happiness in those rural homes, where added wings provided room for the young married people. The lure of the antique possesses all even though long in becoming manly. Many regrets are felt by those who do not value these possessions, until too late to cherish them, and who allow valuable family treasures to be destroyed or neglected. He showed specimens which were priceless to him, owing to their associations. The craft of Sheraton, Hepplewhite, and Duncan Phyfe shows hand-work, and is superior to the machine-made, and the imitation can be detected even where the imperfections are made to simulate the earlier productions. Mr. Barber paid tribute to the foundations laid by our ancestors who believed in the value of the antique. He pointed out the village-green the church, the town hall, and the schoolhouse.

Mrs. H. S. Granger read the report of the Legislative chairman, Miss L. F. Henderson. Mrs. H. Clayton Pearson, the president, introduced Miss Anna Kovitz as a friend of the Club, and several violin selections were played, with her sister Dorothy at the piano. "Czardas," an encore, was rendered with much spirit and effectiveness. She interpreted differing types of music with excellent taste. Among those who showed antiques were the following:

Mr. William Hewitt, Sandwich glass, vases of American Parian marble made in Bennington, English earthenware pitcher; Mrs. F. W. Ried, hand-woven spread, jewelry, collar, handkerchiefs; Mrs. W. R. Mattson, black lace shawl, nightcaps, pewter teapot; Mrs. H. G. Ripley, miniatures painted on china, cross-stitch picture, made by her aunt Jane Packham, Paisley shawl; Mrs. Gorham W. Harris, two

The characters from the works of Charles Dickens became alive and real as Mr. Edward F. Payne cleverly sketched them in full color, and accompanied the drawings with delightful readings, at last Tuesday's meeting of the Auburndale Woman's Club. He blended the pictures and the spoken word perfectly. Mr. Payne is president of the Boston Authors' Club, and also has just been elected president of the Boston Branch of the Dickens' Fellowship, for the thirteenth time.

The speaker related the interesting beginning of Dickens' success; how in 1836, the English publishers, Chapman and Hall, arranged to bring out a series of sporting prints by Seymour, a prominent cartoonist of that day, in the form of small paper-covered booklets, and found that they needed some copy to go with the pictures. It was suggested to them that they ask Charles Dickens to write the copy, and he agreed. Prior to this time, his written sketches were all signed "Boz". Thus Pickwick Papers had its origin, and Dickens' success was assured.

Among the many character sketches included in the program, were Mr. Pickwick from "Pickwick Papers," accompanied by an amusing reading from the book entitled "Mr. Pickwick's Dilemma," a fine sketch in color, and this was followed by Sergeant Buzfuz, also from "Pickwick Papers." Mr. Payne impersonated the Sergeant cleverly, presenting the famous "speech to the jury" in the Bardell-Pickwick Branch of Promise Case. Next, Mr. Pecksniff, from "Marble Faunt," who is accepted as the perfect example of the arch hypocrite, appeared to the audience, followed by Mrs. Sairey Gamp, from the same book. Mrs. Gamp was a rare character, and Mr. Payne imitated her, supposedly talking of her work. The well-known character of Wilkins Micawber, from "David Copperfield," next came to life under the clever fingers of Mr. Payne, accompanied by an equally clever description and reading, which gave the audience a perfect picture of the cheerful, pompous "ne'er-do-well." Then more characters from "David Copperfield" followed in quick succession: Mrs. Micawber, with a discussion of her husband's prospects; Uriah Heep, as the fawning, unscrupulous villain; and the beautiful Betsy. The entertaining and instructive talk came to a close with a presentation of probably the most famous of Dickens' characters, Old Scrooge, from the "Christmas Carol," and this was accompanied by a condensed version of the Carol.

Mrs. John I. Heibek, a member of the Program committee, served as Day chairman.

Mrs. Edgar O. Butz, chairman, and her Art committee of the following members, Mrs. Bruce U. Gardner, vice-chairman; Mrs. Ralph A. Balch, Mrs. A. J. Betten, Mrs. John M. Ferguson, Mrs. William M. Flye, Mrs. Ray E. Lamp, Mrs. Francis M. Pope, and Mrs. Thomas E. Young, have arranged many splendid Art Exhibits during the Club Year, and fittingly an English one was on display in the Art Corner at this meeting. Many lovely things were displayed, including a Toby Jug, direct from Dickens' Inn in England; a fine old Baxter Print, made from forty different wood blocks; exquisite Wedgewood plates; a miniature and a cameo; a rare book of Dickens' "The Life and Adventures of Martin Chuzzlewit"; Steigell Glass, made from a rare piece called the Mayflower Jug; a hand-carved stone cider mug, brought over in the Mayflower by a Spalding, and which has been handed down through five generations. This latter art piece was displayed and lent by Mrs. Edward O. Wallace, chairman of the Art committee of the Newton Federation.

HOCKEY SIX AND BASKETBALL FIVE END SEASONS AT NEWTON

Evan Johnson and his Newton High hockey team closed their first winter together with a scoreless game against Rindge last Saturday at the Garden. Newton finished in a sixth-place tie with Melrose in the league standing. Tomorrow afternoon at the Boston Garden Paul Brown, center, and goalie Herb Buttrick will play in the all-star game against the Bay State League's best players. The game is a tuneup for the Monday clash with Catholic High of Montreal, also slated for the Garden ice. Tomorrow's game will be part of a doubleheader, a second-team game being played between star players on the two senior leagues. Allan Turner and Phil Green, wings, and Fred Nichols, defense, have been named from Newton to play on the Greater Boston second team.

Basketball bowed its way out at Newton High Tuesday afternoon as Captain Len LeSourd and team defeated Brookline 34-27 in their last game. It was a bad break for Brookline, which would have won its way into a tie with Waltham for the league title. Newton led 11-3 at the quarter and 20-11 at the half. The Newton forward trio divided the scoring evenly enough, with Don Abbott sinking three goals and five foul shots for 11 points. LeSourd making 8 and Gene Leger 10. The Newton seconds defeated Brookline 14-12.

NEWTON DETHRONED AT EASTERN RELAY MEET

Newton High, defending champions in Class A, were dethroned last Saturday afternoon by Boston English in the second annual running of the Eastern Seaboard Relays at the Boston Garden. Newton was disqualified for faulty passing of the baton in two of the three races, and ended in eleventh place with 3½ points. Actually, however, Newton could not have scored better than 9½ points to 10½ for English, even reckoning without the unfortunate disqualifications. The meet was poorly supported, although 47 schools and 791 athletes were taking part, and the spectators outnumbered the runners by less than five hundred.

Newton picked up a half-point in the medley relay, but lost it on a technicality. Racing against Mechanic Arts and Boston English, Newton had the best of it for three legs of the race. Bill Kelly, running the three-lap first leg, finished strong to hand over a slight lead to Neil Cheney, who picked up a few yards to give the next man, Mickey Corthell, burning up the boards in a two-lap stint, stretched the lead to fifteen yards, but was drawn through the relay passing zone by Paul Babcock, who was over-anxious to get away, and Newton was at once declared out of the race. Babcock made a good race of it after he had been overtaken by Charles O'Connell of English, and his fine last-lap bid came within a few yards of winning. Only one-half point was at stake, however, Lowell, Everett, Brockton and Hope st. having won the front places in the medley already.

In the two-lap, or 1250-yard race, Newton earned the 3½ points officially awarded. Boston English won the race in 2:25.6, the best time of any class, and did so without any pushing from Newton or Mechanic Arts. John Ballantine opened a two-yard lead on Elmer Ross, and Keady held that margin over Newton's captain, Bob Muther. Walter Hall left Joe Gallant fifteen yards behind, and Ralph Ryan finished for English twenty yards ahead of Maze of Mechanics, who breezed by Newton's Jerry Allen on the backstretch. Medford, winners of the second fastest heat, equaled Mechanic's time, and Newton took fourth-place points.

A disheartening break was the foul in the one-lap relay, coming as it did in the feature race and the finale of the lengthy program. Paul Forte, after one break, got a fine lead to give Bud Hines, and Hines was three yards in front when he passed the baton to Smitty Pescosolido. The Newton high-jump star held the lead nicely, but the anchor, Don McKinnon, led away too fast and again Newton completed the pass outside the passing zone to be disqualified. McKinnon broke the tape for a nominal victory, but first place and the newly-established record went to English, who were clocked in 1m 9s.

Aldermen Favor Biennial Elections

off years. He said that a candidate from Ward 3 (Farrell) had been elected in a majority year, defeating two Republicans, and the following year was reelected over a Republican after he, a Democrat, had received the endorsement of the Republican Ward Committee. Powers favored the bill, saying that probably 50 per cent of Newton voters have moved into this city during comparatively recent years, are little acquainted with Newton affairs, and thus may be more apt to vote for minority candidates in off years.

Joseph Dargon, chairman of the Democratic City Committee, said he favors the bill, but that the hearing should have been postponed to give more time for study of the bill. Alderman Cronin again started to question Mr. Brimblecom and was repelled by President Floyd who told Cronin that a hearing was being held and not a debate. Miss Catherine Paine of Bowers st. said more time should be given for study of the proposed change.

Francis Frazier of Pearl st. said the school committee members should not be elected for 4 years, but for 2 year terms. He said the four year tenure would make the school committee a group of unaccountables and less responsive to the will of the people.

Alderman Colby moved that the Board hold a recess and meet as a committee of the whole to discuss the bill. When the meeting was resumed, the Board voted unanimously to go on record as favoring biennial elections and in favor of submitting the present bill as it is, or may be amended, to the voters. Alderman Cronin refrained from voting on the motion.

Officers and directors of the Newton Citizens Association were present at the hearing. After listening to the arguments, they held a meeting and voted to endorse the bill and send a representative to the hearing at the State House on Feb. 23rd to support it.

Leniency Shown to Accoster of Girls

Charles H. Nix, 27, of 781 Moody st., Waltham was arraigned in the Newton court last Saturday charged with accosting a number of young girls, between the ages of 12 and 14 at Newton Centre. A couple of the girls who had been annoyed by Nix obtained the registration numbers on his car. As a result, Inspectors Stanton and Hamill went to Waltham on February 3rd with three of the girls where Nix was identified and arrested. Four young girls testified in court against Nix. The trial was conducted privately.

Vincenzo Petition Rejected Again

Vincenzo erected some months ago at the rear of his lot. Davis said that this building, ostensibly erected as a store, has been left half completed. He said he doesn't believe the petitioner realizes business responsibility.

Robert Jigger of 27 Cross st. said the corner (Vincenzo's property) has been made detrimental the past six months, probably as a matter of spite, and it looks as though there is no intention of carrying on a business in the partly finished building. Jigger said the property should be rezoned so that the dangerous corner cannot be obstructed. Mrs. Hazel Prescott of 16 Cross st. also objected to the petition. Vincenzo said that Cross st. isn't affected by his petition as the gasoline station would be on Washington st. The Aldermen unanimously voted to give the petition leave to withdraw.

Kaltenborn Talks On World Problems At Community Forum To Large Audience

Believes Insurgents Will Win In Spain—Advocates Labor Unions—Says Roosevelt Errs on Supreme Court

The last, but not means the least—if we may be forgiven for being a bit prosaic—of the Newton Forum lectures brought to a successful close the 1936-37 season. Hans von Kaltenborn, editor, journalist and radio commentator spoke on the subject "We Look at the World." The audience which filled the auditorium to capacity did indeed feel that it was having an excellent glimpse of the world—at least in so far as is possible in the space of an all too brief hour.

Mr. Kaltenborn divided his talk into four topics—each in itself well worthy of a far lengthier period of discussion. These headings were:

1. The Spanish Revolution.
2. The South American Peace Conference.
3. The Strike Situation.
4. The Supreme Court Issue.

As regards the Spanish Revolution Mr. Kaltenborn said that the rebels must win. It is only a matter of weeks before Madrid will be "starved out"—a few months at the longest. But will the Spanish people be much better off under Franco than they were under the old regime? They have multitudinous handicaps to overcome. They have been a repressed, harassed people bound in by a decaying monarchy, held down by a politically minded army and deceived by a political, grafting church. Italy took Malaga for herself. Great Britain being assured by Hitler and Mussolini that her trade relations will remain undisturbed has given Italy and Germany permission to supply Spain with ammunition. Why has not Russia given Spain more assistance? Because Russia is fundamentally a wise country. She lost one ship off the Spanish coast and does not care to take further risk in becoming involved in war until her second five-year plan is completed. It is of interest to note that Russia's air force is far in advance of Hitler's much to the latter's consternation and the socialists and communists in this country observe with disgust the fact that their beloved Russia is going capitalistic. It looks as if the "hammer and sickle" might grow rusty.

Mr. Kaltenborn told his audience that upon his return to the United States from his last trip across the Atlantic he was delighted and relieved to feel the atmosphere of sincere endeavor by the American people to maintain peace and to note the active interest throughout the country in the political issues of the day.

Going on to his next topic, the South American Peace Conference, the speaker said that the people who went to Buenos Aires to see and hear the President of their neighboring country were immediately attracted by his genial personality and as someone has so aptly described it, his "philharmonic smile". Mr. Roosevelt's outstanding attitude was one of good will and a determination to keep peace at all cost. For the past four years he has worked on these principles by reducing the barriers to trade, by withdrawing our Marine troops and by giving liberties to the countries that they had not had before. The only possible damper to the recent conference was possibly the shrewd and suspicious nature of the prime minister of the Argentine who is thoroughly convinced that Latin America should remain sufficient unto herself against the United States. He does not believe in intereconomic relationships. The most important issue of the conference was the decision made to modify and expand the Monroe Doctrine as regards the hide-bound regulation concerning European aggression. Twenty-one countries signed a treaty stating that thereafter any problem which comes up between this country and South American countries will be discussed at length until an understanding has been reached. The conference closed with the decision that South America will be allowed sovereign power along with the U. S. on an equal basis. Three years ago a similar convention took place at Montevideo and in a year there is to be another at Lima, Peru.

Our Lady's School Teams Win Debates

The negative debating team of Our Lady's High School, Newton, was host last Sunday night to the affirmative team of St. Mary's of the Assumption, Brookline, in the High School auditorium at Newton in the opening debate of the Diocesan debating season. The question was "Resolved: That all electric utilities should be government owned and operated." The decision was unanimously awarded to Our Lady's debaters.

The participants from Brookline were: Thomas Curry, Henry McKay, George Kerr, and Robert Horan, alternate. The members of Our Lady's team were: Gordon O'Brien, William Stokes, Edmund Rodgers, and Andrew Corrigan, alternate.

At the same time, the affirmative team of Our Lady's went to St. Mary's of the Assumption, Brookline, to debate the latter's negative team and here Our Lady's also won a unanimous decision. Members of the Brookline negative team were William Moran, George Ward, Joseph Costello, and James O'Connor, alternate. The affirmative team of Our Lady's was represented by Bernard Farragher, Lawrence Gentile, John Kenna, and John Bryson, alternate.

Miss S. Theresa McCarthy of West Newton is the director and coach of both the affirmative and negative teams of Our Lady's High School debaters.

Arrest Youth For Newton Burglaries

Joseph Foley, 20, of 7 Sagamore st., Cambridge, was arrested Wednesday afternoon, Feb. 17th, by Belmont police, as he was burglarizing an apartment in that town. He confessed that during the past few months he had committed thirty burglaries in houses at Newton, Waltham, Watertown, Belmont, Arlington and Somerville. Among the burglaries were seven in Newton. Foley accompanied inspectors Burke and King to the following residences he had broken into in this city: Arthur P. Dias, 156 Pearl st., Newton, burglarized Jan. 4; John P. Wawro, 20 Salisbury rd., Newton, Jan. 8; Mercer Winston, 90 Cherry st., West Newton, Jan. 17; John Kerrigan, 50 Southgate park, West Newton, Oct. 20; C. W. Rust, 9 Woodbine ter., Auburndale, Dec. 28; Wallace McPherson, 251 Tremont st., Newton, Feb. 1; Norman Barber, 53 Northgate park, West Newton, Jan. 8. The McPherson and Barber burglaries had not been reported to the Newton police, apparently not having been discovered. Foley was held for the Grand Jury.

Newton Firm Low Bidders on Bridge

Richard White Sons of West Newton were the low bidders on a contract for a steel and concrete bridge over the Nashua River at Lancaster, according to figures opened by the State Department of Public Works on Wednesday. White's bid was $43,960.

W. Roxbury Protest On Trucking From Oak Hill Gravel Pit

The protests of Oak Hill residents against the large amount of heavy trucking from the Highland Sand & Gravel pits at Oak Hill, and the subsequent action of the Newton Board of Aldermen in refusing to renew the permit for operations at the place, has a new sequel. Residents of West Roxbury through the Brook Farm Civic Association have asked Newton Aldermen to co-operate in aiding to reduce the traffic of trucks from the pit over West Roxbury st. Last year after the Newton Aldermen had refused to again renew the permit for the gravel pit, George Wilbur of West Roxbury, owner of the pit, obtained a temporary injunction restraining the City of Newton from interfering with his operations at the place. A master was appointed some months ago to decide on this question, but he has delayed in making a decision.

Some weeks ago the Newton Board of Aldermen resorted to another method to offset Wilbur. An amendment to the traffic ordinances was passed prohibiting heavy traffic on Dedham st., Oak Hill. The argument was offered that Wilbur is excavating on land in West Roxbury. Mayor Childs would not sign the amended ordinance, taking the stand that it might be an infraction of the injunction obtained by Wilbur.

No members of the Newton Aldermen were present at the meeting of the Brook Farm Civic Association on last Thursday night in the Ripley School at West Roxbury, so the West Roxburyites declared that they had been snubbed and sent a letter of protest to the Newton Aldermen in which they declared they will take the matter up with the Boston City Council.

About 10 years ago Wilbur was granted a temporary permit by former Commissioner of Buildings Chadwick of Newton to erect huge gravel pit structures in a single residence zone at Oak Hill. The following year Wilbur came before the Newton Board of Aldermen and asked for a renewal of the permit for a period of 5 years. He told Newton Aldermen at that time that there were about 1,000,000 tons of material to be excavated in the 59 acres of land he owned, and that it would take five years to excavate this sand and gravel. The Aldermen then granted Wilbur a renewal for one year, and granted him subsequent renewals in following years. Meantime growing protests against the pit and the trucking to and from it came from Oak Hill residents.

Some years ago Alderman Temperley brought out the fact, at one of the yearly hearings on a petition from the Highland Sand & Gravel Company for another permit renewal, that Wilbur had not kept faith with the Newton Aldermen. Instead of confining his excavating operations to the large area of land he owned, his gravel company had leased excavating rights on the large Esy and Wiswall properties adjoining, and greatly extended the gravel pit areas. Meantime residents of Oak Hill and West Roxbury are wondering how long it will take the master appointed to decide the case to make a decision.

Italian Club Appeals To A.B.C.

A hearing was held in Boston on Tuesday before the State Alcoholic Beverage Commission on the appeal of the Italian-American Political Club of Jackson st., Newton Centre, from the refusal of the Newton License Commission to grant a license for the sale of beer and wine at the club. John V. Spaulding of the Newton Board told the State Commissioners that he and his two colleagues on the Board, Chief Hughes of the Newton police and Charles W. Bond, representing the Newton Civic Club oppose the license being granted because the club is located in the basement of a dwelling house and because the commission is trying to prevent the sale of liquor in Newton on Sundays. A. L. Moriarty of the Newton Board stated that wives of club members and other women in the Thompsonville section had told him they would prefer that their husbands buy beer and wine to drink at their homes rather than spend Sundays at the club.

Abbie Cohen of Cambridge, counsel for the club argued that his clients should be granted the same privilege enjoyed by golf clubs and the Elks in Newton. Cohen said the club has a good reputation. The A. B. C. took the matter under consideration.

Speeders Fined In Newton Court

Serg. Thomas Leehan of the Newton police, who has been doing effective work recently in apprehending speeders with the assistance of day patrolmen assigned to cruising cars, had another batch of rapid drivers in court yesterday. This group was stopped by Leehan and Patrolmen Dungan and McDonough on Washington and Watertown sts., where many bad accidents have occurred. The sergeant uses a stop watch over a measured distance, so he has "the goods" on the ladies and gentlemen who step too hard on the gas. Those fined $5 each in court yesterday by Judge Allen included—George Critchey, Bowers st., Newtonville; Flora Desoe, Ware rd., Auburndale; F. B. Williams, 1756 Beacon st., Waban; W. S. Clapp, 110 Woodland rd., Auburndale; Winfield Roscoe, 5 Birch Hill rd., Newtonville; Prescott Brown, 174 Valentine st., West Newton; Judge Allen read the case of Irene S. Brown, 23 Wedgewood rd., West Newton.

Special Meeting Of Aldermen

A special meeting of the Board of Aldermen was held last night. The reason for calling the meeting was to pass an order accepting the offer of the WPA for a grant to pay part of the cost of furnishing and equipping the new school at Oak Hill. When the grant from the WPA for this school was accepted a year ago, a technical error was made in not specifying the furniture and equipment as well as the building. Other matters acted on at the meeting last night were the authorizing of appropriations for sewers—$629 for Allen ave. and $2320 for Grove st., Auburndale. Also $2375 for construction of a drain in Islington rd.

Chestnut Hill P. O. Not to Be Shifted

As a result of a protest signed by 500 residents of Chestnut Hill, the postoffice at that village will remain in its present location near the railroad station. The postoffice has been at 12 Middlesex rd. for 50 years and the growth of the section in late years has made the quarters quite inadequate. It was planned to either consolidate the office with the Newton Centre postoffice or find a new location for it. As a result of the protests, the office will remain where it has been for the past half century.

Hearing At State House On Biennial Elections—Voters Decide School Comm. Term

Suggested Compromise Will Put Two Questions On Ballot—Biennials—2 or 4 Years For School Committee?

At the public hearing at the State House on Tuesday of this week before the Committee on Cities of the Massachusetts Legislature a change in the biennial election bill which was being heard was suggested. The change will give Newton voters the opportunity of deciding the length of term which members of the school committee will serve and is in the nature of a compromise which developed with the opposition of several speakers to the four-year term provided in the measure. The question of the adoption of biennials will be the first question to the voters and under the new bill to be drafted there will be two additional questions, one for a four year term and the other for a two year term for school committee members. If the biennial elections are rejected neither of these plans will become effective. If the biennials are adopted the length of term will be determined by the greatest number of favorable votes. In regard to the length of terms of the ward aldermen and aldermen-at-large they will remain as in the proposed bill, that is two years in each case.

Representative Brimblecom who filed the proposed measure, was the first speaker at the hearing on Tuesday. He presented a copy of the resolutions adopted by the Newton Board of Aldermen favoring biennial elections and also favoring the proposed bill as it read or as it might be amended. He also recorded Mayor Edwin O. Childs of Newton in favor of biennial elections in behalf of City Solicitor Joseph W. Bartlett who was unable to attend the hearing. Rep. Brimblecom also stated that he had the endorsement of numerous improvement and civic associations in Newton as well as individuals, including former members of the Board and registered Democrats. He pointed out to the committee that most of the opposition was centered upon the length of term of the members of the School Committee but that the proposed bill made fewer changes in the election laws than any other method that might be adopted. He was questioned by Senator Langone of Boston as to the school budget, if Rep. Brimblecom would favor a four year term for members of the Legislature, and if he considered members of the School Committee more sacred than members of the Legislature. In reply to Senator Langone's inquiry as to other cities that have four year terms for members of the School Committee several members of the committee on Cities mentioned their own cities of Lynn, New Bedford, and Quincy.

C. Raymond Cabot, president of the Newton Citizens Association recorded that organization in favor of the proposed bill and urged the committee to give the opportunity to Newton voters to express themselves on the question. Ex-Alderman Farrell, who led the opposition against the bill, declared that it was a partisan measure despite the arguments of the proponents to the contrary. He was asked by Rep. Chase, chairman of the committee, if he wanted Newton to continue as a "hick" town by having annual elections. Farrell replied that "if" having annual elections makes Newton a "hick" town, then we want to be a "hick" town. Farrell also stated that Newton operates under a non-partisan charter but despite this fact official slates are issued. He quoted Charles

E. Hatfield, chairman of the Republican City Committee as saying at one time that "Non-partisan elections are a lot of poppycock". Farrell further claimed that the Republican City committee dictated as to the representation on the city committee which brought forth questions from Senator Langone as to the unsuccessful effort made to elect Gen. Daniel Needham in the last mayoralty campaign despite the endorsements of prominent Republicans such as Mayor Weeks and individual members of the Republican City Committee.

Senator Langone also took occasion to refer to the appointment of Republican Councillor Frank Brooks as chairman of the Committee on Pardons by the Democratic Governor. The Boston Senator accused Governor Hurley of disregarding the Democratic Party in the matter and added that if he found he could get results by playing ball with Republicans he would do so.

Representative Chase frequently questioned Farrell as to his apparent desire not to let the people of Newton vote upon it. Mr. Farrell replied that he would prove why the people should not be permitted to decide it by stating that the proposed method to be effective in case of biennial elections was without merit.

Edmund F. Kneeland also spoke in opposition to the bill and several of its features including the possibility of electing an entire new board of inexperienced aldermen. This caused Senator Langone to remark that all candidates who run for office are at first inexperienced.

Francis P. Frazier opposed the four-year term for school committee as did Alderman Edward Fahey and Joseph P. Dargan, chairman of the Democratic City Committee. It was at this point that the suggestion was made that the voters decide the length of term of school committee members and when Rep. Brimblecom stated that this would be acceptable to the proponents of the bill the hearing was closed.

Chief Hughes Warns Milkmen

A number of milk companies delivering milk in the Newtons, including all the larger companies, have received letters from Chief Hughes of the Newton police department warning them against continuing the practice of using sidewalks in this city for the storage of cases of empty milk bottles. For the past several years this practice has been gradually growing until during the past year it became common. The ordinances of this city, as well as State statutes forbid the use of sidewalks for such a purpose. The case of empty bottles would be allowed to remain practically all day on sidewalks, and in some instances for more than a day. Should anyone stumble over such obstacles, the City of Newton would be liable for damages.

An interesting feature of the practice which has been forbidden, was that drivers of milk wagons and trucks regularly shifted their cases in the midst of thickly settled neighborhoods during the wee hours, instead of doing this work on some sparsely settled street where persons would not be awakened.

A NEWTON SAFETY COUNCIL

The organization of a Newton Safety Council apparently is on the way to a more definite conclusion. It is expected that a list of some fifty names of Newton citizens will be announced next week from which this Council will be selected. We believe there is no need to comment further upon the desirability of a Safety Council in Newton. With the co-operation of the Massachusetts Safety Council and local groups and organizations in other cities much of value has been accomplished. A similar outcome may well be predicted for Newton provided the Council is comprised of persons who will assume the position with a sincere and earnest desire to accomplish something worthwhile. There are many citizens in Newton who will welcome the opportunity to have a part in the actual promotion of safety on our highways. There are many excellent citizens, however, who are not familiar with Newton, its safety problems, its traffic conditions, and the many elements which must be considered.

In times past there has been considerable criticism of various officials for the selection of persons for particular tasks because of their lack of familiarity with local conditions. A Newton Safety Council must know local conditions. We trust that the forthcoming list will show that this fact has been recognized.

Newton Archers To Hold 27th Annual Meeting

The twenty-fourth annual meeting of the Newton Archers will be held at 7:45 p. m. on Saturday, Feb. 27, 1937, at the Newton Centre Playground House. After the reading of reports and election of officers there will be short talks by authorities on Archery. In connection with this meeting the fourth Annual Exhibition of articles of interest to Archers—some makers of tackle have been invited to send samples and information on new equipment. A brand new type bow being developed here in Newton will be among the new things in the archery world to be shown.

NEWTON CIRCLE, INC.

At the annual meeting of the Newton Circle, Inc., of the Florence Crittenton League which was held last week at the home of Mrs. F. Ward Paine on Hammond st., Chestnut Hill, the following officers were elected to serve for a period of two years: Miss Dorothy Simpson, reelected president; Mrs. Edwin J. Sawyer, second vice-president; Mrs. Neil Leonard, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Davis N. Ripley, assistant treasurer and Mrs. Richard Cannon Eley, chairman of membership.

The Newton Circle has always been interested in the field of preventive delinquency and to this end a motion was made and unanimously carried to endorse the extension of better recreational facilities in Thompsonville and Newton Upper Falls. This matter is to be brought to the attention of Mayor Edwin O. Childs in the immediate future. The annual report of the social service work, of which Mrs. Kenneth C. Collinson is chairman, was read and also the reports on Quigley House and other Circle activities. Tea was served after the meeting which was attended by seventy-five members.

Staff Change

Newton High School recently lost a popular member of the faculty, with the resignation of Mrs. Charles E. Johnson. Mrs. Johnson, who was Miss Lucille Burnham before her recent marriage to a well-known Boston newspaperman, is one of the best known hockey and lacrosse players in this part of the country. She was in the 1933 All-American hockey team, and for the past four years has been a member of the All-American lacrosse team. Two years ago Mrs. Johnson toured England with the United States lacrosse team, and has been president of the Boston Field Hockey Association.

Miss Frances Harper, elected to fill the place vacated in the girls' physical education department, is a graduate of Randolph Macon in 1930 and earned the certificate from the Wallasey hygiene department in 1932, and her Master's degree in 1936. She comes to Newton High from Hood College, in Maryland.

English Club Play is "The Tantrum" The English Club Play Committee, after deep consultation with the Drama Board, has unanimously selected a hilarious one-act comedy entitled "The Tantrum" by Beatrice Humiston McNeill for its annual presentation.

The committee was faced with choosing three plays from a possible 40 and a real task began. The three finalists were: "The Tantrum," "Page Mr. Shakespeare" by William Copeland, and "The Mad Breakfast." The committee consisted of Bill Copeland, chairman, Virginia Brown, Charlotte Steitz, and Michael Golden, under the guidance and counsel of Miss Richardson, faculty adviser of the English Club. The Drama Board, headed by Miss Bigelow, assisted in determining the selection.

"The Tantrum" is a cleverly written comedy. There are five unique parts for boys as well as five for girls. It is hoped that all eligible members will be present for the tryouts on March 8 and 9 in 335 at 2:45. Ann Sanguinetti will coach the play with the able assistance of Miss Wetherbee.

The play will be presented on the evening of April 2 and will be preceded by the Junior-Senior Prize-Speaking Contest. The Newtonite, Newton High School's newspaper, contained a special page in its February 17 issue, written by members of the Tussitula Club. This club, under the direction of Miss Helen E. Nute, is Newton High's only club engaged in creative writing. Members who contributed to the special page were Dorothy Myers, Robert Nolan, Rosamond Simpkins, Theodore Barnett, Constance Ballou, Lee Pattison, Janet Anderson, and Miss Helen Nute, adviser. Several new sophomore members are Mavis Hayden, Barbara Beyer, Barbara Swan, Wells Brown and Will Stark.

Mr. Hugh Robertson left the staff of the Newton High School Feb. 1, after completing the half year.

Mr. Robertson has been making a comprehensive mathematical study of annuities and retirement income policies. He will now devote all of his time in that field.

The Dean's list of the University of Virginia (average of 85%) shows the name of Marvin B. Perry, of Newton.

Credit Union Meets To Elect Officers The newly formed Credit Union met at 4 o'clock February 1, in the superintendent's office. The by-laws were drawn up and a board of 11 directors appointed. These, representing the school department employees proceeded to elect the following officers: President, John Newton; vice-president, Carl Birmingham; clerk, Sadie Johnstone; treasurer, Lawrence Drury. The credit and auditing committees were then appointed. The credit committee is composed of Arthur Swanson, Arthur Johnson and Elmer Ellsworth, while Mrs. Katharine Cornell, Abner Bailey, and Carl Birmingham are on the auditing committee.

Bigelow Junior H. S.

An illustrated lecture on birds was given by Mr. Talbot from the Massachusetts Audubon Society at the assembly on Friday, Feb. 12. He described the habits and calls of the birds.

Plans are being formulated for an Athletic Evening on Friday, March 12. Interesting features will be an Alumni-Varsity basketball game, homecoming basketball, track events consisting of walking and running races, and jumping contests.

The Bigelow Varsity defeated the Warren Varsity in basketball to the score of 29-28 at the Warren Jr. High School on Thursday, Feb. 11. The starting line-up comprised: Francis Olivigni, Albert Tashjian, Paul Holmes, Irving Koffman, Kenneth Bryant.

The new program committee for the Girls Sports Club is as follows: Grade 8, Jean Molcher, Patricia Turcheon, Dorothy Dow; Grade 9, Nancy Smith, Constance Colby, and Lillian Nardone. The girls' basketball tournament is arousing a great deal of interest. In a recent game, room 125 defeated room 128. The players for room 125 included: Annette Yanco, Laura Lord, Martha MacDowell, Besie Bacon, Angela Bibbo, Marie Campbell, Virginia Carter, Margaret Moorhead, and Ruth Kaufman.

Day Jr. High School

Miss Wright and the Day Drama Club are to be congratulated on their splendid productions, "The Happy Man" and "The Stolen Prince" which were put on before parents and students recently.

The Newton Civic Orchestra, Mr. Herman Sulzen conducting, rendered several popular selections, and made a real contribution to the success of the evening. Pupils taking part in the productions included: Georgia Leonard, Virginia Kyle, Alice Birmingham, Billy Gallupe, John Gaskell, Elizabeth Handy, Billy Gallagher, Aaron Jones, Ruth Oliver, Mary Foley, Aaron Wyatt, Polly Lewis, Virginia Hole, Joan McGrath, Jack Davis, Jimmie Dairs, John Gaskell, William Wilde, Alfred Colella, Charles Paige, Florence Cook, Peggy Cedrone, Carolyn Peterson, Jeanne Caswell, Jean McLeod, Carolyn Gentile, Barbara Carey, John Langlois, Harold Van Ummerson, Esther Jalonen.

Several clubs have held mid-year elections of officers, among them the Musical Comedy Club. New officers of the latter included: President, Marjory Cavanaugh; vice-president, Theda Thornton; secretary, Elizabeth Sherman; treasurer, Josephine Salvucci, and assistant treasurer, Emily Pera.

Kaltenborn took us to Russia in whose industrial ideas President Roosevelt has been more or less interested because of his plans for the Tennessee Valley project.

Mr. Kaltenborn thoroughly believes in Labor Unions as the best solution to strikes. The workers have a perfect right to organize and should be allowed to do so. In many cases strikers are justified in rebelling against unfair conditions which could be amply rectified by Union measures. There is at the same time the element of strike propaganda thrown at the workers by strike leaders which serves to exaggerate conditions and make the workers think that they are worse off than they really are. In the steel industry there are two important Union questions in the balance:

1. The Lewis idea of "vertical industrial unions" versus the Craft idea of the American Federation of Labor.
2. The proposition that collective bargaining be on a national basis versus the plant basis; where it would be directed by the officials rather than the foremen.

The questions will undoubtedly end in a compromise, Kaltenborn said.

Turning to the question of the Supreme Court the speaker treated it with frank decisiveness. He called it the major error of Franklin Delano Roosevelt's "brilliant career." Our President held individual conferences with each of his dissenting senators and failed to convert any. (Score one for rugged individualism.)

Since the World War the American people have been aroused to genuine excitement three times:

1. Prohibition repeal
2. Al Smith's religion
3. The Supreme Court

Congress has been flooded with mail over excitement No. 3 and the opposition of the people to the question has been from 90% to 95% judging from the correspondence which is satisfactory proof that the American public is at last beginning to have ideas which is the best symptom yet discovered in favor of democracy and the furtherance of this tendency must be encouraged by the use of radio to educate the people. The fact that thirty-five senators are "fervently opposed" to the enlargement of the court fairly clinches the situation in Mr. Roosevelt's disfavor. Roosevelt has been planning this change since 1935. Why didn't we hear him mention it during the last campaign? The only hint we had was that there might be amendments affixed to the constitution. Mr. Kaltenborn left his enthusiastic and highly approving audience with the sound advice to "stand for the right as we see the right."

Newton Ministers in Bowdoin College Forum

Norman English Dupee, Jr., '38, of Waban, and four ministers of the Newton area had prominent parts in the sixth annual Forum of Modern Religious Thought of Bowdoin College, held at Brunswick, Me., last week.

Dupee, as chairman of a special committee of the Bowdoin Christian Association, was in charge of all arrangements for the sixth forum. The general topic was "Christian Faith in a Modern World."

Rev. Stephen Webster, pastor of St. Peter's Episcopal church in Weston, who has been at the forum each year since it was founded by undergraduates in 1932, suggested and outlined the topic for this year's forum, and conducted discussions at the Delta Upsilon house.

Rev. Joseph C. MacDonald, pastor of the Union Church in Waban, had charge of the Wednesday morning chapel service and conducted the evening discussion sessions in the Chi Psi house. Rev. MacDonald graduated from Bowdoin in 1917.

Rev. Ben Roberts, pastor of the Newton Highlands Congregational Church, gave the Monday afternoon address before the general meeting and also conducted the evening discussion sessions at the Delta Kappa Epsilon house.

Rev. Amos Wilder, professor of New Testament Interpretation at the Andover-Newton Theological Seminary, Newton Centre, was in charge of the discussions at the Beta Theta Pi house.

62 YEARS AGO

Newton Republican, March 6, 1875

The Committee on Towns held an adjourned meeting on Tuesday upon the petition of citizens of Brighton Hill to be annexed to Newton. The petitioners, numbering 17, own some $400,000 of real estate and are taxed $15,000 to $20,000 per year. The territory in question comprises about 80 acres, half of which is swamp land. The petitioners stated all their interests are in Newton—schools, postoffice, churches and social relations. They seldom go to the Ward 19 (Brighton) Ward room; it is inconvenient. They have no interest in Boston politics. Land on the Newton side of the line sells for 5c or 10c more per foot than on the Brighton side. Their children all attend school in Newton. It should be remembered that last year Boston took 100 acres of land from Newton for the Chestnut Hill reservoir.

On the part of the opposition, Hon. A. W. Warren said Boston has in contemplation improvements in the district. He said that when Brighton became part of Boston its citizens were parties to an implied contract to pay their proportion of the debt of Boston.

At the meeting of the Board of Finance on Monday afternoon the committee on Finance recommended that the salary of the City Engineer be $1800; Asst. Supt. of Streets, $1000; Warden of Almshouse, $400; Sealer of Weights and Measures, $75; and that $5000 be appropriated for the Newton Free Library. The Licenses Committee recommended that no licenses be granted this year to collect birds' eggs or to shoot wild birds. Such permits, together with legal shooting of birds and robbing their nests, tends to drive them away from this city to more secluded localities.

Steam Fire Engine Company 1 of Newton has made quite an improvement in their mode of hitching and unhitching their horses. They have wires running all over the fire station, both upstairs and down, with handles attached in different parts of the building, which, on being pulled, unhitches the horses, rings a gong over the horses' heads, opens the door leading from the stable into the room where the engine is kept. The horses are trained so that when the gong strikes, they back out of their stalls, trot into the engine room and up to their places on each side of the pole in front of the engine. In less than 30 seconds the horses are hitched, the driver is in his seat with reins in hand, ready to start.

Newton Graphic, Feb. 26, 1887

A plank walk has been laid on the lower end of Park street, Newton. It will be a great convenience to people of Hunnewell Hill.

The new tower on Armory Hall on Washington street, Newton is being pushed up and it is hoped that the new fire alarm bell will be in position there the last of next week.

The new electric lights were not lighted on Tuesday night, so everybody had a chance to compare the electric light with gas lamps which burn dimly in contrast.

Truck 1 House on Washington street, Newtonville was the scene of a very pleasant affair on Wednesday evening. Messrs. Smead and Hunting were so grateful to the firemen for saving their beams a few weeks ago, when they were set on fire, that they gave a supper to the whole fire department. No other Ward in the city shows so much appreciation of an excellent fire department as does Ward 2.

John Leavitt, son of W. P. Leavitt of Pearl street, Newton had a very narrow escape this morning from a fatal accident. He was on the roof of a house at Auburndale giving directions about the slating when the lead gutter on which he was standing gave way. He fell to a staging 25 feet below, and then bounced off and fell to the ground. Strangely enough no bones were broken. His only injuries were a bruised knee and several deep scratches. His escape was considered miraculous by those who saw him fall.

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night a long discussion was held on the matter of street lighting. Alderman Hollis moved that the city contract with the Newton Electric Light Co. for $4 arc lights for streets, to burn every night from sundown to sunrise for the sum of 50 cents per light per night. The light company would make a rebate of $444, the cost of 100 gas lamps for 3 months. Alderman Pettie said he was not in favor of electric street lights. The alleged demand for better lights is largely a myth; a wild and extravagant idea for a grand illumination of the city every night, whether the moon shone or not. He could not see why the city should be lighted after midnight, when everyone is in bed, or ought to be. He said that if Newton wants to keep up with the times it might as well furnish free champagne lunches, which would induce people to come to this city.

Alderman Hollis replied that all cities about us are using electric lights, including Boston, Brookline, Waltham, Malden and so on. The difference in cost between gas and electric lights will not be great.

Powers' Paragraphs

Newton was incorporated as a city in 1873. Shortly afterwards, or about 60 years ago, a city ordinance was established compelling the removal of snow from tar, brick, concrete or other improved sidewalks in Wards 1 and 7 and parts of Newtonville and West Newton. The ordinance was subsequently amended so that occupants or owners of buildings or lots of land abutting hard surfaced sidewalks in Wards 1, 2 and 7, Precinct 2 of Ward 3 and Washington st. in Precincts 1 and 3 of Ward 3; Precinct 1 of Ward 4 along the North side of Auburn st. from Melrose st. to Lexington st., and both sides of Lexington st. from Auburn st. to Commonwealth ave., also had to cause snow to be removed from sidewalks within 24 hours after such snow had ceased to fall. The ordinance also applied to Precincts 2 and 4 of Ward 5, north of Boylston st., and Precincts 1, 2 and 4 of Ward 6. Therefore, most sections of the city which were thickly settled were included in the areas affected by the snow removal ordinance.

The snow removal ordinance was enacted, however, and enforced in the horse and buggy days. The days when most residents of Newton, including the influential residents, walked regularly and for considerable distances. The days when so many of us did not have defective arches in our feet because of lack of exercise, and when there were not so many deaths from heart diseases. And in those days after a snowstorm, the sidewalks would be promptly plowed. The Street Department of Newton owned many rug-tug horses in the '80s and '90s of the last century, and even during the first 20 years of this century. Those horses and their drivers would be plowing sidewalks in the wee morning hours following a snowstorm. Streets were not plowed—or sanded in those days.

When the solid citizens of Newton used shank's mare, the snow removal ordinance was enforced by the police. The great majority of the residents of the city, both rich and poor, respected the ordinance and obeyed it. Those who persistently did not were summoned into court, and fined. Men and even women, who were rugged, would shovel the snow off sidewalks in front of their residences, or their sons and daughters would do this task. Folks who did not wish to exert themselves, at this work, would hire some man or boy to do the shoveling. Many men throughout the Newtons had regular yearly contracts to shovel snow off sidewalks. In those years estates in Newton averaged much larger in size than they do today, and owners or occupants had much longer stretches of sidewalks to keep cleared of snow. But, they obeyed the ordinance.

Since automobiles have become numerous and walking has become a lost art, the snow removal ordinance has not been enforced by the Newton police. A few patrolmen did their duty by enforcing it, but they were rare exceptions. When they did summon anyone into court for not obeying the snow removal regulation, even in late years, Judge Bacon or Judge Weston would fine the offender. We mention this to contradict the assertion.

Information Wanted

Massachusetts is asked to pass a law to provide for the licensing of exhibitions of the Spanish ball game called jai-alai or pelota. Well, I'm weak on Spanish so the matter is puzzling me. Under the proposed measure any person, firm, corporation or association desiring to operate a fronton for the purpose would have to comply with the rules of the State Racing Commission. All this may enforced. It could be enforced. Former Patrolman John McNeill enforced it in Ward 7. McNeill was not popular with many because he did his duty. It made no difference to John whether persons on his route had given him Christmas presents or other gratuities. He made them obey the snow removal ordinance and other ordinances.

Since automobiles became common, since the influential citizens haven't been using the sidewalks so much, and since the snow ordinances became more or less a laxly enforced regulation, we did not have so-called "old fashioned" winters. We did not have much snow until the three winters preceding the present snowless winter. But during the winters of 1933-34, 1934-35 and 1935-36, we had considerable snow and the non-enforcement of the snow removal ordinance became more apparent. Protests were made because of the bad condition of sidewalks. Pedestrians had to walk on streets and face the menace of speeding, skidding automobiles. As a result a special committee was appointed by the Board of Aldermen many months ago to study the question of snow removal from sidewalks. There really was no need of this committee. The Board of Aldermen could have passed a resolution demanding the enforcement of the former ordinance.

But, the question was deemed so momentous that a special committee was considered necessary to study it. Obviously the committee did not consider the matter of immediate or urgent import because months passed and no report was made. Some months ago Alderman Temperley, who does not own an automobile, who depends principally on his legs for transportation, and thus uses sidewalks more than most of the Aldermen, called attention to the failure of the special committee to have made any report on the matter of snow removal. Alderman Hutchinson, chairman of the special committee, promised that action would be forthcoming.

Despite the fact that the committee had been dilatory, it took ample time to make a report even after Alderman Temperley had criticised its failure to function. At the regular meeting of the Board, held on February 15, the Aldermen received the long delayed report which was dated February 1. We print the report in full in another column of this issue of the GRAPHIC.

The first paragraph of the report is interesting. It shows that the committee investigated (or had investigated) snow removal ordinances in 17 other cities and towns of this State and that survey revealed that—"there is no precedent for an ordinance providing for general removal of snow except in cities more thickly settled than Newton, namely: Cambridge, Fall River, Haverhill, Malden, Springfield, Somerville and Worcester. This action and decision of the committee was quite at variance with the attitude of former Boards of Aldermen of Newton. If the Boards had adopted such an attitude, Newton would not have been a pioneer in providing for general removal of snow."

Horn Harmony
Try as I may I have been unable to resist all my life the desire of calling attention of my friends to any truly bright idea that might happen to pop into my head. It goes without saying that they have not been troubled to any appreciable extent by such interruptions. Nevertheless, a notion has struck me, and with some force, that we might conserve the energy of motorists who sound their horns with vim and vigor whenever there is a blockade of traffic.

When I say my plan is one of conservation I perhaps should explain it is more than that. I want the honking drivers to achieve something instead of merely creating a noise that is excessively annoying, to say the least. My idea is to have each horn tuned as are pianos and other musical instruments. Some high, some low and some in between, so that when sounded in unison they may produce that which is pleasant to the ear.

Thus you see, when a crossing becomes blocked and cars are packed together for a long distance each way, unable to move, the horns could be played as are the instruments of band. You know how easily community singing is arranged. No trouble at all to get a group of vocalists started. Often it may be most impressive and yet highly melodious. Why not our auto horns? Merely a matter of mechanical application and resourcefulness.

I can do nothing more than I have to bring about realization but no doubt somebody will take the idea, develop it and possibly make a fortune of it. As the originator—I was going to say inventor—I ask nothing except public gratitude and if I should receive any I would indeed be surprised.

Massachusetts is asked to pass a law to provide for the licensing of exhibitions of the Spanish ball game called jai-alai or pelota. Well, I'm weak on Spanish so the matter is puzzling me. Under the proposed measure any person, firm, corporation or association desiring to operate a fronton for the purpose would have to comply with the rules of the State Racing Commission. All this may sound reasonable and convincing but until somebody tells me what jai-alai or pelota means or is I cannot raise my voice in favor or against.

"Will the Gentleman Yield?"

When a Congressman is good enough to forward to his constituents a copy of speeches made by him in the National House of Representatives and which he has had printed at his own expense, I, as a voter, thank him. Furthermore, I read the speeches. Apart from the subjects dealt upon, I learned something about the way they do things in Congress. Here was revealed the fact that a comparatively short speech was interrupted thirteen times, no less, by other Congressmen who wanted to combat, dispute, challenge, etc., the words of the man supposed to have the floor. Thirteen times did they break in with, "Will the gentleman yield?" Apparently one of the principal occupations of Congressmen is yielding or requesting somebody else to do so. How they find time for other matters I cannot understand.

Art of Bundle Carrying

It distresses me to see a woman's arms loaded with bundles. Therefore, when I deal with the subject of laden individuals I prefer to think of men. My chivalry hails my otherwise nimble imagination. Men, really, should do all the lugging. Some avoid it because they feel it beneath their dignity. Others save their strength for the gymnasium or bowling alleys. A model citizen, however, will approach a task unafraid.

If in his youth a man was required to bring in wood for the fireplace and carry hods of coal for the kitchen stove he will show the effect of this training. I like to see a man who can manage a mountain of parcels and still appear as if he had nothing more burdensome than a cluster of roses. To thus manipulate bundles is a major art. Personally I envy such a man. Probably his jealousy is due to the fact that for years I have struggled for proficiency. For my own part I get along well enough. In fact I have no problem because when I go to the village stores on a purchasing tour I do not attempt jugglery but instead carry a capacious shopping bag.

Who Gets 80 Per Cent of Our National Income?

FOUR-FIFTHS of the National Income, according to Nation's Business, goes to the workers. This averages $1100 per year for each worker.

As it is in earnings, so it is in savings. 79% of the depositors of mutual savings banks like the Newton Centre Savings Bank have balances of less than $1000. Their average balance is $287. How do your earnings and savings compare with those of the average worker?

NEWTON CORNER, MASS.

MAYOR TO ANNOUNCE SAFETY COUNCIL LIST

Edison Electrical Shops

JOHN H. KENT

Mr. John H. Kent has seen the development of the NEWTONS both from the standpoint of a Public Utility Representative as well as an interested citizen and he heartily endorses A NEWTON SAFETY CAMPAIGN for the creation of a NEWTON SAFETY COUNCIL. His desire is to ever increase safety facts and features and the record of the Edison Electric Ill. Co. along these lines is one of the very interesting phases of the development of electricity for heat, light and power.

Safety Driver Number 1

GEORGE J. MARTIN

Mr. George J. Martin has pointed out time and again his very definite interest in a safety movement, and there is being prepared a list of points that were mentioned as the basic reasons for excellent driving records at the convention of the C. I. T. Safety Foundation in New York, which Mr. Martin attended. A copy of this list may be obtained on application to The Commercial and Industrial Institute.

Fire Chief
100 Per Cent
Co-Operative

CLARENCE W. RANDLETT

Fire Chief Randlett, in pursuing the activities of his department, is faced with a problem that must have the cooperation of all city departments. When the annual report of the fire department is analyzed, it will be noted that his various recommendations from time to time bear strictly on safety factors. With the efficiency of the department at a high point, in spite of an added burden he is to be commended on the results.

NEXT WEEK

The mayor promises the list of those who shall be invited to sit in on a meeting to elect a Newton Safety Council and this list has been in the making a long time and has been made up of those who should know what it is all about and who from time to time have had occasion to make suggestions to Mass. Safety Council and others who have volunteered their services plus those who have been recommended as being willing and able to help solve this problem.

The parking problem is one which needs much attention and no parking for any special few at the expense of the whole is a fair or impartial way to handle that situation.

The Massachusetts Safety Council is having a very busy spell handling so many cities and towns who are all definitely interested in Safety Council activities but we may be sure that they will add us to the list and give us their best effort and cooperation.

School vacations will now be over and we urge parents to keep their children Safety Conscious, watch out and look out and live long and happily. Every school in the city has some hazard and each has its particular problems so no plan is complete that does not give consideration to every district. Teachers should not be permitted to drive their cars into the walks and jeopardize the lives and limbs of children while they park their cars on school property to the exclusion of citizens who should have the same privilege.

All parking should be on a commercial basis so it would be self-liquidating and so that permanent and substantial areas may be set aside for this most necessary purpose.

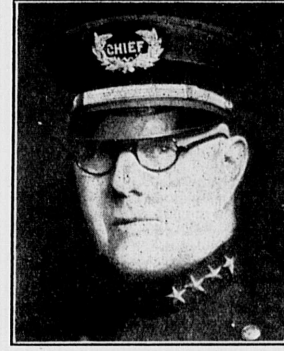

The reckless abandon of youth can be curbed at home and at school and this entire matter of safety is one of education and will take another generation to complete the many intricacies.

Postmasters have promised to warn all their carriers and collectors to obey all local ordinances and to co-operate in the Safety Campaign.

Western Union have a continuous Safety Campaign amongst their employees and are members of the Mass. Safety Council according to one of their superintendents so if you see the boys tearing around on two wheels remember they are not supposed to drive that way.

R. M. Patterson, Insurer, of 281 Washington st., Newton Corner, has a very interesting display of Currier & Ives and other contemporary artists in his windows. These pictures are Fire Fighter scenes and are well worth a trip to the Corner to view. Stop, look and listen while others listen, look and stop.

Police Chief Pushes Drive For Safety

MICHAEL T. HUGHES

Chief Michael T. Hughes is definitely concerned with the ever increasing problem of enforcement of traffic rules and regulations, and his effort to make Newton safety-minded is reflected in the efforts of his entire personnel.

Clerk of Newton
Courts

JAMES P. GALLAGHER

Mr. J. P. Gallagher, Clerk of the Newton Courts and President of the Newton Chamber of Commerce, recognizes very keenly the definite need for coordination of all the various city departments. We may rest assured that the cooperation of the courts in so far as his assistance in this respect is available will be used to make a Newton Safety Council an efficient organization, and one in which the citizen may have full confidence.

Newton
Chamber of Commerce

RUPERT C. THOMPSON

Mr. Rupert C. Thompson, Secretary of the Newton Chamber of Commerce, has been one of the foremost exponents of a safety program for the City of Newton, and the efforts of his organization have been identified with recommendations to improve parking conditions in the various villages, and more especially, where the business is highly concentrated. The support of the Chamber of Commerce is therefore a foregone conclusion.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Christ Jesus" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, throughout the world, on Sunday, February 28.

The Golden Text is: "Jesus Christ the same yesterday, and to day, and for ever" (Hebrews 13:8).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Abide in me, and I in you. As the branch cannot bear fruit of itself, except it abide in the vine; no more can ye, except ye abide in me. I am the vine, ye are the branches: He that abideth in me, and I in him, the same bringeth forth much fruit; for without me ye can do nothing" (John 15:4, 5).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "When will Jesus' professed followers learn to emulate him in all his ways and to imitate his mighty works? Those who procured the martyrdom of that righteous man would gladly have turned

Aldermen Meet

At the last regular meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday, Feb. 15 considerable routine business was conducted after the hearing on the bill for biennial elections.

The meeting was opened at 8:10 by President Floyd. Aldermen Bowen and McKay were absent. The first matters on the docket were hearings on petitions of the Edison Company for pole locations on Centre st., Highland avenue and Furber Lane. No opposition developed.

On the petition of Stephen Moran for a permit to increase the storage of gasoline at 123 River street by 2000 gallons, and to add another pump there, James P. Gallagher appeared as attorney for Annie Dignim, who owns property adjoining the filling station. Mr. Gallagher called attention to the fact that the notice sent Miss Dignim was inadequate and did not conform to statutory requirements.

He said that when a permit was issued some years ago for the filling station, a condition was imposed specifying that the vents from the gasoline tank should be located on the opposite side of the station lot from Miss Dignim's house, but that the vents were placed near the house. As a result, on damp days there is an annoying odor of gasoline fumes, and clothes hung out are permeated with the odor. He stated that the station is a gathering place evenings for some young men, and this is also an annoyance.

Frank O'Donnell of 135 River st. complained of the odor of gasoline fumes from the station. He said the station opens at 7 mornings and thus prevents him from sleeping, and that tires are changed there at all hours of the night. The matter was referred to the License Committee.

The Aldermen confirmed the following reappointments recently submitted by Mayor Childs—Assessor for 3 years, John R. Prescott; Assistant Assessor, Oscar Reed, Ralph Laffie, William Flynt, Member of Planning Board for 3 years, Nelson Vanderhoof; Registrar of Voters for 3 years, Thomas F. Donnelly.

Alderman Rawson for the Claims and Rules Committee moved that the city ordinance be amended so that the City Engineer will have authority to designate numbers for buildings on both accepted and unaccepted streets—such numbers to be allotted for each 25 feet of frontage, and when placed on buildings to be at least 2 inches in size. The City Engineer will also have authority to order contrary numbers removed. Heretofore, on some streets houses have been improperly numbered, with resultant confusion. It has also been necessary for the Aldermen to take action on authorizing numbers on streets.

Alderman Colby objected to the change because the house he resides in is not properly numbered. He said he and others who reside in houses improperly numbered will be inconvenienced if they have to put new numbers on their residences, after having had the old numbers for many years. Alderman Inches suggested that Mr. Colby will continue to be identified by those who have known him, and that he might move his house to conform with its present number. The amendment was passed, with Colby as the only dissenter.

Appropriations passed by the Aldermen included—fire escapes on Classical High School building, $4400; on Technical School, $6600; Public Buildings Department for revision of building code, $400; for traffic island at junction of Auburn and Lexington sts., $350; for borings on water reservation at Needham, $500. The following expenditures were authorized: drains — Beacon st. near cemetery, $380; Centre st. at Edmands Brook, $1800; North st., Newtonville, $2400; sewer in Melville ave., $892; water mains in Fernwood rd. and other streets, $1570.

An offer of $6000 was received from G. A. Foley for twenty-four lots of land owned by the city on Edgell, York, Chester, Trent, Quinobquin and Devon rds. in Waban. These lots average about 6000 square feet each in size.

The meeting adjourned at 12:43 a.m. Tuesday.

Police Stop Bus In Search for Thieves

Newton police received a hot tip on Sunday which turned out to be quite cold. Word was received at headquarters that two young men wanted for a jewelry burglary in a Roxbury pawnshop were passengers on a bus from New York to Boston which would pass through this city via the turnpike. Accordingly, on Sunday evening two police cars with a squad of police under Serge. Meehan and Sheridan halted the suspected bus on Boylston st. at Woodward st. The police, heavily armed with revolvers and shotguns searched the bus, but did not find the fugitives. The latter traveled by bus over another route and traveled via Brookline to Holbrook where they were arrested later.

ANNUAL MEETING OF WELFARE BUREAU

Mr. Cheney C. Jones, Superintendent of the New England Home for Little Wanderers and leader in child welfare work, was guest speaker at the Annual Meeting of the Newton Welfare Bureau held at the home of Mrs. Bertrand E. Taylor recently. Mr. Jones emphasized particularly the need for study of normal family life and its strengths, pointing out that agencies such as the Welfare Bureau and its Directors should lead in answering the persistent question—"What To Do Now?"—through carrying on research as to what factors make for strength in family life and what the community should and can do to promote this and to prevent family difficulties.

In reporting on the year, Miss Harriet Parsons, General Secretary, said, "The outstanding problems presented in 1936 fall into two main groupings: First, Unemployment and Underemployment; second, Health Needs. We have watched health needs most carefully, spending 23% of our total relief expenditures for milk and medical work."

The Welfare Bureau has increased the number of families for which it carried long-time responsibility, although the total number of families has decreased. During the year the Welfare Bureau cared for 652 families. The number of families receiving relief was 212; the others, through professional service and advice as to how to meet their immediate problems, where they could find special services for their need, were able to carry on without financial aid.

The work of Miss Raymond, the Nutritionist, has met an increasing need for budget planning. The value of this work in connection with the Family Agency is unlimited.

The Bureau again in 1936 has had graduate students from the Simmons and the Boston College Schools of Social Work, and the six students the past year—four of them Newton young women—have been most helpful.

Volunteers have continued their interest both through individual and group work. Mrs. A. Maxwell Stone led a group of mothers in a course on Parent Education. The Newton Circle has regularly taken over a large share of volunteer responsibility. The Federation of Women's Clubs has continued its support of the Bureau through special projects, and again this year sponsored the sale of Christmas Seals. Junior Women's Clubs and Scout Troops have taken an interest in special families. Miss Jellerson and members of the Red Cross Motor Corps have again made possible the transportation of clients to Newton and Boston Clinics.

Directors elected for a period of three years are: Mr. George W. Auryansen, Raymond Cabot, Richard B. Carter, Elliott B. Church, Mrs. Pitt F. Drew, Paul Goddard, Selden Hardy, Rev. Raymond Lang, Mrs. D. Morley Lodge, Mrs. Joseph C. McCarron, James A. Stafford, Mrs. Bertrand E. Taylor, Mrs. Chester W. Tudbury, Clifford Walker, Kenelm Winslow.

Presidents' Day To Celebrate Unusual Features

Presidents' Day in the Newtonville Woman's Club, March 2nd, will be a memorable occasion both for the recognition of its able president, Mrs. H. Clayton Pearson, who will entertain her sister presidents in holding Presidents' Day, and for the dedication of the Club House which will take place. Mrs. Albert D. Auryansen, who was president at the time the bequest of Miss Susy A. Dickinson to the Club became known, will present the building to the Club. Mrs. Pearson will receive the gift, and a hand-wrought, bronze memorial tablet commemorating Miss Susy A. Dickinson's generosity will be dedicated.

Representatives of the twenty-one clubs of the Twelfth District are expected to be present, and also members of adjacent city and town clubs. Honored guests will be Mrs. Henry W. Hildreth, first vice-president of the State Federation; Mrs. Benjamin D. Miller, director of the Twelfth District, and Mrs. J. Earle Parker, president of the Newton Federation. A Reception will be held during the dessert-hour, from 1:30 to 2:15 p. m. The hope is expressed that the five charter members will be present who saw the beginnings 53 years ago, when Miss Susy A. Dickinson's mother became the founder of the Club.

Michael Strange, noted playwright and actress, will speak on the subject "The Stage as an Actress Sees It," and will read her poems, with harp accompaniment.

There will be an Art Exhibit in the Gallery.

The hostesses will be Mrs. Carl B. Hudson, Mrs. A. Perry Martin, Mrs. Clarence A. Wentworth and Mrs. Fred M. Blanchard. Mrs. Francis J. Flagg and Mrs. Raymond A. Green will preside at the table.

The Literature Afternoon will be held on Monday, March 1st, at 2:30 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. J. Mace Andrews. The subject will be "David Copperfield." Tea will be served.

Lecture On Thrilling Diving Experiment

"With Beebe in Bermuda," by Miss Gloria Hollister, promises to provide an unusually interesting program for the Waban Woman's Club on Monday, March 1st, at 2:30 p. m., in the Neighborhood Club House. Miss Hollister holds the diving record for women—1208 feet below the surface of the sea. Last season she penetrated the ocean depths to this distance in the famous bathysphere of the Bermuda Expedition. Sealed in this steel ball, she studied deep sea life, and it is of this magic world that she thrills her audiences. She is Research Associate to the famous Dr. William Beebe.

The tea hostess for the afternoon will be Mrs. J. Edward Upham.

On Tuesday, March 2nd, at 10:30 a. m., the first of a series of Lecture-Recitals will be given by Miss Lucy Simonds, in the Library Committee Room. Miss Simonds is an entertaining and well-known interpreter of the operas, and this first lecture will be on "Tristram." This series is sponsored by the Music committee, Mrs. W. B. Stevenson, chairman.

On the same date, March 2nd, at 2 p. m., also in the Library Committee Room, the Education committee, Mrs. Frederick G. Fisher, chairman, is presenting the first of a series of four lectures on the "Old Testament," by Prof. Harontunian, of Wellesley College.

Program For Club Institute

"Programs and Projects" will be the subject of the Forum at the State Federation Club Institute to be held on Thursday, March 4th, in the Auditorium of the Y. W. C. A., Stuart street, Boston. The meeting will open at 10:30 o'clock, when Mrs. John A. Jennings, chairman, will introduce Mrs. Olaf Hoff, Jr., fourth vice-president of the State Federation, whose subject will be "Programs from the Subject Point of View." During the Forum, Miss Mary Pierce, past president of the Junior Philanthropists of Braintree, will present "Strengthening the Bonds between the Junior and Senior Clubs." Miss Eleanor Hudson, chairman of the division of the Preservation of American Antiques, will speak briefly of the work of this new division; and the chairmen of the divisions of American Home Art, Literature, will tell of the scholarship projects their departments are empowered to give.

The regular Peace talk will be presented by Mrs. Robert M. Hill, vice-president of Milton Woman's Club. The Courtesy talk by Mrs. Albion L. White, president of the Daughters of Rhode Island; and Parliamentary Procedure by Mrs. George E. Hutchins. A helpful discussion on "The Mechanics of Assembling a Year Book" will be given by Mrs. H. U. Hutchinson of the Auburndale Woman's Club. During the Forum the following club presidents will speak, Mrs. Leland S. Hoffman, Worcester Woman's Club; Mrs. John O. Matthews, Arlington Woman's Club; Miss Caroline A. Davis, Jamaica Plain Tuesday Club; and Mrs. Caleb Wheeler, Concord Woman's Club. The speakers will remain to answer questions during the Question and Discussion Period which closes the meeting.

Flower Lecture Offers Interest

A special lecture under the auspices of the Newton Highlands Garden Club will be held on March 3rd, at 2 p. m., at the Workshop on Columbus street, when Mrs. Francis W. Mitchell, of Hingham, will give a talk on "The Fundamentals and Various Types of Flower Arrangement."

The talk will be accompanied by actual demonstration of different types of flower-arrangement, and should be of interest to many people in the community. Mrs. Mitchell presents her topic delightfully, and has had much experience in exhibiting at flower shows, judging, and in giving lectures. Admission is 50 cents.

Mrs. Lawson To Broadcast Saturday

Clubwomen will have the opportunity to hear the president of the National organization of Women's Clubs, Mrs. Roberta Campbell Lawson, speak tomorrow morning from a Boston Radio Station. Mrs. Lawson has come from Washington to attend the Mid-Winter Meeting of the State Federation on Friday, the 26th. She will tell some of the interesting affairs of the General Federation at 12:15 o'clock over Station WAAB, Saturday, the 27th.

There will be greetings, also from the State Federation by a vice-president, Mrs. Herbert French.

Other Programs Of Interest

Newton Centre Woman's Club

Newton artists will exhibit their Paintings in the Art Gallery of the Newton Centre Woman's Club House from March 1st to the 12th. The public is invited to view these exhibits.

The last meeting of the Child Training Course will be held on Friday, March 5th, at 10 a. m. at the home of Mrs. R. W. Blaisdell, 38 Moreland avenue. The speaker will be Dr. Laura Hooper, Director of Elementary Education in the Newton Schools. Her subject is "Needs of the Growing Child."

The fourth in the series of lectures on World Events, by Dr. Samuel M. Lindsay, will be held at the Newton Centre Woman's Club, on Monday, March 1st, at 8 o'clock.

There are so many current events of great importance that everyone attending this lecture is assured of a most enlightening, interesting, and entertaining evening.

The speakers at the "Know Your City of Newton" meeting on Thursday, March 4th, at 10:15 a. m., will be Mrs. Albert S. Hutchison, president of the Board of Trustees of the Newton Free Library, who will speak on the "Newton Library," and Mr. Ernst H. Hermann, head of the Newton Playgrounds, who will talk on "Playgrounds and Recreation." All are cordially invited to this meeting.

Auburndale Woman's Club

Mrs. Edward Dana Kendall, chairman of the Music committee, will serve as Day chairman on Music Day at the Auburndale Woman's Club, on Tuesday, March 2nd. Mrs. Kendall will introduce "The Aeolians," namely, Minot Beale, violin; Carl Stockbridge, cello; George Madsen, Flute; and Marion Watson, Harp. Mr. Beale, Mr. Stockbridge, and Mr. Madsen are members of the Boston Symphony Orchestra, and Marion Watson is soloist with the Springfield Symphony Orchestra.

Preceding the afternoon's program which starts at 3 o'clock, the usual half-hour business session will be held.

Social Science Club

The meeting of the Social Science Club will be held in the Parlors of Channing Church on Wednesday, March 3rd, at 10 a. m.

This will be a business meeting. The Civics and Education committees will take over the program for the morning.

The hostesses will be Mrs. Arthur W. Blakemore and Miss Elizabeth S. Fuller.

Newton Highlands Woman's Club

The regular meeting of the Newton Highlands Woman's Club was held February 16th, at 2:30 p. m., in the Congregational Church Parish House. Mrs. Harry Hale, president, presided.

The Chorus, led by Mrs. Thomas D. Ginn, accompanied by Mrs. M. A. Reidy, and with Mrs. Lillian Smith, Soloist, presented three songs.

Mrs. Malcolm Green, a member of the State Federation International Relations department, spoke for five minutes on the subject of "Peace," stressing that since women are the bearers of life they should also be the preservers of life, a very telling argument and worthy of serious thought.

Notice was given that tickets for the Flower Show at Horticultural Hall, in March, may be obtained through the Garden Club at 75 cents each, instead of $1.00, at the entrance to the Show.

Mrs. Frank Mansfield Taylor was the speaker of the afternoon, and gave a most comprehensive "Survey of World Affairs," including such topics as the Supreme Court proposed change, the recent strike at General Motors plant, the conference between Mr. Runciman and Mr. Roosevelt, the German-Japanese accord inimical to Russia, and various other European high lights.

Community Service Club West Newton

The regular monthly meeting of the Community Service Club of West Newton was held at the Second Church on Wednesday, February 17th, at 2 o'clock, with the president, Mrs. George S. Fuller, in the chair. During the business meeting it was voted that the Club should send $25 to the Newton Red Cross for flood relief.

The speaker for the afternoon, Mr. Harold Benison, of the Boston Herald-Traveler, was introduced by Mrs. Fuller. He brought out that a newspaper must strive for economic independence in order to maintain its independence of opinion; that it must depend largely on its advertising for revenue; and that since women spend nearly 90 per cent of the family income, newspapers must make a direct appeal to their interests in order to bring the advertising to their attention. These he listed some of the features of today's newspapers in the order of their appeal to the average woman—items dealing with the home and family life, romance, funnies, deaths, money when obtained in unusual ways, politics, science, religion, sports, and finance—and dwelt on the necessity for keeping the proper balance among these features.

Tea was served by Mrs. Lawrence A. Sprague and her committee.

On Thursday, March 4th, at 10 o'clock, the last Sewing Meeting for the season will be held at the Second Church, with luncheon served at a moderate price. All members are urged to help at this meeting.

Mrs. Claude U. Gilson's next lecture on Current Events will be given on Friday, March 5th, in the Parish House of Second Church.

Mrs. Alice Dixon Bond will give her Book Reading at the home of Mrs. Elmore I. MacPhie, on Wednesday, March 10th.

The Club will hold its Annual Card Party on Wednesday, March 31st, at the homes of six members. Mrs. Holcombe J. Brown is in charge of arrangements.

Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club

The members of the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club were the guests of the Ladies of the Stone Institute and Newton Home for Aged Women on Monday evening, February 15th.

House Centipedes
The house centipede occurs in public buildings and houses, preferring warm, moist situations in basements, greenhouses, bathrooms, etc. It preys on other insects and is regarded by Herrick's
"Insects Injurious to the Household" as not highly venomous. The centipedes, especially the larger tropical forms, are reputed to be poisonous to man. Their bite varies in effect, depending on the susceptibility of the person. The same authority concludes that the centi-pedes occurring in the United States are not to be considered seriously dangerous, though the larger species of the Southwest had probably best be avoided.

on the membership files during the twelve month period.

tre, Inc., conducts a year-round recreational program for all age groups, from pre-school to adult clubs. The

MOULTON CLUB

Under the auspices of the Moulton
Club of the West Newton Community Centre, Inc., a very interesting meeting was held Sunday, February 14, at the Myrtle Baptist Church, West
Newton.

Miss Bessie Hopkins, President, opened the meeting with greetings to the members and friends of the Moulton Club, and introduced Rev. Louis
Ford, pastor of the Myrtle Church, who gave the invocation. Miss Rita Carrington, accompanied by Miss Annie Nicholson, sang two groups of songs.

Rev. Earle C. Hochwald, pastor of the Immanuel Baptist Church, Newton, was the speaker of the afternoon. In his talk on "Current Events" he spoke of the impetus Communism and Nationalism have had in the world, and how these two factors are affecting America, as well as foreign nations. Mr. Hochwald stressed the fact that we should be 100 per cent individuals, working for the common good for world fellowship, rather than being so-called 100 per cent Americans.

Mrs. Lewis Ford and Miss Gertrude
MacCallum, Director of the West
Newton Community Centre, Inc., poured at tea which followed the meeting.

The proceeds from the Silver Offering will be used for the welfare work of the club. The committee in charge included Mrs. Walter Cooper,
Mrs. Stanley Furr, and Miss Mozell
Barnore.

DAMON HALL

President Frank Hardy Damon was the guest speaker before 700 students of Norwood High School on Lincoln's birthday. His subject covered interesting unfamiliar bits about Lincoln and the Civil War. He illustrated his talk with several treasures from his Lincoln Collection, among which were the flag flown above the Hartford when Farragut was in command, and original photographs of the honored president.

Miss Kittie Whalen, a member of the senior class, spoke at the meeting of the John Adams Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, at the Hotel Kenmore last Friday. Miss Whalen's talk was part of the Chapter's commemoration of Lincoln's birthday program, and her subject was entitled "Interesting Side Lights of the Civil War."

Moon Type Aids Blind
There are many people who have never heard of "moon type," but to the blind it is a godsend. Without it, most of those who lose their sight in middle or old age would be deprived of the joy of books. Moon type is Braille's younger brother.
It was invented by the late Dr.
William Moon, specifically for those who found difficulty in mastering the details of Braille, and consists of an alphabet in Roman letters, with hardly any variations or contractions. Elderly people have no trouble in learning it rapidly, whereas Braille is much more difficult to learn.

Wrought Iron Handicraft
Eighteenth Century Mode
In the eighteenth century wrought iron handicraft flourished in London.
Gates, candelabra, lamps and interior decorations covered homes of wealth. Iron workers were as highly respected as silversmiths and sculptors, declares a writer in the Washington Post.

Iron work was known to the ancients, too. Homer mentions a mass of wrought iron as a prize at Greek games. Most outstanding in the craft were the Italians and the Moors.

Florentine and Venetian palaces had finely formed candlesticks, gargoyles and lanterns. In Spain one may see wrought iron window grilles. Originally intended to protect lower floors of homes, these were kept as pieces of art.

Wrought iron is made by burning out nearly all the carbon in iron pigs. The result is a metal so easily bent it can be tied in knots without breaking.

Wrought iron is used in garden gates, fire screens, gongs and other household ornaments.

TAYLOR MAKING PLANS FOR TENNIS SEASON

For the Newton High tennis coach, this should be strictly an off season. Al Everts, Jack Barry, and Don Manchester have just finished their hockey season. Les Lowery is in the thick of table tennis tournaments, and the other team aspirants are scattered in other sports. But coach Walter M. Taylor is already making plans for another big year on the courts. Last year's Newton High team swept the state interscholastics, and lost in dual competition only to Exeter Academy.

While three very strong players were graduated last June, in Paul Rich, Tom Slattery and F. Brewster Williams, Taylor is assured of a team relatively as powerful as that championship lineup. He is more concerned right now with competition than with the personnel of his own team. Longwood Cricket Club, for several late years co-sponsoring with Newton High of the state interscholastic tournament, has turned a cold shoulder on the affair this year, and unless another club or organization steps in, there may be no tournament. Possibly Harvard, for many years sponsor of the same meet, will be asked to help out again.

Newton High need not be ashamed to invite other schools here for matches on the high school courts, because director of playgrounds Ernest Hermann has informed Mr. Taylor that, although the removal of the present courts will not be carried out this year, they will be thoroughly overhauled and resurfaced for the opening of the playing season. Special attention is to be given court No. 5, which has always been more or less unplayable.

Coach Taylor is looking for two matches to replace Malden and Haverhill on the schedule, both these schools being unenthusiastic about meeting another good Newton aggregation. Aside from one or two newcomers whom he is unable to rank, Taylor considers his foremost candidates at this season in this order: 1. Albert Everts, Jr., sophomore and ranking boys' singles player; 2. Donald Manchester, greatly improved player last year; 3. Art Pierson; 4. Lyman Robinson; 5. Les Lowery. Pierson, a very steady player, is one of the first ten-

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

By JACK MORRIS

CORNELL, DARTMOUTH
FAVORED IN MEET

The annual quadrangular track meet between Harvard, Yale, Dartmouth and Cornell is scheduled for tomorrow evening at the Boston Garden. For the first time in many years the Crimson forces from Harvard are not conceded a chance at victory. Cornell and Dartmouth are expected to stage a close finish and if the Green is successful it will be the first time since 1923. At that time and until two years ago it was a triangular affair with Yale the newcomer to the competition. Incidentally it was back in 1923 that Harvard last trailed the field.

Cornell has unusual strength in the distance events and Dartmouth in the sprints and weight events. Yale has some strength in the distance runs and weights and the outcome of the meet may well depend upon the manner in which Yale cuts into the points upon which the Ithacans and the Hanover Indians are anticipating. Among the Cornell athletes is Bill Bassett of West Newton who finished a strong second in the two-mile run in the Cornell-Yale dual meet last week. Herb Cornell of Cornell is the outstanding specialist in the event being outdoor I. C. 4-A champion. Captain Bill Schmidt, Harvard hurdler, is a Chestnut Hill youth who prepared at Country Day and as understudy to Milt Green the last two years is expected to score for the Crimson over the barriers. Harvard's point winners of a year ago are largely numbered among the graduates of last June and the Crimson is only beginning a long march back in the ascendancy of the track throne.

his team prospects to be developed in the Upper Falls neighborhood. Robinson was awarded an intermediate letter last year, and Lowery, a transfer from Chicago school, already established as one of the top-flight table tennis stars of the state, has a sound game of lawn tennis as well.

FORTE STARS AS NEWTON
WINS AT ANDOVER MEET

Paced by Paul Forte, who won the dash and broad jump and ran on the record-breaking relay team, Newton High ran away with the Andover Academy interscholastics last Saturday at Andover. Don Enoch's talented charges, who weathered their first major setback a week earlier in the relay carnival, showed power to spare in scoring 29 points, for Boston English and Lowell, the next two teams, were both under 17 points.

Bill Pescosolido, interscholastic state record holder in the high jump, put his five points into the Newton score as expected, but an accident deprived him of a chance for a new meet record. At the finish of a trial heat in the hurdles, the brilliant sophomore jumper twisted his right ankle when his spikes caught in a mat at the wall. Although it was the ankle that provides the lift when Smitty goes over at six feet-plus, he gamely stayed in the high jump until his nearest rivals had failed. The winning height was 5 ft. 8 1/2 in., half a foot under his Northeastern meet record, but good enough to beat Bob Nagle of Brookline and Ralph Ryan of English.

Forte, State meet sprint king indoors and out, was hardly expected to take the 40-yard dash. In the same meet last year he was overlooked by the judges, and the general opinion was that 40-yards was too short a distance for the Waban antelope. Forte got his characteristic bullet-like start and made a bare half-foot lead to hold through to the tape, defeating Taylor of Memorial and Leonard of English. Frank Bud Hines took the fourth-place point for Newton, edging Masters and Romboli, a pair of old rivals from the North Shore.

Joe Gallant came through with another great race to win the 600-yard run. He led Tom Creighton of Brockton to the tape in the first heat in 1m 19.4s, which was the fastest time run in the event. In subsequent heats, Captain Bob Muther of Newton ran the distance of 1:21 and Elmer Ross in 1:21.8. Muther missing fourth place by one-fifth second. Carmen Bova of Lowell broke the record in the 1000-yard run, setting a mark of 2m 26s. Al Parkhurst, who had taken Bova's measure at Newton in a dual meet, was not running at Andover. Paul Babcock was third in the fast fourth heat, but was out of the scoring, and Newton made no points in the 1000, the hurdles or the shot.

Forte was said to be slightly under par, having lost a toenail last week, but he came through in his last effort at the broad jump, defeating Ed Dugger of Medford with a leap of 10 ft. 4 in. The winning jump best Dugger's best by three inches, and was five inches short of Tod Plotkin's meet and the world's record of 10 ft. 9 3/8 in. Rick Massell was fourth with a leap of 9 ft. 8 in. The memorable relay record was the more memorable in that all four Newton runners had fought through other events, and none had been saved out for the relay. Running against Brookline, Bud Hines, Paul Forte, Jerry Allen and Captain Bob Muther ran a front race all the way and were clocked, to their own surprise, in 2m. 23.6s, some four feet better than the old record of 2:24, made by Everett in 1932 and equalled by Medford in 1934.

Fined $50 For Drunken Driving

Herbert Malnes of Rockland ave., Malden, was found guilty by Judge Allen in the Newton court on Friday of driving a car while under the influence of liquor. He was fined $50. A drunkenness charge was filed.

In court the same day Judge Allen found Fred J. Lee of 108 Windsor rd., Waban, not guilty of drunkenness and driving a car while under the influence of liquor. Patrolman Joe Smith testified that on the night of February 7 in response to a radio call he drove a police car to the scene of an accident on Beacon st. He found a wrecked automobile, a broken telephone pole, and a hydrant demolished. Water was spurting 2- feet into the street. The driver of the car was not at the scene, but shortly afterward Lee appeared and was arrested.

West Newton Man
In Auto Crash

Edward H. Spurr of 904 Watertown st., West Newton, was injured Sunday night in an automobile crash at Arsenal and School sts., Watertown. A car driven by William Burke of Union st., Brighton, had stopped at a traffic signal when a car driven by Spurr hit the rear of Burke's car, knocking it forward a considerable distance. The gasoline tank in Burke's car was broken and the fuel burst into flames, setting fire to both cars. Motorists rescued Burke and Miss Beatrice Dolan of Providence from the wrecked car. Spurr was taken to the Cambridge Hospital and treated for injuries to his head, face and legs.

Newton Men Fail In Engineer's Test

There is an appointment available for a position as second-class engineer in the Newton School Department. An examination was held on February 3rd to fill the position. The list of eligibles was received on February 19 from the Civil Service Commission. Of the 10 names certified, not one was a resident of this city. The first 3 names are—Fred Hardy, Allston; Leo Kant, Roxbury; Harry Blagdon, West Roxbury.

hibiting three-decker tenement dwellings in this city, it would not have established one of the most rigid building codes in Massachusetts, it would not have been a pioneer in zoning. Former Boards of Aldermen in Newton did not go asking what other cities and towns did. They had courage enough to enact ordinances they thought progressive. They established precedents. They did not abolish any ordinance which had been in force for over a half century, and which had made Newton a better place in which to live, as contrasted with less progressive or less well-governed communities.

Young Vandals
Busy In Newton

Some boys in this city apparently are in need of a course in raw-hiding on the receiving end. Within the past few days Newton police have received complaints that a B. & A. passenger train was stoned as it passed by the freight yard at West Newton and some windows broken; that windows were broken by boys throwing stones at the Auburndale library; that street lights were broken on Carl and Christina sts., Newton Highlands; that windows in a house at 52 Winthrop st., West Newton, were broken and a light fixture in the house torn off and stolen.

The Newton Citizens' Club held a meeting on February 18 at the clubroom, 132 Adams st., Newton. The meeting was opened by President Loreto Tocci and various subjects were discussed. One of the principal matters brought before the meeting was the extending of Adams st. from its dead end at Chandler st. through to Linwood ave. This would stop the necessity of traffic making a detour between Linwood ave. and Bridge st. The meeting went on record as favoring making Adams st. a through way between Watertown st. and California st. to provide a much needed convenience for Nonantum and Newtonville residents.

It was voted to organize bowling and baseball teams and members who are interested are requested to communicate with Mr. Tocci or Louis DeRubels, Secretary. A regular meeting will be held on the first Thursday of each month.
